Pushes Johnson to Make Speed.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—Urged by President Roosevelt to get quick action in putting the basic industries under codes, Hugh S. Johnson, boss of the NRA, conceded this afternoon that for the present the responsibility for delay is upon his own organization.

The President conferred twice during the day with his recovery administrator, seeking a means of ending the many weeks of delay during which the biggest employers of labor—the coal, steel, oil, and automobile industries—have not been drawn into the NRA program.

Johnson Admits Delays.

Gen. Johnson, leaving the White House after the second conference, discussed the situation briefly and revealed that his staff is not yet ready with analytical and research reports on the hearings which have already been conducted on the coal, steel, and oil codes.

"The gun is on us now," Mr. Johnson said. "Our staff is hard at work trying to complete the reports on these hearings. Until we get them we can't call the industrial leaders in to tell them what we think ought to be done."

The general stated that he did not know when he would meet the heads of the steel industry. But one of his staff declared that Eugene R. Grace, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel company, and W. A. Irwin, president of the United States Steel company, would be in Washington tomorrow for a conference with Gen. Johnson.

Will Insist on Higher Wages.

The administration, it was reported, will insist that the minimum wage rates in the steel code be raised. Robert P. Lamont, president of the Steel institute, which is the agency sponsoring the code, has declared publicly that the steel industry has gone as far as it can, both in the matters of wages and working hours.

Reports today were that President Roosevelt will take a hand personally in striving to induce the steel masters that they must yield to a day of higher wages.

The administration anticipates greater ease in solving the problems of the steel industry, than in the case of the coal group. The coal operators are ranged in widely divided and strongly antagonistic groups, a tangle which some observers doubt even the heavy influence of the President could unravel. The coal hearings have been put off until Aug. 22, while the efforts to bring some measure of harmony are prosecuted.

Oil Men Due Thursday.

The leaders of the oil industry will be in Washington again Thursday, to meet with Gen. Johnson on the question of price control, which many of the oil operators want, but which the administration is loath to grant. The automobile code is set for first hearing next Friday.

Not much difficulty is expected in the automobile industry. Henry Ford has held aloof from signing the proposed code, but according to reports at the Johnson headquarters today, Mr. Ford is expected to wait until the other manufacturers have all put in their code ideas, and perhaps had the code approved, and that then Mr. Ford will announce his factories on a higher wage scale with shorter hours, thus stealing a march on his competitors.

The President had hoped to have a concrete plan for speeding up the recovery program to discuss at tomorrow's cabinet meeting. The cabinet will meet at 2 o'clock and after an hour's session the other members of the President's executive council will join the cabinet for a complete discussion of the various angles of the attack on the depression.

New Plan for Idle Relief.

It was learned today that the President has under consideration a new plan for meeting the need for relief of the idle during the coming winter. He discussed the plan today with his relief administrator, Harry Hopkins, and with Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, who was in the capital, presiding at a meeting of Labor Secretary Perkins' federal labor advisory board. Mr. Hutchins declined to discuss the presidential plans and left Washington this afternoon to go to New York, whence he is to sail tomorrow for Europe.

Modifications of the President's reemployment agreement were granted

General Strike on Island Ends.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Copyright: 1933: By The Chicago Tribune.]

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 14.—Havana rubbed its eyes today and looked out on a new world. The national vendetta had reduced its killings of members of la porra, secret terrorist police of the late Machado government, and the mob spirit had diminished. The city's business and industry suddenly awoke from an 11 days' slumber as the general strike was called off.

The passive resistance walkout, in which the whole island quit work in a political move to force out President Gerardo Machado, ended without much ado. All over the island the "Gandhis in pants" went back to their jobs and life began to be normal again as business shook itself out of its economic revolutionary sleep.

Fourteen Porra Men Slain.

Despite the subsidence of the general orgy of killings, fourteen porristas were slain in Havana streets from last midnight up to 6 o'clock tonight. Sixteen were wounded and most of them are expected to die. Twenty-eight were captured and turned over to the military. It is reported that the soldiers promised to kill them as "public enemies" after courts martial at Atares and Principe Hill fortresses.

These killings occurred despite orders from Col. Erasmo Delgado, new military commander of Havana and leader of the military coup d'état which drove Machado into exile in the Bahamas, to the army, navy, and police to halt the slaughter.

Directors of the ABC, the most radical of the organizations opposed to the Machado setup, and directors of other groups cooperating in the national vendetta had agreed to turn the porristas over to the soldiers when captured. They were to be imprisoned in various fortresses in the capital for trial later.

Man Hunt Continues.

Following this procedure, members of the ABC were to keep on the trail of la porra, notifying police or soldiers when their quarry is spotted. Cars are now running around town filled with young men and soldiers in the rumble seats to make captures.

In the interior violence is reported to be dying down and calm is being restored to the island rapidly.

Tonight Havana is sitting in sidewalk cafés opposite the capitol and men are saying, "La tranquilidad impera," which is to say that tranquility reigns.

The New Cabinet.

President de Cespedes himself took the post of secretary of state. Other members of the cabinet, with their party affiliations and posts, follow:

Joaquim Martinez Saenz [ABC]—Treasury.

Frederico Laredo Bru [Nationalist]—Interior.

Dr. Jose Manuel Presno [none]—Sanitation.

Nacasio Silverio [O. C. R. R.]—Communications.

Roosevelt Is Cheered.

Two United States destroyers, the Taylor and Claxton, steamed into the harbor early this morning for the protection of American lives and property. A third destroyer, the Sturtevant, reached Manzanillo. Throughout the rioting no Americans have been reported molested by the anti-Machado factions or even given a cross-eyed look.

The vendetta was systematically directed against persons in the "black books" of the revolutionaries as a reprisal for their activities during the "strong arm" reign of Machado.

Crowds surged to the waterfront to look at the American destroyers. They rent the air with shouts of "Viva Roosevelt!" The news had been widely spread that the vessels were not

CLAIMS CHICAGO OCEAN FLYERS WERE SHOT DOWN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Aug. 14. — The newspaper Rempart today says it learns from Polish sources that the death of the Chicago flyers, Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas, who crashed in Pomerania after crossing the Atlantic ocean from New York on the way to Kaunas, Lithuania, was due to crime.

Despite denials from Germany, says Rempart, exhumation of the bodies at the request of Lithuanian authorities "proves that one of the two was shot three times."

The Paris paper quotes its source as stating that the bodies of the aviators were put in coffins in great haste by the German authorities and that the bodies were so disfigured that identification was impossible.

(Other charges have been made since the Lithuanian pair crashed. One was that in the darkness the plane flew over the concentration camp near Soldin, Germany. Searchlights were alleged to have been turned on it and, believing it was a communist plane, machine gunners shot it down. The official Lithuanian investigation commission declared the crash accidental.)

50,000 Drown in Floods of Yellow River

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Aug. 14.—Fifty thousand persons have been drowned and an additional 50,000 have been made homeless as a result of floods in western Shantung and northern Honan, Kiangsu, and Anhwei provinces, according to reports received here tonight.

Breaks in dikes of the Yellow river, "China's sorrow," have made the area east of Kaifeng, Honan province, a vast inland sea with only house and tree tops visible. The high places are filled with refugees waiting relief.

Flood waters are continuing to flow to the southeast and have reached Lanfeng, east of Kaifeng, but some reports claim there is a tendency for the current to bear south toward the Huai river leading to central Anhwei province.

Town in Old River Bed.

Thousands of refugees and soldiers are engaged in building dikes along the Kiangsu-Honan border, hoping to prevent the river from flowing into the channel to the Yellow sea which it followed prior to 1853.

The town of Lanfeng, was entirely inundated today and it is feared that Suchow, an important railway junction in northern Kiangsu, will be flooded shortly. Suchow is partly in the bed of the old river channel. The Lunghai railway at Lanfeng is endangered.

A local Chinese paper said the flood is the worst since 1887. There is a likelihood that several important towns will be completely wiped out, including Kaifeng, and Lanfeng in Honan province and Hsiaochen, Tungshan, and Suchow in Kiangsu province as well as several in western Shantung.

Breaks Two Miles Wide.

Breaks in dikes of Shantung have spilled flood waters over thousands of villages and farms. A report from Tsinan says there are five breaks, each two miles wide.

Dispatches from Chengchow, in northern Honan west of Kaifeng, state that an area 50 miles wide, extending from Kungshien to Szeshui and Chengchow is completely submerged. Chinkiang, capital of Kiangsu, on the former Yellow river bed, is now in the path of the flood and fears great loss.

The Yellow river, also known as the Hwang-ho, starts from the mountains of Tibet and Suiyuan province. It flows for 2,600 miles, first south, then east, then northeast to an outlet in northern Shantung. The flood began in June with excessive rains in the interior and melting mountain snow.

Three men were injured yesterday and property damage estimated at $100,000 was done by a fire in the cooperage plant and the garage of the United States Brewing company at 2519 Elston avenue. Traffic was tied up in the vicinity for an hour by fire apparatus, summoned by a 4-11 alarm, which blocked the streets.

The fire followed the explosion of a kettle of pitch in or near the cooperage plant and spread quickly to the garage, destroying twenty automobiles. Some 2,000 empty barrels in the cooperage building were destroyed. High winds threatened to carry the flames to the brewery proper, but effective work by firemen checked that danger. More than 75,000 barrels of beer are stored in vats in the brewery.

The three men injured, all employés, were Paul Krause, 50 years old, 639 North Lincoln avenue, Hinsdale; Fred Kerstein, 1642 Meade avenue, and Charles Koenig, 5021 Eddy street. They were burned in trying to save their automobiles in the garage. They were taken to Alexian Brothers hospital.

A $250,000 SUIT IS FILED AGAINST MARY PICKFORD

New York, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Mary Pickford was served at her hotel today with a summons in a suit seeking $250,000 damages alleging breach of contract.

No declaration accompanied the suit, filed by Edward Hemmer, and the nature of the alleged breach was not disclosed. At Miss Pickford's suite in a fashionable Central Park hotel, Hemmer was described as an "employé of Miss Pickford in a secretarial capacity ten years or so ago."

By his counsel, Hemmer was represented as having been Miss Pickford's manager about this same time.

LETS BRIDE GO TO JAIL RATHER THAN SELL AUTO

Cleveland, O., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Judge Frank C. Phillips today gave John Mayher an opportunity to sell his new automobile in exchange for his bride's freedom, but Mayher spurned the offer and his bride of six months was sent to the workhouse for thirty days.

"Let her go to jail, judge," Mayher remarked. "I won't give up the automobile."

Mrs. Mayher had appeared before Judge Phillips on a charge of shoplifting and had pleaded guilty.

Alma Gluck's Valuable Viola Stolen from Car

New York, Aug. 14.—[Special.]—A valuable viola, owned by Mrs. Alma Gluck Zimbalist, was stolen today from the automobile of Louis Kiezman, violinist, while the machine was parked near the Juilliard School of Music. Kiezman told detectives that he had been away from the car only a few minutes.

Dies in Flames; Torch Slaying, Officials Say

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—The mysterious death of Earl Hanson, 42, executive of the Ingersoll Milling Machine company, whose flaming body was found beside his automobile in the lane at the side of his divorced wife's home, six miles north of this city, last night, was described today as murder by State's Attorney Robert Nash.

Mrs. May Hanson, Hanson's ex-wife, after being questioned for eight hours was locked up for the night. She will be questioned in the morning. It was learned that while she disclaimed all knowledge of Hanson's death she admitted purchasing some gasoline about three hours before he died. A porcelain bowl and a box of matches, some burned, which were found near the burned automobile belonged to her, she admitted.

Hanson, who had the custody of a 12 year old daughter, June, on Sundays, had taken the child to her mother's home and was backing his automobile out of the lane when he met death in a gasoline fed fire.

Find Gasoline Container.

Discovery in a field near the scene of death of a porcelain basin and the uncovering of a new clew this afternoon, which was not revealed, today strengthened the murder theory held by Coroner Walter Julian, Chief Deputy Sheriff Millard Stockburger, and Mr. Nash.

June Hanson, the daughter, had been with her father throughout the day. He had driven her to her mother's home and she had just entered the house, she said, when there was a burst of flames from her father's car outside in the lane.

The girl rushed outside and found her father lying beside the automobile, his body and the car enveloped in flames. She ran to the home of a neighbor for aid and then notified her mother, who had been working in the basement of the house.

The mother collapsed when neighbors told her her divorced husband had been burned to death.

Car's Gas System Intact.

Hanson apparently was killed almost immediately by the flames. The only portions of his body which escaped the searing fire were his legs. His head was charred beyond recognition. There were no breaks in the gasoline tank or gasoline line of the automobile, and nothing to indicate that anything in the automobile was responsible for the blaze, according to investigating officers.

"There is every indication that the fire was set," State's Attorney Nash stated. "It looks as if the car had been drenched with gasoline and set on fire. A porcelain container found near the car, from which the fuel might have been thrown, was found to be blackened by fire on the inside. In addition a box of safety matches was found behind some shrubbery nearby. The left running board of Hanson's car also was burned, indicating that some one may have thrown gasoline from that side of the car and had then tossed a match on the victim."

With Firm 25 Years.

Hanson since his graduation from high school 25 years ago had worked at the Ingersoll Machine company plant. He was secretary to the late head of the firm, Winthrop Ingersoll, and had been prominent in the company's activities during his long service.

Since the Hanson divorce was granted the father has had custody of the daughter, June, only on Sundays and special occasions. The Hansons were married at Waukegan Nov. 1, 1920. Two children were born to the couple, June and Doris, 10.

Suit for separate maintenance was filed in Circuit court here July 20, 1932, by Mrs. Hanson. On Dec. 22 she filed an amended bill for divorce, charging desertion.

ONE OF SLAYERS CAUGHT AFTER BATTLE ON PIER

Killers Get 100 Years

Three youthful murderers of Dr. Bernard F. Garnitz, who was slain Feb. 24, yesterday were sentenced to the penitentiary for terms of 100 years each by Judge Benjamin P. Epstein of the Criminal court. Their sentences constitute a record for the Criminal court. Details on page 2.

Policeman Joseph Hastings, a bridegroom of four months, was shot to death yesterday during a gun battle with two robbers who had seized pay roll cash in r. city office on Navy pier.

He was the eleventh policeman killed this year in the line of duty. There have been no executions for murder in Cook county since Jan. 15, 1932, eighteen months ago.

Morris Cohen, 38 years old, 1625 South Avers avenue, one of the killers, was captured half an hour after Hastings was shot. He ran into a garage at 1331 North Clark street and was caught while trying to staunch the blood from a wound in his side. His companions escaped with $600 taken in the holdup of the office on the pier.

Confesses Robbery Plot.

Cohen confessed that he planned the robbery and recruited the other bandit. He was not sure of the name of his companion, but he and witnesses of the murder identified a picture of Hymen Sinnenberg, 40 years old, as that of the second killer.

Sinnenberg's last address on police records was 1331 South Kedzie avenue, given last October when he was held for arson by a coroner's jury which investigated a fire in which Sinnenberg's alleged confederate, Jack Cohen, was burned to death.

Morris Cohen is a barber, working in a shop at 3207 Ogden avenue. He confessed that he conceived the robbery plan when he overheard two men in his shop discussing the fact that a sum of money was taken to Navy pier each week for pay roll purposes. He got revolvers and enlisted the man he identified as Sinnenberg in the robbery, he confessed.

Payday for Relief Crew.

The payday at the pier was for men on the emergency relief rolls, employed by the "make work" division of the relief commission to work for the city on the pier. They received their checks from George Turner, a paymaster employed by the relief commission, and Thomas B. Rawls, an official of the West Englewood Currency exchange, 1544 West 63d street, was on hand to cash the checks at a fee of 15 cents each. Rawls was the one who lost the $600.

City Controller Upham reported to Mayor Kelly that relief officials and Turner personally were warned last week of a holdup threat and were instructed to get a special police guard. Turner told the controller, the latter reported, that he handled only checks and did not mention that Rawls would be present with his cash.

Mayor Orders Investigation.

Rawls, investigators learned, had been cashing the relief checks for a month. Mayor Kelly asked Police Commissioner Allman to find out who, if anyone, had given Rawls permission to carry on his check cashing business in a city office, and why, after the warning against the holdup, measures had not been taken to provide guards for the cash which was the lure of the killer bandits.

Policeman Hastings, who was assigned to the Chicago avenue station, had a general patrol assignment on the pier, but his services as a pay roll guard had not been requested.

State's Attorney Courtney took immediate steps to bring Cohen and his companion quickly before the bar of justice. He sent one of his assistants, Wilbert Crowley, to the Chicago avenue station, where Cohen confessed, to gather evidence.

Prosecutor Crowley had instructions to prepare to go before the grand jury today if possible and seek an indictment for murder. This step would eliminate the delays incident to such formalities as the holding of a coroner's inquest and an appearance of the prisoners in the Felony court before the grand jury is asked to act.

Policeman Hastings was shot in the presence of half a dozen clerks of the city street department, in whose office the relief employés were being paid, as well as Turner and Rawls. Between 50 and 60 of the employés were gathered at the office, which is on the second floor of the pier, near its shore end. Inside Turner was ready to distribute the checks, while Rawls sat nearby with the $600 in currency and a quantity of silver in a money box.

Cohen and his companion entered with drawn revolvers and at the sight of them Jerome Hartnett, a clerk, grabbed a telephone. One of the robbers fired a shot which missed Hartnett's head by an inch. Then the bandits ordered every one in the office to lie on the floor.

Policeman Hastings apparently hear the shot. He ran to the office.

Describes Policeman's Death.

Charles Eddy, a clerk in the office, told how the policeman was killed.

"Hastings came in the door with his revolver drawn," Eddy said. "One of the robbers was searching Rawls' cashbox, and the other had walked to one side of the room. Hastings evidently saw only the first man. He pointed his gun at him.

"The man at the side wall opened fire. The policeman fell to the floor and fired two shots in return. The robbers ran to the door. Hastings got up, and one of the robbers turned and shot him as he rose. The robber then grabbed Hastings' gun and ran out."

Hastings evidently dodged the first fire of the bandits when he dropped to the floor, for he was shot only once. That bullet nicked his star, pierced his heart and emerged from his back. He was dead when pier employés got him to Henrotin hospital.

Janitor Fires at Gunmen.

Cohen apparently fired the fatal shot, the police said, for Hastings' revolver was in his possession when he was captured. Cohen threw his own gun at the head of George Stumpf, a janitor on the pier, as he fled. Stumpf picked it up and fired it at the fleeing robbers until it jammed.

The two holdup men ran down a ramp leading to the main floor of the pier, and there came upon Jack Banz, 1912 Dayton street, and John Boros, 2053 Dayton street, steeplejacks, who were just leaving the pier in an automobile after a fishing expedition. The two robbers jumped on the running board of the car, ordering Boros, who was driving, to take them away. Cohen, who was wounded either by Hastings or by Stumpf, got inside.

"We drove west to Lake Shore drive, north to Chicago avenue, then to Michigan avenue, and then north again," said Banz. "At Goethe street they told Boros to turn west again. As we crossed Dearborn street we heard a police siren, and the robbers told Boros to drive into an alley. The wounded man [Cohen] got out and ran to the back entrance of a garage, and the other one ran in the other direction."

One Gunman Is Captured.

Alton Ledbetter, 17 years old, a hostler in the Shoreline Stables, 1330 North Dearborn street, saw Cohen run into the rear of the Ambassador garage, across the alley. He noticed blood on Cohen's shirt, and notified Carl E. Forsburg, manager of the garage.

Policeman Harry Lyons of the Hudson avenue station was talking to Forsburg at the time. He told Forsburg to call his station and then, drawing his revolver, he walked to the rear of the garage. He found Cohen crouched in the back seat of an automobile, attempting to stop the blood from his wound with his shirt.

He surrendered without a struggle and then Lyons noticed that the seat cushion of the car had been pulled forward. He found Policeman Hastings' gun stuck behind it.

Cohen made his confession shortly after he was taken to the Chicago avenue station. He has a minor police record. He served a month in the Bridewell in 1929 for attempted arson.

Trace Gun to Von Frantzius.

Police traced the serial numbers on the gun which Cohen threw at Stumpf. They found it was one of 40 which Peter von Frantzius, often questioned regarding sales of firearms to gangsters, reported as stolen from his sport goods store at 608 Diversey boulevard. Five of the guns have been recovered by police after their use in previous crimes.

Policeman Hasting was 36 years old and lived at 6352 South Fairfield avenue with his wife, Mary, to whom he was married in April.

Three youthful gunmen who killed Dr. Bernard F. Garnitz, 5159 South Damen avenue, during a robbery on Feb. 24, were sentenced to the penitentiary for 100 years each yesterday by Judge Benjamin P. Epstein in the criminal court on their pleas of guilty. The length of the sentences sets a record in the Criminal court. Assistant State's Attorney Charles Dougherty demanded the death penalty, but in view of the guilty pleas and the youth of two of the defendants, Judge Epstein imposed the record penitentiary sentence instead.

The three murderers were among eleven defendants receiving maximum penitentiary sentences in the criminal court yesterday, the first day of the third week of the crime drive. This brings the total of penitentiary sentences imposed to 110 since Chief Justice John Prystalski declared war on the criminals following the courtroom murder of Policeman John Sevick by an escaping gunman, John Scheck.

Girls Before Judge Today.

Joseph Borowy, 19 years old, Charles Kubala, 17, and Matthew Novak, 25, were the three murderers of the physician who were given 100 year sentences, which Judge Epstein said he hoped would forever keep them from being a menace to the public. Mildred Rundle, 17, and Blanche Chevatel, 18, companions of the men in their depredations, will be brought before Judge Epstein today.

The young women were given separate trials because they had promised to be prosecution witnesses. Their testimony, however, was not needed in vitw of the guilty pleas of the men.

"While defense counsel pleads for two or three defendants I plead for the safety and security of 4,000,000 citizens of Chicagoland," said Prosecutor Dougherty in his closing argument to the judge. "I will be satisfied with nothing less than the maximum penalty of death."

Pleads for Youths' Lives.

Attorney Thaddeus C. Toudor, who represented the two youngest defendants, did not plead for much other than escape from the electric chair. Attorney Norman Osnos, counsel for Novak, admittedly the toughest of the group—in fact his own attorney cautioned the court guards that he would not be responsible for his courtroom conduct—said his client should be punished, but not in the electric chair because he pleaded guilty.

"The testimony in this case shows these defendants to be persons of malignant heart," said the judge, reading his sentence from memoranda he prepared during a short recess to decide on the sentence. "To impose any sentence other than one which would make it impossible for them to ever become a menace to society would be unthinkable.

"The court by reason of the youth of two of the defendants and having in mind the plea of guilty is reluctant to impose the death penalty. To impose a life sentence would make it possible for the defendants to become eligible for parole at the end of twenty years and thus create a possibility of their return to society at an age when, by reason of their malignant hearts, they might again become a menace to society.

"To avoid this contingency, and in order that society may forever and with a certainty be protected against the menace of their earthly existence, it is the judgment and sentence of this court that they be sentenced for 100 years each in the penitentiary."

The younger defendants winced as the penalty was imposed, which will not allow a pardon or parole board to cut it on any theory below 33 1-3 years. But not Novak, who was specially guarded by three bailiffs.

"You haven't got any more years you could give me, have you?" he sneered as he was being led away. The women relatives of the defendants screamed and fainted.

Dr. Thomas Foley, secretary of the Chicago Medical society, was on hand with a score of physicians to protest against any further continuance of the case, which has been in the courts for more than seven months.

The medical society was aroused because the gang had robbed scores of its members prior to the fatal shooting of Dr. Garnitz. The robbers made a practice of summoning physicians on fake sick calls and then robbing them. In several cases they fired on physicians because they did not respond quickly enough to their commands.

Crime War Developments.

Three other major developments in the crime war, which now is being conducted by nine Criminal court judges instead of the ten judges who were on the job last week, were as follows:

1. The refusal of Chief Justice Prystalski to allow a lengthy continuance to Peter [Piccolo Pete] Pace, slayer of Policeman Patrick Ryan of the Shakespeare station. The judge said Pace must go to trial Aug. 28, twenty days after the killing.

2. The entrance of Judge Thomas A. Green of the Municipal court into the war. Judge Green took charge of the Felony court yesterday and announced his policy, which he says if effectively used by the police should chase gunmen out of the city in 10 days.

3. Action by Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court in calling a meeting of Municipal judges for Monday afternoon in the Chicago Bar association headquarters. The purpose of the meeting is to "discuss methods whereby the Municipal court may do its full part in the campaign to clean up crime conditions in Chicago," said the announcement.

30 Day Continuance Refused.

Attorney Samuel Hoffman appeared for Pace before Judge Prystalski to ask for the usual 30 day continuance from the time of indictment, to which defendants have come to believe they are entitled to by an old Supreme court decision.

"I am fully familiar with the Supreme court decision and it is my opinion that it is not the intention of the Supreme court to delay these trials any longer than is necessary to give a defendant a reasonable time to employ counsel and prepare a defense," said Judge Prystalski. "I consider that a continuance to Aug. 28 is long enough in this case. Be ready for trial without delay on that day."

Plan of Judge Green.

Judge Green said he would issue search warrants, under the recently enacted law, to the police, so that they would always be equipped legally to search known gangsters and hoodlums. The warrants are good for 48 hours. They will be reissued as often as the police need them, the judge said. The police heads were summoned to court for this morning to be informed of the judge's ideas.

Serious felony cases, particularly robbery, automobile larceny, and burglary cases, will not be continued, even once in his court, the judge said, and bonds will be set high enough to keep gunmen in jail.

"Continuances are only for the purpose of intimidating witnesses," said the judge. "From now on they will not be granted in this court."

Other Sentences Imposed.

Other sentences in the criminal courts yesterday were as follows:

LEONARD PARKER, 20, sentenced to 1 year to life for robbery on June 9 of a National Tea company store. Steve Dietz, 22, pleaded guilty to the same charge and asked for probation. Judge Ross C. Hall will decide on the question Monday.

FRANK SMITH, 25, sentenced to 1 year to life for burglary by Judge Prystalski. He robbed the home of Harold Snow, 6636 West Twenty-third street, Berwyn, June 1.

JOSEPH WILLIAMS, 42, who says he is an Indian, sentenced to 7 years for raping his step daughter. Judge Charles P. Molthrop imposed the sentence.

MIKE DEFELICE, 19, and MIKE MATTOLA, 23, sentenced to 1 to 20 years each, for stealing an automobile from Alex Richmond, an official of the Link Belt company, 2410 West 18th street. Judge Harry B. Miller imposed the sentence after a jury found the defendants guilty.

JOSEPH DAVIS, 18, and MATTHEW HOWARD, 20, both Negroes, sentenced 1 to 20 years each by Judge Prystalski. They robbed Miss Anna Smuda, on April 10.

LAWRENCE WHITE, 25, sentenced to 1 year to life by Judge Marcus Kavanagh. He was found guilty by a jury of committing a street robbery.

Orders Police Chief to Appear.

Judge Walter J. LaBuy, a volunteer judge who appeared for Criminal court service yesterday, ordered Chief of Police Hanke of Blue Island before him this morning. The judge took action after Emil Wiedenhoft, owner of a delicatessen store in Blue Island, complained that the police did not coöperate with him in catching two gunmen who tried to kill and rob him on Feb. 15. Frank Bailey, identified by Wiedenhoft as one of the men, was tried by a jury and acquitted yesterday.

Chief Justice Prystalski said he hoped to hear from some of his associates today. The judge is looking for some more volunteers to take the places in the judicial ranks made vacant by the necessity of Judges Joseph Sabath and Joseph B. David returning to the civil courts.

POLICE KILL YOUNG AUTO THIEF, SHOOT BEER TAVERN BANDIT

A few hours before the murder of Patrolman Joseph Hastings by robbers, the police yesterday killed one young criminal and critically wounded another.

The youth killed was James Clancy, 18 years old, 6329 South Bishop street. He had served one term in the bridewell for automobile thievery and was fleeing in another stolen car when he was mortally wounded by a police bullet.

Policemen Matthew Kaufmann and William J. Gibbons of the automobile detail sighted the car, with four youths riding in it, at 62d and Justine streets. The youths drove off in defiance of a command to halt, and after a chase, in which the police fired a number of shots, the car was wrecked.

The policemen arrested one of the occupants, John Rachelin, 17 years old, 6138 South Honore street, who already was scheduled to appear today in the Criminal court on a charge of automobile thievery. Two of his companions escaped. Clancy was found dead shortly afterward in the back yard of a house at 6227 Laflin street. The police believed that he had been driving and that the car was wrecked when he was wounded.

James Gallagher, 29 years old, 7746 Indiana avenue, was shot when he attempted to hold up a beer tavern at 362 East 63d street. His companion, Thomas Leahy, 34 years old, 8834 Throop street, was captured. Leahy is an ex-convict and a parole violator. He was sentenced to Joliet penitentiary for robbery in 1924, paroled in 1926, and sent back to prison for violating his parole in 1931. Police records do not show the time or manner of his last release.

Policeman Louis Natzke, assigned to the detective bureau, was standing at the bar when Gallagher and Leahy entered the tavern. When Gallagher pointed a revolver at the bartender and told him to put up his hands, Natzke shot him in the back. Gallagher's condition is critical, it was said last night at the bridewell hospital.

MARTIAL LAW URGED TO CURE RACKET PLAGUE

Warden Lawes Says the States Fail.

New York, Aug. 14.—[Special.]—A wide variety of weapons for use in a nation-wide war on organized crime were proposed today to United States Senator Royal S. Copeland's sub-committee investigating racketeers.

Two aids of the Roosevelt administration attended the hearing as observers. They were Joseph B. Keenan, special assistant to Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, and Prof. Raymond C. Moley.

For a Devil's Island.

Edward P. Mulrooney, chairman of the state alcoholic beverage control board and former police commissioner, advocated public application of the lash and exile to a criminal colony like the French "Devil's Island," for habitual offenders.

Warden Lewis E. Lawes of Sing Sing was one of those at the hearing. The majority of those who appeared favored tightening up existing statutes, broadening the police power of the federal government, especially in kidnaping cases.

Lawes' argument was that only drastic federal action would avert the appeal to "Judge Lynch," and martial law would be needed to curb mobs.

Wants Martial Law.

"This is war," he said, "it could be stopped in sixty days if martial law were declared and these racketeers were brought in and forced to tell how they make their living. It could be done if the public were informed of the why and wherefore. I'm sure public opinion would back it up."

"Do you favor martial law?" Senator Copeland asked.

"Yes," answered Warden Lawes, "if we couldn't get a constitutional amendment quickly, we should have semi-martial law against this group of people who are at war with society and our institutions."

At another moment he said:

"Crime has become national in scope. We need more than uniform criminal laws. We need more than coöperation. Law enforcement cannot continue to remain local. Maybe the constitution will have to be rewritten, perhaps and additional cabinet officer will have to be appointed."

For U. S. Scotland Yard.

Some favored a federal bureau like the popular conception of Scotland Yard, to coöperate, but not to supersede city, county or state police in crime inquiries.

It was revealed that a local group called the Federal Bar association has submitted to Hugh S. Johnson, a proposal to insert in codes, a clause granting the federal government the right, upon complaint from any responsible source, to require businessmen to explain extraordinary expenditures for "entertainment," and similar otherwise unexplained items.

District Attorney Thomas C. T. Crain and Grover A. Whalen, head of the New York City NRA campaign, both said the reluctance of business men to help themselves against racketeers was one of the most serious obstacles.

TROOPS GUARD NEGRO IN JAIL; ESCAPED MOB

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Aug. 14.—(AP)—National Guardsmen were hastily mobilized here tonight as Elmore Clark, 23, one of three Negroes seized by a mob early yesterday, was found alive and suffering only minor wounds.

Clark, who with Dan Pippen Jr., 18, and A. T. Harden, 16, was taken from officers removing him to Birmingham for safe keeping, had been the object of an intensive search since yesterday. The bodies of the other two had been recovered.

Clark was found with bullet wounds in the hip and leg, and Judge Henry B. Foster immediately appealed to Gov. B. M. Miller for troops to surround the Tuscaloosa county jail, where the Negro was taken to prevent further violence toward him.

Gov. Miller in Montgomery issued an order for mobilization of the troops and the local company of National Guards assembled.

Clark told Sheriff R. L. Shamblin the members of the mob were masked and that he could not identify any of them.

Sheriff Shamblin said the Negro was suffering from fright and weakness from his wounds and could give no clear account of now he escaped from the mob.

ESCAPED FELON, MASSACRE CHIEF, KIDNAPER SEIZED

Ten Are Rounded Up for Two Big Crimes.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 15 [Tuesday].—[Special.]—Harvey J. Bailey, escaped convict and notorious desperado, and 10 other persons were in jail last night in the federal government's investigation of two of the nation's major crimes of the year.

The raids in which the men were captured in St. Paul, Denver and Paradise, Tex., were regarded as the opening gun in President Roosevelt's war against gangsters and racketeers.

Department of justice officials moved swiftly in the three cities as they arrested men wanted in connection with the machine gun slaying of five men at the Kansas City Union station and the $200,000 kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma City oil man. Bailey is considered the leader in both these crimes.

Trapped As He Sleeps.

Bailey, leader of one of the most dangerous criminal gangs in the country, was trapped as he slept on a cot, surrounded by a small arsenal of weapons, on a farm near Paradise. Federal officials said they found in his possession marked money which was paid for the ransom of the oil man who had been kept at the same farm where Bailey was taken. Urschel's finger prints were found in the house.

In Denver, department of justice operatives arrested Albert L. Bates, ex-convict and fugitive, and identified him as George Bates, a suspect in the Urschel kidnaping. He escaped Christmas day, 1931, from the Van Buren county jail in Paw Paw, Mich.

Four more men were held in St. Paul in connection with the Oklahoman's abduction. Werner Hanni, chief of the United States bureau of investigation, said they were linked with the passing of part of the ransom paid for the oil man's release.

Those held were Sam J. Kronick, head of a barber supply and cosmetic concern; Charles Wolk, transfer company official; William Nelson, truck driver, all of Minneapolis, and Sam Kozberg, official of a St. Paul drug manufacturing concern.

Praises Captors of Bailey.

Attorney General Cummings, who paid highest tribute to the agents responsible for his arrest, said Bailey had been identified as the man who handled the machine gun which killed Frank Nash, convict, and four officers on the Kansas City plaza, June 17. He was leader of the Memorial day prison break at the Lansing, Kas., penitentiary.

Speaking in Washington after the arrest of Bailey and the others, an assistant of Mr. Cummings declared the Urschel family had been the first to follow the advice of the attorney general and notify the federal authorities at once.

Raid on Farm House.

Airplanes and automobiles figured in the raid near Paradise in which Bailey was captured. Acting on a lead obtained in Oklahoma City, federal agents flew over the isolated spot and spied the hideout through powerful binoculars. The place was then taken by surprise before the occupants were awake.

Alongside him on the cot when they came upon him Bailey had two pistols and a rifle. Another pistol and a machine gun were on the farmhouse porch, a dozen feet away. But Bailey was asleep when the officers arrived. Authorities had had the farmhouse under surveillance for several months because of mysterious visits by strangers in large automobiles.

Despite his guns Bailey didn't have a chance to fight since he was under cover of machine guns when the officers aroused him.

"Well, it looks like it's just too bad, doesn't it?" Bailey said as he sat up and rubbed his eyes.

"Yes, it's too bad for you," replied Frank J. Blake, chief of the department of justice agents here. "If any shooting starts we are going to kill you."

Five occupants of the farmhouse were also arrested. They are. R. G. Shannon, said to be the owner of the place; his wife, Ora. their son, Armon, and his wife, Oleta, and Earl Brown, father of Oleta. Brown so n was released. The others are held in the Dallas county jail.

Bailey had been sought throughout the country since Memorial day, when he led 11 convicts from the Lansing, Kas., state prison where he was serving 10 to 50 years for the $32,000 robbery of a bank at Fort Scott, Kas. He was also wanted for the $2,000,000 holdup of the Lincoln, Neb., Bank and Trust company robbed on Sept. 17, 1930.

Faces Murder Inquiry.

Bailey also is wanted in Tulsa county, Okla., for questioning on the killing of J. Earl Smith, Tulsa attorney, whose body was found near the Indian Hills country club, fifteen miles from that place, just about a year ago.

It is the theory that Bailey regarded Smith as a double-crosser and had Harry Campbell and Fred Barker, another pal, kil' Smith. Campbell and Barker have not been caught.

CITIES GOING BROKE, LEGISLATORS WARN NEW JERSEY FOLK

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—With the gross municipal debt in New Jersey in excess of $1,200,000,000, the legislature's joint committee on taxation warned today that grave consequences are inevitable if the taxing system is not revised immediately and real estate relieved of the burden now borne.

Taxes are delinquent from one to five years on a third of the property in a majority of districts, it was pointed out. Municipal treasuries are empty in many instances, with unpaid school obligations and other costs of government mounting at an alarming rate.

New sources of revenue must be found, said the statement, or schools will be closed and there will be no money for police, fire, and health protection, the operation of water and sewage plants and other functions of vital importance.

U. S. REFUSES VISA FOR TOM MANN, BRITISH RADICAL

LONDON, Aug. 14.—(AP)—The American consulate has refused to grant a visa to Tom Mann, British radical leader, because the state department declined to allow him to enter the United States just after the war, when he was interested in the I. W. W., it was learned today.

Once the state department has refused a visa, that refusal applies to all subsequent requests unless the department has reversed its position. Mann intended to go to the United States as a British representative to attend an anti-war congress scheduled for early in September.

The consulate, it was said, had no alternative but to refuse admission. Had it been necessary for the American authorities to consider their position anew, it was stated that they should have had to take cognizance of the fact that Mann recently was imprisoned here. He was sentenced under an old act relating to seditious meetings, for refusing to offer sureties to keep the peace and be of good behavior for a year.

KNIGHTS ARRIVE FOR CATHOLICS' MEETING TODAY

Three hundred delegates have arrived for the 51st international convention of the Knights of Columbus which opens today with the celebration of mass in Holy Name cathedral.

About 2,000 persons are here for the convention, including delegates, other knights and their families. The sessions of the convention will be held in the Stevens hotel. This is the first meeting of the organization here since 1917.

Following mass in the cathedral, dignitaries of the church and of the city will speak at sessions during the day and evening. Mayor Kelly has been asked to address the morning session. At the banquet tonight D. F. Kelly of The Fair will be toastmaster. Music will be supplied by Sara Ann McCabe, radio and concert soprano, John Pane-Gasser, operatic tenor, and Thomas Loftus, Irish singer.

Years Bring Awards

Longevity was rewarded with medals and entertainment yesterday when more than 5,000 persons gathered at Riverview park for the 59th annual Old Settlers' picnic, which was sponsored by the German society, Chicago Turngemeinde.

Eleven gold medals were awarded in contests for the old timers which were varied and unusual. One of the rules was that no former winner should participate.

First prize for being the oldest settler who has continuously lived in Chicago for the greatest number of years went to Fred Wendt, 85 years old, 4228 West Madison street, who has resided here since 1848, the year of his birth. Mrs. Augusta Miller, 82 years old, 4246 Maypole avenue, who has lived here since 1851, was awarded a medal for being the oldest woman settler.

Honors for the old settler with the greatest number of descendants went to Mrs. Antonia Schallau, 1941 South Seventh avenue, Maywood, who has 14 children, 18 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren. A medal was given to A. Ferguson, 1611 West Austin avenue, for having lived 71 years in the same residence.

CREW STICKS BY SCHOONER AFTER COLLISION IN FOG

Boston, Mass., Aug. 14.—(AP)—The steamer Horda was in collision tonight in a dense fog with a schooner believed to be the Shirley M. Clattenburg, a Gloucester fisherman, 150 miles east of Chatham.

Wireless messages picked up from the Horda, which was bound from Port Alfred, Ont., to Philadelphia, erroneously reported the schooner's name as the Girly M. Battenburg.

Last reports from the Horda, which said she was standing by, were that the schooner was leaking badly but that her crew refused to leave.

The destroyer Wainwright was dispatched to aid the schooner and was expected to reach the vessel early tomorrow morning.

Inventor Upsets Another Wireless Theory.

ROME, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Communication with micro waves a foot and a half long over distances greater than the range of vision and through or around physical obstacles was reported here today before the science department of the Royal academy by Guglielmo Marconi, noted wireless inventor of Italy.

Previous tests had indicated that these waves would travel only as far as could be seen in a straight line.

Sends Code 161 Miles.

In a series of tests conducted between the inventor's yacht, Electra, in the Tyrrhenian sea, and inland Italy, Marconi said that both radiophone and radiotelegraph messages had been exchanged with the experimental station at Santa Margherita, 94 miles inland, a distance three times further than he had been able to get heretofore.

Even with the Electra anchored at Porto Santo Stefano, a distance of 161 miles from Santa Margherita, faint code messages on a 60 centimeter wave were picked up on the yacht despite two intervening mountainous promontories, indicating that the micro waves were not hindered by such opaque objects.

Twenty-five watts of power were used, Marconi said, in a newly developed micro wave combined transmitter and receiver. He added that he hoped through the development of more sensitive apparatus to be able to bring about further important advancements in the art of radio communication.

UPSETS OLD THEORY.

This latest announcement by Marconi would indicate that the heretofore generally accepted theory that micro waves are limited only to the range of vision did not hold altogether true.

Engineers had believed that these waves would travel only as far as the eye could see from the top of a high building like the Empire State in New York—at the most 60 miles.

They also believed that such opaque objects as buildings and mountains had the same effect on these waves as would be the case with a searchlight or other form of light beam. This condition, they believed, was due to the fact that the tiny waves were so close to the light spectrum that their action was similar.

The term micro is applied to the shortest wireless waves known, being measured only in centimeters. The next longer wave is the ultra short wave, following which come the short wave and finally the wave commonly used in broadcasting.

Board Discards 53 School Portables on Southwest Side

Fifty-three more ill-ventilated portable school structures went into the discard yesterday as the board of education continued to carry out its economy and better housing program for Chicago's half million school children. The details of the day's survey were compiled by school officials and announced by James B. McCahey, president of the school board.

The area surveyed was that lying within wards 15 to 19, comprising part of the stockyards district, Englewood, Normal Park, West Englewood, Fernwood, Beverly Hills, Morgan Park, and Mount Greenwood. Besides the elimination of the portables—which pupils have nicknamed "dog houses"—the housing program will abolish overcrowded high school classrooms and half time instruction for pupils.

Five High Schools Affected.

High schools affected are Lindblom and Calumet, which have been struggling against a mounting congestion for years, and Englewood, Parker and Morgan Park. At Lindblom and Calumet alone 39 portables will be abandoned. The conversion of junior high schools into senior high school plants through the board order will bring about more comfortable quarters for hundreds of school children in this section of the city, Mr. McCahey said.

The Harper Junior High school at 6520 South Wood street is undergoing minor changes for senior high school instruction. Its conversion into a senior high school will relieve the overcrowded condition at Lindblom.

In addition the Harper building will contain a branch of the O'Toole elementary school and will maintain a high school branch at the old Hubbard Junior High school at 6200 South Hamlin avenue where approximately 1,000 pupils will study.

Relief for Calumet High.

The Westcott Junior High school at 8025 Normal avenue will be turned over to the Calumet High school for exclusive use as a branch. The Parker Senior High school will take over the former junior high building adjoining, thus furnishing additional relief for overcrowded conditions there.

John C. Christensen, school architect, announced that the contractors were all at work in the junior high schools. The contractors have been given 30 days in which to complete the necessary alterations.

Board officials began negotiations with representatives of the school unions concerning the elimination of jobs from the business department, which is a part of the economy program. It was estimated that 144 positions would be eliminated through the abandonment of portables, closing of swimming pools and other features of the program. Of this number 94 are school janitors or janitresses, 46 are firemen and four are engineer-custodians.

Union Leaders Meet Howatt.

Joe Spain, president of the school engineers' union, Charles Driscoll, vice president, and Robert Tormey, representing the firemen's union, conferred with John Howatt, chief engineer for the school system, regarding the elimination of 26 operating employés in small schools with less than 40,000 square feet of space.

The controversy is over which shall be eliminated in these small schools, the engineer or the fireman. Hereafter, one operating employé will be used in each of these school plants.

Elimination of the 144 employés will mean an annual saving of approximately $200,000.

Woman Elevated Cashier Held Up Second Time

For the second time in two months, Miss Margaret McCormick, 45 years old, 4902 Montana street, cashier at the Fullerton avenue elevated station, was the victim of robbers last night when three men held her up and took $229. Two months ago she was robbed of $210.

HOLDS BANKS UNRESTRICTED IN WARRANT BUYING

Mayor Kelly made public yesterday a letter which he received from J. F. T. O'Connor, controller of the currency, holding that the rule which forbids national banks to lend more than a certain percentage of their capital stock to one borrower does not apply to purchases of tax warrants.

National banks, Mr. O'Connor wrote, are empowered to "advance funds to the municipal corporations of Illinois against tax anticipation warrants without any limitations under the national banking act or the banking act of 1933 other than that the amount of such loans should be kept within conservative limits and not out of proportion to the banks' loaning ability."

Uncertainty as to whether the loan restriction applied to tax warrant purchases has been one obstacle in the way of municipal tax warrant sales for pay roll purposes. Mayor Kelly said that with this bar removed he hopes soon to obtain funds for school pay rolls.

"If the Supreme court, in the rehearing of the 15 per cent assessment cut case now before it, should invalidate the cut, I believe banks may be willing to purhase more school tax warrants," said Mayor Kelly.

PROTEST RALLY IS TOLD ECONOMY INJURES SCHOOLS

The economy program of the board of education was attacked as an "impoverishment of the schools" last night by Dr. Frank N. Freeman, professor of educational psychology at the University of Chicago, in a meeting at the Metropolitan Community church, 4100 South Park way.

Dr. Freeman declared elimination of manual training and household arts in the seventh and eighth grades, the reduction in supervision and the conversion of junior high schools to senior high schools made the educational program of Chicago "less rich."

"The changes in the last generation have made these courses necessary in the schools," said Dr. Freeman. "They were adopted upon the demand of the public. If economy is necessary it should not be in such fundamentals. This program is liable to fasten a depression type of education permanently upon the people."

Brewery Permits Refused to 10 Applicants by U. S.

Ten applications for brewery permits have been denied by E. C. Yellowley, federal supervisor for this district, because of alleged hoodlum affiliations of the applicants, he announced yesterday. Yellowley refused to disclose the names of the brewery promoters, but said seven were in Chicago and three in Wisconsin. Permits have been granted to 35 brewery organizations in Illinois, 64 in Wisconsin, and seven in Indiana, making a total of 106 in Yellowley's territory.

FARM WOMAN IS 9,000,000TH VISITOR AT FAIR

Attendance Sets 2 Records; Parade Today.

Sunday, Aug. 13, 1933.....211,354
Sunday, Aug. 13, 1893..... 18,304
Total, including Aug. 13, 1933 [79 days] 8,984,346
Total, including Aug. 13, 1893 [105 days] 7,632,895
The Columbian Exposition opened May 1. A Century of Progress opened May 27.

On its 80th day yesterday, A Century of Progress Exposition had its nine millionth visitor, thereby setting two records.

The last one million visitors registered at the Fair turnstiles in three hours less than six days. This is the shortest period during which a like number have entered the exposition grounds. The other record is a comparative one, which discloses that the Columbian Exposition of '93 did not have its nine millionth visitor until Aug. 24 of that year. Thus the present Fair is ten days ahead in attendance at this point, although the 1893 Fair opened earlier.

Farm Woman No. 9,000,000.

In addition to being the 80th day, yesterday also was Farm Organization day, the second in farm week. So it was particularly fitting that the nine millionth visitor was Mrs. May Mershon, 61 years old, a farm wife of Buckner, Mo., the mother of six children and grandmother to seventeen. With her husband, T. W. Mershon, she came to Chicago especially to witness the farm week program.

A bit bewildered when she was surrounded by Fair officials, photographers, and reporters, she soon recovered her poise and announced herself delighted with the World's Fair medal, the souvenir cane, the kodak and tickets to some twenty concessions which were given her.

The special farm activities of the day centered on the speeches given by Edward O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, and Louis J. Tabor, master of the National grange, before several thousand farmers and their families in the court of states and broadcast to thousands of farm homes of the middle west.

Urge Farmers to Back NRA.

Both men praised the agricultural adjustment act and urged the farmers to join hands with the business man, the laborer, and the manufacturer to get behind the national program for recovery.

"Under the far reaching powers of the adjustment act," said Mr. O'Neal, "we can make a public utility out of agriculture. The basis is laid for bringing about a balance between production and consumption of farm products which will reward those who coöperate. Those who stay out must bear the economic consequences of their noncoöperation.

"Agriculture must be restored to equality with industry and labor, and re-established in its proper place in the economic life of the country. That is where the national planning for agriculture steps in. The institution of democracy in America will remain safe as long as we retain our rural society as the foundation of our national life."

30 Centuries' Gains in One.

"During the century 1833 to 1933," stated Mr. Taber, "the progress in mechanical knowledge in the science of agriculture surpassed the gains made during the previous thirty centuries. With mutual coöperation America's rural populace can continue its expression of strength and make the next century of even greater importance."

Other speakers on the program were Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural association; Charles E. Hearst, president of the Iowa farm bureau federation; C. A. Ewing, president of the National Live Stock Marketing association; W. H. Settle, president of the Indiana farm bureau, and W. W. McLaughlin, director of agriculture for Illinois.

The real color in the farm week program comes today with the agricultural parade through the loop. Sheep, hogs, cattle of all breeds, chickens, and turkeys will have their places along with farm machinery floats which will portray the advances in farm implements during the century of mechanical progress.

Grand Banquet at Night.

The day's events culminate in a grand banquet. There the pageant of the knighting of the loin of beef will be reënacted in accordance with the legend which attributes this to King Charles II. of Engla..d. Medieval costumes, pomp, and display will be carried out.

The banquet will take place in the central hall of the Agricultural building. At its height trumpeters in doublets and hose will announce the old English roast of beef, borne aloft on a silver platter by four butlers.

As the roast is placed before the king he will rise, draw his sword, and proclaim: "I dub thee Sir Loin."

Dr. W. C. Coffey, dean of the College of Agriculture at the University of Minnesota, will play the part of King Charles. E. W. Sheets, head of the division of animal husbandry, United States department of agriculture; Prof. H. J. Gramlich, head of the animal husbandry department of the University of Nebraska; Prof. G. A. Brown, head of the same department at Michigan State college, and Prof. R. B. Hinman, head of the animal husbandry department at Cornell university, also will take parts.

At 11:30 p. m. last night 167,832 paid admissions had been recorded at the Fair.

APPELLATE COURT FREES BOY FROM JAIL UNDER BOND

The Appellate court yesterday granted a writ of supersedeas in the case of William Weber, 16 year old school boy who has been in the county jail for several months because of his inability to pay a judgment in a personal injury case. As a result young Weber was released on $1,000 bond.

The writ was granted on an appeal from the order last week of Circuit Judge George Fred Rush, dismissing a motion to stay the execution of the judgment under which the boy was being kept in jail. The appeal probably will not be heard until the October term of the Appellate court, and young Weber will be free until then, his attorney, W. G. Anderson, said.

The judgment was won last fall by Mrs. Lucille Saliba of Berwyn, and was for $2,500 for injuries received when she was struck by an automobile driven by the Weber boy. The verdict contained a malice count under which young Weber has been imprisoned for his failure to pay.

Maj. Gen. von Boetticher of Germany Guest at Fort

Maj. Gen. Friederich von Boetticher, military attaché at the German consulate in Washington, D. C., who is here with his family to visit the World's Fair, was a guest of honor yesterday at Fort Sheridan. With Col. Edward Davis, at whose home in Highland Park the visitors are staying, and Brig. Gen. Frank C. Bolles, commander of Fort Sheridan, he inspected the barracks and equipment and saw a special review put on by the citizens' military training camp.

KathrynCarverWinsDecree from Menjou of the Talkies

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Testifying that her actor husband, Adolphe Menjou, would fly into fits of rage against her, Kathryn Carver, film actress, was awarded a divorce from him today. While Menjou filed an answer denying Miss Carver's charges, he permitted the case to go by default.

ABANDONS BOY INJURED BY AUTO AT GAS STATION

A Norwood Park grocer injured a 6 year old boy with his automobile last night, started with the boy for a hospital, but became panicky and ejected him from his car at a gasoline filling station. The grocer, John F. Bellack, 60 years old, 6046 Irving Park boulevard, surrendered several hours later.

The boy, Raymond Kerwin, 1642 Byron street, is in a critical condition in the Martha Washington hospital. He was struck by Bellack's automobile at Addison street and Lincoln avenue. In Bellack's car was a Michigan woman whose name police did not learn. After the accident Bellack put Raymond in his machine and started for a hospital. He drove only as far as the gas filling station at 3551 Lincoln avenue, where he stopped and put the boy out as D. Ericksen, the station attendant, looked on.

"Here's my name and address," said Bellack. "Please take care of the boy." Then he drove away. He gave his name and address correctly, but police could not find him. Finally Bellack appeared at the Irving Park station and said he was the man who had injured and abandoned the child. He explained he did not think the boy had been hurt seriously and that he suddenly became frightened. Bellack was ordered held.

One death yesterday raised the 1933 Cook county motor toll to 622. The victim:

Frank Masinetz, 72 years old, 2445 South Cuyler avenue, Berwyn. Died in his home of injuries received Sunday when the automobile in which he was riding with his grandson struck a telephone pole in front of 110 South First avenue, Maywood.

249 FRENCH WAR VETS AT FAIR AND ART INSTITUTE

Two hundred and forty-nine French war veterans who are in America at the invitation of the American Legion, were guests yesterday of the Chicago Art institute and the World's Fair. The visitors are members of the Association des Mutiles et Anciens Combattants, which corresponds to the Legion.

In honor of the visitors the Art institute designated yesterday as French day. Chauncey McCormick, vice president, and M. Weiller, the French consul, were hosts. After going through the galleries, rich with French masterpieces, the veterans and members of other French organizations attended a reception at which Mr. McCormick addressed them in French.

The veterans then visited the Fair. Special ceremonies were held in the Pantheon, featured by music by the Florida All State band of 105 pieces.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS NOTES

The Mathushek Spinet-Grand piano, a real grand piano in a spinet cabinet, and the Bechstein-Moor double keyboard piano, both on exhibition in the south wing of the Hall of Science, are attracting the attention of musicians and music lovers in great numbers. The double keyboard piano is used by Miss Winifred Christie in concerts at the Illinois Host building every Thursday afternoon.

The National high school orchestra of 220 members and the National high school band of 110 members will play at the Fair Thursday from 7 to 10 p. m. and at various parts of the grounds during the following three days. Their first concert will be given in the Court of States. On Friday the band will play at 4 p. m. and the orchestra at 8 p. m. in the same place.

Although tours of the Fair grounds during Farm week are announced in the daily programs in newspapers as free, there is considerable skepticism among visitors from out of town. Guides yesterday reported difficulty in convincing many visitors of the fact that there is no charge. "There must be a catch in it," the doubters say.

The Japanese tea house, christened "Rin Ko Tei," meaning "The House of Friendly Neighbors," will be the scene of the reception for all the national "Queens" at a ceremonial tea Friday, Aug. 25. The tea house is made of hand worked woods and cost $10,000.

Ancient weapons, including bolos, krisses, kampilans, daggers, and small brass cannon, form an interesting display in the Philippine island exhibit on the second floor of the Travel and Transport building. Most of those shown are valuable museum pieces.

An allegorical play, "My Country," outlining the history of Czechoslovakia in its fight for political freedom, will be presented in Soldiers' field at 2 p. m. Sunday from Czechoslovakian day is observed at the Fair.

The winners in the third annual Fisher body craftsman's guild model coach building contest will be announced tomorrow night, following a dinner at the 131st Infantry armory.

The Century of Progress gold medal for the best new variety of gladiolus was awarded yesterday to Foss Heaton Gladiolus gardens of Creston, Ia.

ARREST FLORIST FOR PENTHOUSE WOMAN MURDER

Pasadena, Cal., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Two men—Harold Wolcott, 33, prominent florist here, and Maynard Miedema, a policeman—were under arrest and held for further questioning tonight in the "penthouse murder" of Helen Bendowski, 28 year old beauty shop girl on the roof of a Colorado boulevard apartment building last night. The girl was shot through the back from behind as she fled across the roof.

She was shot from a distance of six or seven feet, police say, they bullet piercing her heart. The body was then dropped from the roof to a lower building level.

Wolcott was known as her sweetheart and Miedema was a friend of Wolcott's. The roof dwelling at which the shooting occurred is on top of the building which houses Wolcott's floral shop.

Wolcott is said to have had a romance with Miss Bendowski several years ago, which ended when he married a Mrs. June Whitford, who died leaving him a $50,000 estate.

HONOR VICTIMS OF FT. DEARBORN MASSACRE TODAY

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

Chicago's centennial week celebration turns today from the gala atmosphere of yesterday, dedicated to women, to an event antedating even the hundred years of history A Century of Progress commemorates—the Fort Dearborn massacre.

Tomorrow the festival atmosphere returns with State street's special day, and the carnival of anniversary moves on to its climax of Saturday evening, the Chicagoland Music Festival in Soldiers' field.

An army bugler sounding "Assembly" at 9:15 o'clock at Wacker drive and Michigan boulevard will inaugurate the ceremonies today, honoring those members of the garrison who set forth from Old Fort Dearborn on a fateful day in 1812 and were ambushed by Indians near the present 18th street on the lake shore.

Descendants to Participate.

Descendants of the 108 men and women who were slain will participate in the program, which is under the auspices of the Junior Association of Commerce.

Donald W. Snell, chairman of the organization committee, will be in charge of the exercises at the London Guaranty building, near the bridge, at which a short talk will be given by William D. Saltiel, former city attorney. A wreath will be placed at the site by the D. A. R. and the Daughters of 1812.

At 10 a. m. those participating in the events will start in automobiles from the London Guaranty building for the courtyard of the Hall of Science in A Century of Progress grounds. A ton of flowers donated by growers of the Mississippi valley will be scattered along the way.

At the 14th street gate a military salute will be fired in honor of Maj. Gen. Hugh L. Scott, U. S. A., retired, who will be the principal speaker. Gen. Scott reached Chicago yesterday by plane from Princeton, N. J.

A cavalry escort from Camp Whistler in the Exposition grounds will precede the motorcade to the Hall of Science courtyard, where the Morgan Park band will open the program at 10:45. Allen D. Albert will welcome the crowd, and Mayor Kelly will introduce Gen. Scott, who will speak on the historical background of the city and the massacre.

Miss Helen Protheroe will sing "Hail, Columbia," and there will be a selection by the Association of Commerce quartet, after which the eleven descendants of Fort Dearborn principals will be introduced.

Women Attend Luncheon.

Hundreds of women in gay summer garb congregated yesterday in the German-American building at the Fair for the luncheon that was their major contribution to the calendar of the week.

Miss Margery Maxwell of operatic fame contributed the vocal solos, and Miss Vera Rehburg, cellist, followed selections that drew encores from the crowd. Miss Alma Putnam accompanied both artists.

Mrs. Henry W. Hardy, president of the Chicago and Cook County Federation of Women's Organizations, presided as toastmistress. Her co-chairmen, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Conkey and Mrs. Bertha Baur participated in the program, Mrs. Conkey extending to the women the greetings and apologies of Mayor Kelly, who could not be present, and Mrs. Baur reading an original poem.

Claims Short Speech Record.

Miss Pauline Frederick, screen and stage star, received a near ovation for what is probably one of the shortest speeches on record. Miss Marie Becker, president of the German-American Hostess society, inaugurated a series of addresses of welcome which were given by Col. Robert I. Randolph for A Century of Progress officials; by Fred J. Ashley for President George Rossetter of the Association of Commerce, and general chairman Bernard J. Mullaney of the Festival week; and by Mrs. Lydia Raley, official hostess at the Illinois Host building.

Mrs. Carter Harrison, general chairmen of the hostesses for the state of Illinois, and Mrs. Rufus Dawes, wife of the president of the Fair, also spoke. Mrs. Hannah Solomon, who was active in the Columbian Exposition, gave reminiscences of the days of 1893.

Thursday will be Lake Michigan day on the week's schedule, with water sports and pageants claiming the spotlight. Friday will be automobile day, headlining the outdoor auto show in Grant park which opens tomorrow night. Saturday is music day, with the fourth annual musical festival closing the week's events.

U. S. TO PROTEST YANKEE SAILOR'S JAILING BY NAZIS

Holds 6 Mos. for Calling Hitler a Jew Unjustified.

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—American authorities are preparing to protest to the German government against the sentence of six months in prison imposed on Able Seaman Thorsten Johnson, 27, of Brooklyn, who sails aboard the Scanpenn.

He was charged with speaking of Hitler as "a Czechoslovakian Jew" in the "Cool Stockhold" saloon in Stettin. His captain said he was under the influence of liquor. Johnson himself said his statement was, "Hitler is a Czechoslovak. The Jews don't like him."

Arrested July 11.

None of the statements, American authorities hold, justifies six months in prison.

Johnson was arrested the night of July 11, at the harbor of Stettin after spending the evening at the "Cool Stockhold." When the American consul general in Berlin learned of his arrest, he immediately communicated with the German attorney general at Stettin. The latter assured him that Johnson was in the best of care and would be given proper counsel.

Upon further questioning the American authorities were told it was not a serious case. Then it was learned that Johnson had been sentenced to six months in prison. This is held to be incompatible with the assurance that Johnson's was "not a serious case."

International legal experts share the opinion of the Americans and charge that the appellation "Czechoslovak" or "Jew," allegedly uttered by Johnson, does not justify the prison sentence.

Charges Nazi Vienna Legation Plot.

VIENNA, Aug. 14.—(AP)—The semi-official Reichspost declared today in a special edition which carried the headline, "Conspiracy Against Austria," that the German legation in Vienna has been assisting in illegal activities on the part of the Austrian Nazis.

The legation, the paper said, has been forwarding the mail of Austrian Nazis to Nazi quarters in Berlin by means of an "illegal legation courier service."

SHIP BEATS ILL OMENS; FIRST AT HUDSON BAY PORT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CHURCHILL, Manitoba, Aug. 14.—The first European ship of the season to penetrate the Arctic route through Hudson bay to this new grain seaport in the center of the continent, the 11,000 ton British freighter Pennyworth, from Antwerp, arrived here yesterday. Victor in a trans-Atlantic race of five ships, it disproved many traditional ill omens of the sea.

The Pennyworth left Glasgow and Antwerp on successive Fridays, made her landfall 13 days later at Resolution island, reached this port 13 days after clearing British waters, picked up the harbor pilot at 1:13 p. m. yesterday, the 13th of the month, and so became the 13th ship to enter this port since it was opened two years ago.

Her log showed 13 miles on the last watch at sea and she was moored safely with a 13 foot fresh water draft in this difficult harbor. Then Capt. A. W. Crofton relaxed to celebrate his birthday, the 13th of the month. The four other ships in the race, hammered by storms, worried by icebergs and delayed by fog, are following far behind.

GOVERNMENT IS CHECKING UP ON PRICES OF BREAD

Study Reason for Marked Differences.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—(AP)—Bread prices, which appear to be too high, are to be investigated in a number of cities by the farm adjustment administration.

At the same time figures are being assembled to show consumers whether they are paying too much for other foods.

Announcing the results of the first of a series of studies of retail prices, Dr. Fred J. Howe, consumers' counsel for the administration, said that while the bread prices in sixteen cities were satisfactory as a whole, investigation would be made of some of the marked differences shown.

A study of cotton textile prices, now being made, probably will be the second report in the series designed to prevent profiteering.

Little Effect in 16 Cities.

Howe said the bread study showed the price of a pound loaf of white bread in the 16 cities had increased only 1.4 cents from Feb. 15 to Aug. 2, while the actual cost in eighteen cities was 7.8 cents as compared to 6.4 cents in sixteen of them last February.

Some marked differences, however, which may be the subject of inquiry, included prices in Mobile and San Francisco, which showed prices on Aug. 2 of 9 and 9.3 cents, respectively, for a pound loaf as compared to 6.5 cents price in Dallas on the same date. The greatest price spreads in the Feb. 15 to Aug. 2 period, however, were shown in Cincinnati, which had an increase estimated at 2.5 cents, and Memphis at 2.1.

Howe said that figures showing increased labor costs had not been collected and that this might account for some of the differences.

About one-half of the advance in ingredient cost of bread was laid to the 30 cent a bushel processing tax on wheat, and the report showed the spread between the price the farmer receives for a bushel of wheat and the price the consumer pays for the 62 loaves of bread from that bushel was two cents less on Aug. 2 than on June 15.

The Aug. 2 spread was estimated at $3.85, including the 30 cent processing tax.

CONVENTION OF NEGRO MEDICAL MEN OPENS HERE

A new era has dawned for the Negroes in this country in the practice of medicine and in hospitalization and care, it was declared yesterday by Dr. G. Hamilton-Francis, president of the National Medical association, composed of Negro doctors, which opened the first of its group sessions in convention at the Willard school, East 49th street and St. Lawrence avenue. Dr. Hamilton-Francis, who is chief of the medical division of the Norfolk community hospital at Norfolk, Va., called attention to the strides made among the Negroes in the last decade in the medical field.

Negro physicians, dentists, and pharmacists are increasing in number, he said, and new hospitals operated wholly by Negro doctors and nurses for Negro patients have been established.

Up to and including Friday the association will hold a number of symposiums with medical problems the subjects of the discussions. Approximately 500 physicians, dentists, and pharmacists are attending the convention.

DR. STARR, U. OF C. ANTHROPOLOGY AUTHORITY, DIES

Dr. Frederick Starr, famous retired University of Chicago anthropologist, died on Sunday in Tokio, Japan, friends here learned yesterday. He developed pneumonia early last week while on a trip to Manchuria. Friends hurried him back to Tokio and to St. Luke's hospital there, where he passed away. Dr. Starr was 74 years old and had made his home in Seattle since his retirement here in 1923.

Tokio newspapers this morning gave considerable space to the story of Dr. Starr's death, mourning him as one of Japan's best American friends. The papers pointed out that Dr. Starr loved Japan so much he often warned the people not to become too Americanized.

Defender of Japanese.

Prof. Starr was a staunch friend of Japan in many ways and as recently as last year, on his last visit to the University of Chicago, he defended her invasion of Manchuria. He visited Japan frequently, this last journey being his fifteenth. While in Japan he generally mingled with the ordinary people and always wore a kimono. To the mass of the people he was known as Ofudahakase, or "Professor of Temple Talismen," because of his hobby of collecting talismen.

Coming from New York, Dr. Starr joined the University of Chicago in 1892, the year it was opened, and served continuously for thirty-one years. Friends here yesterday described him as having probably been the Midway's most popular lecturer. The esteem of students and alumni—among them Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes and Judge Walter Steffen—was expressed on his retirement when they presented him with a purse to build a home in Seattle, the location being chosen as a convenience for his trips to the orient.

Friend of Minority Groups.

"Prof. Starr had an unusual talent for giving his students vivid pictures of how other people live," said Dr. Fay Cooper Cole, present head of the Midway anthropology department, yesterday. Clarence Darrow, long his friend, similarly described him, adding that Dr. Starr was a friend of minority groups everywhere.

Dr. Starr specialized in studying the Japanese, American Indians, Mexicans, and Belgian Congo Negroes. In 1904 he visited the Congo and two years later published a book on his findings which helped to improve conditions there. In a lecture he asserted certain conditions in the Congo justified cannibalism.

Decorated for Achievements.

Dr. Starr wrote fifteen volumes on anthropology, some of them now used in classrooms. Some of these are "In Indian Mexico," "Japanese Proverbs," and "The Truth About the Congo." For his exceptional work in anthropology he was decorated by Italy, France, Holland, Japan, and Liberia.

Surviving Dr. Starr is a sister, Miss Lucy Starr of Seattle. He was unmarried. No word has been received as to his funeral.

COURTNEY WILL LEAVE TODAY ON TRIP TO IRELAND

State's Attorney Courtney, who will depart from Chicago this afternoon for a voyage to Ireland with his parents, will spend Wednesday in New York conferring with Prof. Raymond Moley, head of the federal agencies fighting crime. The prosecutor revealed yesterday that he had been requested to consult Prof. Moley.

Mr. Courtney will sail on the steamer Manhattan of the United States lines on Thursday. He will be accompanied by his father, James R. Courtney, who was born in Tralee, Ireland, and his mother. The elder Courtney is a retired policeman. They will board the Broadway limited of the Pennsylvania lines at the Englewood station shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The prosecutor said he is making the trip on the recommendation of his physician to cure a digestive ailment caused by nervous strain of his work. First Assistant State's Attorney Grover C. Niemeyer will be in charge of the prosecutor's office for the next three weeks.

Speedy New Air Service to Texas Starts Today

The inauguration of high speed schedules on the Chicago-Texas division of United Air Lines this morning marks the complete re-equipment of that system with the new Boeing transport planes, which carry ten passengers, two pilots, a stewardess and a cargo of baggage, mail and express at 180 miles an hour, W. A. Patterson, vice president of the system, said yesterday. The new service to the southwest will start at 10 a. m. at the airport, when a brief ceremony will be conducted by George Foster, chairman of the aviation committee of the Association of Commerce.

Retail druggists, through the National Association of Retail Druggists, have submitted a code, terms of which were disclosed by the NRA today. The druggists' code proposes a 56 hour week for employés, exempting registered pharmacists and executives. Although no statement of the NRA policy on this code was made, it was learned it is being held up because of the long working week proposed.

The druggists' code also proposes in the code that no druggist shall be permitted to sell any goods at less than the cost price, with a minimum of 5 per cent added for profit. It is also proposed to permit manufacturers to fix resale prices for their products, and to forbid any druggists from selling below the quoted prices.

RADIO STATIONS URGED TO HELP ENFORCE CODES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—The federal radio commission announced today that it is "the patriotic, if not the bounden and legal duty of all licensees of radio broadcasting stations to deny their facilities to advertisers who are disposed to defy, ignore, or modify the codes established by the NRA."

Commissioner Harold A. Lafount, admitting the commission has no right of censorship, declared, however, that it did have the right to take into consideration the kind of programs broadcast when the licensees apply for renewal.

908 MORE LOCAL EMPLOYERS SIGN RECOVERY CODE

Chicago Workers Under Plan Total 601,004.

Acceptances of President Roosevelt's recovery code were sent in by 908 more Chicago employers yesterday, making a total of 17,425 Chicago employers, with a total of 601,004 employés, aligned with the President's reëmployment campaign. The concerns which accepted the code yesterday and were posted in the United States courthouse employ 11,780 persons.

F. L. Roberts, district manager for the department of commerce, announced that 5,186 pledges were received yesterday from employers in Illinois, Iowa, and Wisconsin, making a total of 126,376 to date. The pledges received yesterday covered 35,824 employés, bringing the total number of employés involved to 1,063,172.

Employers Crowd Office.

The district office was crowded all day with employers who were seeking information on exemptions to various codes as to hours and wages. Mr. Roberts said it was the largest volume of inquiries received to date. He said that the codes are being interpreted as rapidly and clearly as possible in order that they may be placed into effect universally without delay.

Harrison P. Shedd, vice president of Marshall Field & Co., wholesale, yesterday reported an increase in the number of employés in various Field mills amounting to 70 per cent over this date last year. He attributed the increase to the cotton textile code and to increased business.

George A. Ranney, vice chairman of the Commonwealth Edison company, the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, and the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, announced that those three companies serving Chicago and adjacent territory are in full sympathy with the President's reëmployment program and and are prepared to sign the codes submitted by the Edison Electric institute and the American Gas association.

He said that the signing of the codes would add to the operating expenses of the companies. Adjustments of hours for employés are being studied at present, he said. He added that the codes were being executed with the knowledge of the Illinois commerce commission.

Fight Unfair Competition.

The board of directors of the Chicago Better Business bureau at its meeting in the Palmer house yesterday voted unanimously to support those sections of the retail code concerning unfair competition by means of advertising and selling.

Bruce MacLeish, president of the organization, will attend the hearings on the retail code scheduled to start on Aug. 22 before the recovery administration, accompanied by Kenneth Barnard, manager of the bureau, as representatives of the bureaus throughout the country. They will present the bureaus' full indorsement of the fair practices provisions of the code.

Codes were being worked out by numerous groups meeting yesterday. At a meeting of the National Mustard Grinders' association at Hotel Sherman a code was being worked out following closely that adopted by other branches of the bottled food industries. The code would provide a 40 hour week, with minimum wage scales of 40 cents an hour for men and 30 cents for women in the north, and 35 cents for men and 25 cents for women in the south.

Two hundred hotel men met at the Palmer house to draft a code. Thomas D. Green of New York, president of the American Hotel association, said that a "modification" of the blanket code was to be sought. The code committee is understood to have had its first draft rejected.

More Code Meetings Today.

Members of the National Table Pad Manufacturers' association met at the Drake hotel to approve a code providing for a forty hour week and $15 a week minimum pay. It will affect 5,000 employés.

Manufacturers of equipment and minerals used to soften water yesterday drafted a code at a meeting at the Stevens hotel, which is to be adopted today. K. Slidell of Madison, Wis., acted as secretary of the meeting. Members of the National Typewriter and Office Machine Dealers' association yesterday received copies of a code calling for a thirty-five hour week and a minimum wage of forty cents an hour at a meeting at the Congress hotel. Action on the code is expected tomorrow after a discussion today.

17,000 Welsh Coal Miners Strike; 6,000 More to Join

SWANSEA, Wales, Aug. 14.—(AP)—About 17,000 anthracite miners were idle today because of their employers' failure to settle claims respecting a seniority rule and the reported refusal of operators to pay minimum wages in certain collieries. The strikers will be joined by 6,000 more tomorrow and Wednesday.

CLOTHING SHOPS WARNED TO AVOID PROFITEERING

Legitimate Rises Enough, Convention Told.

Retailers were warned yesterday to avoid profiteering on sales under the guise of industrial recovery increases in the cost of production. Both the public and the NRA administration can be expected to react quickly and vigorously to such a movement. According to B. J. Cahn, chairman of the board of B. Kuppenheimer & Co., who delivered the warning to the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers in convention at the Hotel Sherman.

The consumer will have to pay approximately $10 more for his suit of clothes by the first of next month because of legitimate increases in the cost of production under the NRA, Mr. Cahn said. The probable increase will come from an addition of about $5 to the manufacturer's costs and from an addition of another $5 to the retailer's costs, if the tentative codes for the industry are placed into effect.

Roper Explains Effect of Act.

In a message that was read to the retailers, Daniel C. Roper, secretary of commerce, said that the national recovery act is in no sense a "hobble" on industry or trade.

Prof. Paul C. Douglas, University of Chicago economist, told the retailers that the industrial recovery program constitutes the "last chance" for American business. He urged the retailers to coöperate with the industrial recovery administration in the spirit as well as the wording of the codes. Prof. Douglas is an official advisor of the NRA administration.

2,000 See New Men's Styles.

The two thousand delegates to the retailers' convention were as interested in the new styles for men as the business and code discussions. They visited the hundred rooms in the Hotel Sherman where the leading stylists of the nation were displaying the new fashions for men. They found a variety of bold colors and swagger cuts, rough textures and other new trends.

Colored shirts were much in evidence. Overcoats are of the wrap-around style, with buttons or button holes, held together with a belt. Some suits are being shown in the new elastic cloth which springs back into shape after muscular movements of the body.

U. S. Attorney Reports 20 Firms as NRA Violators

Denver, Colo., Aug. 14.—(AP)—Names of twenty firms charged with violating the recovery code were sent today to Washington by Thomas J. Morrissey, United States district attorney. Morrissey said the firms failed to reduce hours or raise wages, or both, after signing the recovery code.

Clash with Mrs. Rumsey Starts Dispute.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Criticizing the national recovery administration for not adequately protecting the rights of the consuming public, Prof. William F. Ogburn of the University of Chicago today offered his resignation as a member of the administration's consumers' advisory board.

The professor, recognized as one of the leading authorities on retail price conditions, had disputed the methods of Mrs. Mary Rumsey, wealthy society woman and chairman of the consumers' board.

Mrs. Rumsey, Ogburn Clash.

Mrs. Rumsey, whose expressed idea of protecting consumers seems to have been from the point of view of giving more and higher wages to employés rather than from a consideration of price levels to the consuming public, retired from the fray in a nervous collapse. She brought pressure upon Secretary of Commerce Roper to offer a different appointment to Prof. Ogburn, hoping thus to bring his removal from the consumers' board. Mrs. Rumsey, daughter of the late E. H. Harriman, was a heavy contributor to the Roosevelt campaign fund.

Hugh S. Johnson seemed to be siding with Mrs. Rumsey in the matter, so Prof. Ogburn, after waiting hours to see the NRA administrator, sent in his letter of resignation, spurning the appointment to a statistical board as offered by Secretary Roper.

Leaves Seven Suggestions.

The professor made seven recommendations for better protecting the consumers' interests in scanning the industrial codes. They were:

1. Safety for the consumer in price determination.
2. Adequate indexes of prices and purchasing power.
3. Codes should have more satisfactory administrative provisions.
4. More adequate organization to analyze codes and reports from the consumers' standpoint.
5. Provision for fixing standards of quality.
6. Equipment to handle complaints of profiteering.
7. Better consumers' organizations.

Mrs. Johnson Appointed.

One of Prof. Ogburn's complaints was interpreted as opposing the appointment by Mrs. Rumsey of Mrs. Hugh S. Johnson, wife of the administrator, as head of a group to receive complaints from consumers.

"During my absence," he wrote, "and without my knowledge, the complaints of the consumers were relegated to a subdivision of the consumers' advisory board, housed in a private home, and assigned to a group inadequately equipped to learn the facts of costs and prices, which are the topics of most complaint."

There was also a report that Mrs. Rumsey expects to enlist Long Island society girls to sort and reply to the consumers' complaints.

Mr. Johnson's only comment on Prof. Ogburn's resignation was, "It's all right with me."

YOUTH IS GIVEN 10 TO 15 YEARS FOR KILLING MOTHER

Flint, Mich., Aug. 14.—(AP)—Balfe MacDonald, 17 year old slayer of his wealthy mother, Mrs. Grace MacDonald, late today pleaded guilty in Circuit court to a manslaughter charge and was sentenced to serve from 10 to 15 years in the state prison at Jackson.

In accepting a plea to manslaughter instead of murder, the original charge, Judge James S. Parker said he was convinced from a study of the case records that the young prisoner killed his mother in a fit of anger after a quarrel. Mrs. MacDonald was beaten to death with a book end on May 27.

NINE INVESTMENT CONCERNS NAMED IN WARRANT SUIT

Halsey, Stuart & Co. and eight other investment concerns were named defendants yesterday in a suit for an accounting that grew out of the sale in 1929 of $40,725,000 worth of tax anticipation warrants by the board of education. The bill charged that the transaction was illegal and that the investment syndicate which marketed the warrants owes the school board $2,224,733.

Filed in the Circuit court on behalf of Louis Herbert, a taxpayer, the bill alleged that the syndicate not only collected the 6 per cent interest on the warrants but sold a portion of them before paying for them in cash to the board of education, as the law provides.

"By means of said unlawful agreement and schedule of payments, as a subterfuge," the bill read, "the syndicate obtained possession, control, visible ownership, and use of the warrants before payment of the purchase price thereof in an average amount of $19,411,348 for the space of a year."

U. S. LOANS SAVE FORECLOSURE ON HOMES OF 3,000

Applications of 75,000 Others Being Sifted.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Approximately 3,000 home owners already have been saved from foreclosures by the two months' old Home Owners' Loan corporation, the central headquarters announced today. Another 13,300 homes are now in the process of being protected for their owners, according to the announcement, which was based on a nation-wide survey of the corporation's activities.

About 75,000 formal applications have been filed with regional offices by home owners seeking help, the survey showed. The corporation, which has lending power of 2 billion 200 million dollars, functions in the main by persuading mortgage holders to trade their distress mortgages for bonds of the corporation.

3,000 Apply in Illinois.

The report of the corporation covered its work in 37 states and the District of Columbia. In the remaining states offices still are in the process of being set up and extension of aid has not yet started.

Illinois was high in the list of states, ranking in the first ten on the basis of applications received. The state manager reported 3,000 formal applications filed and another 75,000 requests for application blanks recorded.

"Have taken steps to abate numerous foreclosure suits and to stay execution of eviction writs," the Illinois manager, William G. Donne of Chicago, reported to headquarters. "Will address judges and courts of record Monday re plan to abate foreclosure proceedings upon proof that application is being made in good faith for loan until application is acted upon.

Courts Are Coöperating.

"Courts have shown a fine spirit of coöperation. Banks and trust companies indicate they will accept bonds in exchange for mortgage indebtedness wherever possible. Individual mortgagees being educated to proposed plan. Have received numerous acceptances to date. About 75 per cent of applications come within eligibility."

Throughout the country as a whole courts are showing a willingness to hold up foreclosures and evictions pending action by the corporation, the survey revealed. In addition mortgage holders who were at first cool to the exchange of mortgages for bonds are becoming more friendly to the idea, according to the report.

Many home owners are finding their mortgages ineligible under the act. State managers' reports on the eligibility of applications ranged from 85 to 25 per cent.

GOV. HORNER SELECTS DR. A. H. R. ATWOOD AS STATE JOB PROMOTER

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Gov. Horner today named Dr. A. H. R. Atwood of Palatine assistant director of the state department of labor to coöperate with the United States employment service in coördinating work of the state public employment offices with the national employment system.

The appointment was made under provisions of a joint resolution adopted by the legislature last June.

Illinois has been alloted $69,954 of federal funds this year in promotion of employment, the payment being on a matching basis. The state will qualify for its full quota of federal funds since its annual expenditures in promotion of employment exceed the federal allotment.

CONTRACTORS IN WISCONSIN SIGN NEW WAGE SCALE

Madison, Wis., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—At the request of Gov. A. G. Schmedeman, representative contractors of Wisconsin late today adopted a resolution approving a minimum wage schedule formulated by the state industrial commission which they agree to apply to all public and private construction projects.

Less than a half dozen of thirty-four contractors who attended the meeting dissented. The 30 hour week is favored.

The lowest wage to be paid under the schedule is 45 cents to common labor in the smaller towns. The scale ranges upward to $1.10 per hour in the larger cities. Employés under this group are bricklayers, plasterers, marble setters, stone and other masons.

Terraplane owners all over America have compared Terraplane expense with that of every other car on the road.

Their sworn affidavits (18 to 26 miles per gallon for the Six, 15 to 18 miles per gallon for the Eight, no oil-additions between changes, 20 to 30 thousand miles per set of tires, 1/16 to 1/14 cent per mile for service) would convince any Supreme Court that the Terraplane was the best automobile-friend any pocketbook ever found.

If you need a jury, too, the next twelve Terraplane owners you meet will give a unanimous verdict.

CRIME AND THE COURTS.

The Criminal courts are operating at present perhaps more efficiently than ever in the history of the courts. It is due to the fact that the judges are on the job. Those seeking favors seem to be keeping away from the courts. In other words, things are too hot at the present.

There is danger, nevertheless, that the campaign will be of short duration unless we can keep at least 10 judges on the job throughout the month. Two of the judges quit Friday evening. Judge David, one of them, was one of the best we had. It was necessary for him to go to work in the so-called emergency branch of the civil courts. Judge Joseph Sabath left for the same reason. Judge Daniel P. Trude, another good man, is planning on leaving after next week. He, too, has civil court duties to perform. This should not encourage other withdrawals from what is, at this time at least, the most important court in the state.

Cook county has 52 judges. If just a few of them will sacrifice two or three weeks each it will keep the court going at top speed during the rest of the month. Most judges take from six weeks to two months' vacation at least. The civil courts do not open until Sept. 18 for the fall term. The Criminal courts open on Sept. 4. Thus, if some of the vacationists will volunteer to fill in at the Criminal court for the rest of August they will still have two full weeks more of vacation period before going to work for the next year.

The Appellate court has nine good judges. Among them Kickham Scanlan, one of our best Criminal court judges; Judge Francis Wilson, and others. The only one from this branch who volunteered for Criminal court service was Judge Ross C. Hall. He is doing fine work.

Another feature of the situation is that the murder cases have hardly been touched in the present campaign. These cases have been set for trial beginning this week. Murder cases, of course, take longer than the ordinary robbery or burglary case. This means that some of the judges now on duty will be tied up for a week at a time on one murder case trial.

This, of course, will cause a congestion again unless sufficient judges are on the job to keep the ball rolling with the ordinary run of cases. As a matter of fact, more than ten judges should be sitting while the murder cases are being tried. If the calendar is once cleaned up, as it will be if the judges continue to work as they have in the last 10 days, then there will be no excuse for cases in the future to drag along many months before they are tried.

However, one of the main faults with the Criminal court is that the court has never been properly manned. During the year six or seven judges work in the court. This is not enough to keep up with the work when the grand jury turns out indictments at the rate of at least 350 per month. When a long case is tried, such as the recent Rooney case, it takes a judge out of routine work for weeks at a time. Then the calendars clog up and the next thing happens is that the judges compromise on sentences for pleas of guilty or jury trial waivers. Cases can be promptly tried and the punishments fixed by statute imposed, as has been demonstrated in the last ten days, even though jury trials are demanded by defendants, if enough judges are at work.

Another demoralizing feature of the court is the fact that all new judges are promptly assigned to that work. Usually as soon as a judge is elected he is shipped to the Criminal court. In most cases the judge, as a lawyer, has never had foot in the Criminal court and therefore has no idea of the many tricks of specialist criminal lawyers. In addition he knows no criminal law because he has never had occasion to practice it. The smart lawyers can put over tactics on a new judge because the judge, realizing his lack of knowledge, usually will give the defendant the benefit of his legal doubts for fear of committing reversible error.

Crime is the major problem of government in this community. Nothing should take precedence of measures required to make procedure against it efficient.

THE PLAGUE OF PLENTY.

Sigrid Schultz reports from Germany to THE TRIBUNE that a big harvest cheers the winter outlook. There have been excellent crops of rye, wheat, and barley, and the potato and sugar beet crops are satisfactory. Without adequate machinery and even without enough horses and oxen the men and women of the farms have made the land self-sustaining and the prediction is that Germany will not be compelled to import grain this year.

The blessing of big crops is one the United States cannot afford to accept. Once upon a time a big harvest was a cause of the national festival of Thanksgiving and was a certificate of reelection for the Republican party. Nature was a Republican handmaiden. The land bore fruit and the Republican party sat at Washington. Now a statesman who heard of bumper crops would despair of the republic and his party, if it were in office. Nature when bountiful is the enemy within the gates. In conspiracy with rich lands she pours intolerable disasters of plenty upon people who must be subsidized to defend their homes against her and not work the fields with her.

A destroyed crop rates a bounty, an unplowed field a rental. The patriotic farmer will sit on his porch and watch the shag bark hickory growing in his corn field. His pastures will be empty and so his corn crib. The patriotic cotton planter will raise boll weevils and elsewhere the appearance of the chinch bug will be greeted as just so much money in the bank.

CUBA FREE AGAIN.

Cuba again makes a fresh start, at least this may be the renewed hope, in the perplexing business of self-government. Expectations need not be too sanguine nor need they be despairing. Personal ambition has a necessary place in any political system, and if men are not to be conscripted for public service from top to bottom, government must invite politically ambitious people to try their hand. In stable government these ambitions must be moderated by national considerations and there must be limits to the methods adopted and tolerated.

In many social orders, the Cuban included, the restraints on the personal ambition are imperfect. In the newer democratic experiments this is explainable and has apparent cause. Democracy is not put on like a change of clothes. The moderation it requires and the restraints it must have come from centuries of tradition and experience. They have become innate and instinctive.

The imperfect Cuban democracy came from violent experience in misrule imposed by the foreign master. It was expecting too much to hope that mixed races would perform smoothly in new privileges of theoretical liberty. There were bound to be convulsions and Cuba is now passing through another of them.

Many of the episodes attending the overthrow of Machado are ominous, but the palliation, such as it is, must be found in the fact that the people who revenged themselves by murder in their hours of opportunity had been terribly imposed upon by the ruffians suddenly exposed to the mercy of the mobs. It was lynch law justice, but critics in more tranquil countries will make allowance for the great provocations. It would have been a very stable country, indeed, which would have permitted law to deal with the assassins of Machado's secret police at a moment when the families and friends of the victims got the upper hand. It was only a few days before that many people had been shot down on the streets.

Conservative opinion in the United States long suspended judgment as to Machado. It is difficult to appraise the problems from a distance of a government dealing with a population in distress and threatened with destructive disorders if unruly elements get out of hand. For several years Machado was given the benefit of doubts. To radical American opinion he was a bloody tyrant, and events in the last year, particularly in the last few months, began to justify that opinion. There could be small doubt of it when the support of his government was intrusted to such killers and criminals as composed the secret police. Control by terrorism, outrage and assassination made revolution inevitable.

Thus far the United States has succeeded in arousing a minimum of suspicion regarding its own conduct and a minimum of opposition to its purpose. That this should be the case is highly desirable. It is realized that economic improvement is necessary to Cuban tranquillity. It is not plain how this can be brought about, but the American government is giving assurance of its good will. It may be assumed that quiet will be restored in the island and that the new government will be given the opportunity to try its hand in a truce of factions. A guaranty of success cannot be written, but out of many tribulations the gradual evolution of the democratic form may be had in Cuban government. It isn't going to be by a sudden miracle, but it need not be judged impossible.

Editorial of the Day

WITH AN EAR TO THE GROUND.

[Rockford Register-Republic.]

Politicians with an eye on the next congressional elections will be watching with more than usual interest the conventions of three large veterans' organizations scheduled for August and October. Two of them—the United Spanish War Veterans at Los Angeles and the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Milwaukee—are being held this month. The American Legion meeting is slated for early October in Chicago.

Three major questions to be discussed by the veterans also concern the national political system because of legislative requests which may follow any formal action taken by the conventions in recommending certain changes and additions in veterans' measures.

These are disposition of the adjusted service certificate (bonus) problem, broadening of relief for men whose disabilities resulted from the war, and creation of a plan to provide care for those whose troubles are not definitely service connected.

The first of the nationally recognized service organizations to meet was the Disabled American Veterans' association, which recently spent an entire week deliberating its future course in regard to these general policies. Finally it took the position that there should be no consideration of cashing the bonus unless there is a liberalization of benefits to men whose disabilities are directly traceable to their war service. On the matter of nonservice connected disabilities the organization remained silent. Its keystone, however, is "for the restoration of benefits to the service connected cases destroyed by recent legislation." This means it will concentrate upon that plan.

What the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Legion will do cannot be accurately forecast, but it is known that there are strong elements in both these organizations which favor a liberal government policy both as to the bonus and as to care of nonservice connected cases of disability. All are in complete agreement, of course, that full and adequate provision must be made for the war disabled.

Reports that President Roosevelt will go to Chicago to address the American Legion, and that his declaration on veterans' affairs is expected to wield considerable influence in determining the organization's recommendations, recalls a somewhat similar trip made by President Hoover to Detroit several years ago to address another Legion convention. As a result the national organization declared against cash payment of the bonus at that time, but the following year reversed itself and joined with the Veterans of Foreign Wars in demanding immediate payment.

Whatever principles may be enunciated by the three major meetings this summer and fall, it appears inevitable that one of the matters which will receive the most serious congressional consideration at the January session will be veterans' legislation. Because of the 1934 elections congress is expected to offer a receptive ear to such proposals as the various large groups of ex-service men may make.

INVITATION.

If you'll come to my house by the side of the road
Where the wind from the south floating lazily by Brings the low humming drone of the bee,
Here I'll serve you a meal in the cool evening breeze
While round us the world seems at rest,
And the shadows like lace o'er the table are traced
By the sun sinking low in the west.
Such a meal as I'd serve for a critic like you,
Young spring chicken, fried just golden brown.
From the garden I'd bring ears of corn, silky sweet,
Beans, tomatoes—have you these in town?
And the biscuits like puffs, with strawberry preserves,
And the last but to you not the least,
I would bring to you cherries 'twixt two flaky crusts
Dripping rubylike juice at your feast.
Ah, yes, if you'll come to my house by the road
While the rest of the world passes by
I will bake you a wonderful crisp flaky brown
Luscious sugary red cherry pie.

THE WAKE-LINE IS SURPRISED BY THE change in tenor of communications received by this column, perhaps a pretty fair cross-current of public opinion, concerning NRA and the codes. PUBLIC MEN IN THIS COUNTRY MAY REgard themselves as fortunate in the light of what is happening in Cuba. There President Machado became a national hero, elected by a majority such as this country once gave Herbert Hoover. In a period of national depression his administration came into disfavor as did the Republican administration in this country. He fled and those of his aids who could escape did likewise. Many of the others were killed by mob violence. Herbert Hoover is in comfortable retirement waiting for the Democrats to make mistakes. American temperament expresses itself at the polls. That's disturbing enough to business and civic life without the mob spirit.

WHAT WE SEE.

Harve: Recently a Texas car with a Negro chauffeur stood for a week in the vicinity of one entrance to A Century of Progress. The chauffeur slept in the car and ate from paper bags. At night he partially disrobed and slept with his feet sticking out the open door. Who said it was expensive to bring a chauffeur to the Fair? S. P. D.

THIS PINCH HITTER FOR R. H. L. WANdered forth Sunday to watch the first East vs. West polo match, won by the West, 15 goals to 11. Those who know more about its finer points than we do say it was the best polo ever played in Chicago territory. We readily accept their word for it. It certainly was more thrilling than that between Old Aiken and the San Paulas of Argentina two years ago. If R. H. L. wasn't up in Canada we'd be there for the second game tomorrow. Attendance presages that Chicago will have more tourneys of this character.

NOT ONE OF GUY BUSH'S STATIONS.

OPEN SEASON FOR PELLAGRA.

PELLAGRA can be prevented by a diet of the right kind, provided it is persistently used, and by abstaining from alcoholic beverages. Those who persist in drinking moonshine, bootleg liquor, and such will continue to pay tribute to pellagra regardless of how much information piles up. Those who because of lack of resources or because of peculiarities of taste continue to live on a diet composed largely of sweets and starches, and quite deficient in lean meats, chicken, eggs, and other pellagra preventing foods will likewise continue to pay tribute to this disease.

Pellagra is curable as well as preventable. The cure does not consist in taking any kind of medicine. There is no hope for the poor person who has pellagra because of poverty and who further impoverishes himself by wasting his money on pellagra cures and specifics. Hanging should be the mildest punishment allowed by law for a man convicted of the crime of selling a poor man bottles of pellagra "cures."

The cure of the disease consists in eating continuously of a diet rich in lean meats, eggs, liver, salmon, yeast, whole grain in cereals and breads, and vegetables. A diet of this kind, if persisted in, will cure almost any case of pellagra except those who have burned out their digestive organs by prolonged worshiping at the shrine of Bacchus.

While the above statement is correct, there is one flaw in it. Pellagrins are apt to have poor and perverted appetites. Furthermore, they are liable to be low in spirits and many of them are mentally disturbed. They are very prone to lack the spiritual drive required to make them eat foods for which they have no taste. Even this shortcoming can be remedied. Until they have got to the level where they will and can eat the foods that cure their disease, liver extract can be given by injection into the muscles.

Drs. P. L. Ramsdall and W. M. Magness have used this method in curing more than twenty of the most hopeless advanced cases in a Dallas hospital. In many of these people the disease had advanced so far that the mind was deranged. None of them could or would eat the foods necessary to cure them. Liver extract injections deep into the muscles were made daily until the patients had improved enough to take the foods they needed. As soon as normal tastes and appetites were established it was possible to discontinue the injections, but liver was made a part of the diet.

CYSTITIS.

M. A. G. writes: 1: Is cystitis curable?

2. What causes it?

3. Is there a special diet for overcoming this ailment?

4. Would infra lamp rays be beneficial?

REPLY.

1. Yes. It does not follow that a certain case will get well.

2. Infection, as a rule. Bladder stone may be a cause or an effect. Venereal infection is the most frequent cause, although other infections are not rare.

3. Diet is of secondary importance in most cases. A milk-vegetarian-fruit diet is best. In colon infection a fat-protein-bread-and-cereal diet is advocated by many.

4. It may help somewhat. Is it possible to get at and treat the basic cause?

LOW HANGING BRANCHES.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—[Friend of the People.]—Isn't there some ordinance requiring people to cut low hanging branches from trees? If so, I would greatly appreciate your calling to the attention of the proper person the trees on the property located at 77th street and Cregier avenue. E. M.

There are three live 8 inch locusts on this corner, the tips of the branches of which overhang the walk. The owner has agreed to have these lower branches trimmed.

ASSIGNMENT OF PROPERTY.

Olivet, Mich., Aug. 6.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Does the law permit a man to sign away all the income from his property and leave nothing for his wife and himself to live on? The money or income was signed away as a gift. Their property is covered with mortgages and they are destitute. What redress in law has the wife? Will the man's signature in this case stand?

THAT RUSSIAN GOLD MINE

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 15, 1917.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Pope Benedict's peace proposals were not unexpected to the United States nor to any of the entente allies. The possibility of a peace move was discussed with British Foreign Minister Balfour and Vice Premier Viviani when the British and French official missions were in Washington, and it was agreed that all the allies, including the United States, should refuse to discuss peace terms while Germany occupied the territories she had taken by force and thereby avoid what the allied statesmen considered a German trap. Now the pontiff's proposal presents the question in a somewhat different light, difficult perhaps to meet, because it offers to a war weary world a hope for peace. Germany and her allies are expected promptly to accept the pope's proposals. American officials acknowledge that the Vatican's proffer is of a nature calling for a reply. Diplomats of the entente circle voice nothing but a unanimous opinion that it will be rejected.

WAR SUMMARY.—London reports the improvement of positions by the British on the right bank of the River Steenbeke, northeast of Ypres. Berlin reports heavy artillery firing preparatory to a strong attack by the allies. Paris reports the French have penetrated German lines in two places near Reims. Berlin anticipates a heavy attack in the Verdun sector. Petrograd reports a check of the Germans in Fokshani, in Rumania, while in western Moldavia the Rumanians successfully continued their counter offensive.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Attorney General Edward J. Brundage and the St. Clair county officials yesterday aimed a smashing blow at the alleged ringleaders and participants in the East St. Louis race riots. The jury, after five weeks of investigation, returned indictments against 105 persons—twenty-three Negroes and eighty-two whites—at Belleville. Thirty-three men are indicted for murder. Among those whom the state will ask be hanged are three police officers of East St. Louis.

A CODE AT WORK.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—I have read some interesting articles about the bosses who have signed the NRA program and then tried to fool their employés in the way they follow out their adoption of the code. I wonder if employers such as these expect to gain the respect and admiration of their employés.

Anyway, I'd like to say three rahs for my employers, who are going along gallantly with President Roosevelt, although they haven't any more than the average concern of today who have come through the last year's struggle.

Our factory men were working on the forty hour week. Their pay was a very good one for the work they were doing. However, my employer saw to it that their weekly wage, which was figured on the forty-four hour week, was divided by forty hours, and that their hourly rate was increased to the extent that they would be receiving the same pay for forty hours as they had been receiving for the forty-four.

May I say in closing that I work for one of the most prominent cold water paint manufacturers in Chicago and elsewhere, and I think their action deserves a vote of approval and commendation from their employés, especially now that the paint season is just about over? B. M. O.

LOWER THAN A WORM.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—One of your readers asks if any good reason can be advanced for the discontinuance of the indecent shows at the Fair. In my opinion, the flood of nauseating publicity to which the shows have given rise would itself be a more than sufficient reason for the summary closing of the concessions concerned. DEGOUTES.

A PURSE RETURNED.

Marengo, Ill., Aug. 9.—At A Century of Progress last Saturday I reported to the lost and found booth that I lost my purse which contained $17. I really never expected to see it again and was more than surprised to get it back with nothing missing. Two other purses were turned in while I was waiting for mine.

NORMAN PISKIE.

NO BLUE EAGLE FOR UNCLE SAM.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—While the NRA emblems in store windows and public places are daily and encouragingly increasing, they are still conspicuously absent from the trucks of one of our largest employers, the United States postoffice.

The working hours of postal employés have been reduced since July 1, not to give more work, but to save money at their expense, their pay being docked proportionately to the reduction of their working schedules, and this reduction in pay is in addition to the 15 per cent cut of last April.

From which it appears that the concern which the national administration purports to have for the purchasing power of our people as a whole, in order to enable them to meet the proposed higher cost of living, does not include its own employés.

It seems to me that Mr. Farley and Gen. Johnson, both of Mr. Roosevelt's official family, should get together and set a much needed example of consistency and leadership to the many thousands of smaller employers throughout the country who are hesitating and wondering if the promoters of the NRA flare really mean what they say. J. C. M.

A COURTEOUS POLICEMAN.

La Grange, Ill., Aug. 8.—I understand that you are always wishing to hear of acts of courtesy extended by Chicago policemen, especially to out of town visitors. Last Saturday noon an auto from La Grange, on the way to a wedding at the Fourth Presbyterian church in Chicago, stalled at the corner of Lake street and Wacker drive.

When Jim Woods, the traffic officer stationed at this point, found out that the occupants of the car, which had stalled in heavy traffic in a very mean place, were on their way to a wedding, he took full charge of the stalled car, got a taxi and saw that the visitors to Chicago were hustled off to the wedding.

HEARS 474 TAX RECEIVERSHIP CASES IN A DAY

Jarecki Sets Two Records in Collection Drive.

TAX COLLECTIONS.

Real estate tax collections yesterday totaled $595,116. A total of $36,704,455 has been collected since enforcement of the Kerner-Skarda act began last April 28. The day's collection of real estate taxes and the uncollected taxes for the last four years follow:

	1928.	1929.
Aug. 14	$ 74,700	$ 125,703
Uncollected	18,318,795	48,134,731
	1930.	1931.
Aug. 14	233,899	160,814

The day's collection of 1931 personal property taxes included $6,787.

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday heard 474 tax receivership petitions and set new records in his tax collection campaign under the Kerner-Skarda act by appointing County Treasurer Joseph B. McDonough as receiver for 145 of properties to collect back taxes.

The properties for which receiverships were ordered on the motion of Assistant State's Attorney William T. Crilly are delinquent on taxes in excess of $500,000. Attorneys for other properties paid more than $300,000 to avoid receiverships.

The previous record for the number of receiverships ordered by the judge in one day was 120 made last Aug. 7. The greatest number of petitions heard in a single day prior to yesterday was 363 on Aug. 10.

BOHEMIANS WIN MUSIC FESTIVAL GROUP CONTEST

Ukrainian Chorus Takes Second Place.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Contests for appearances on the Chicagoland Music Festival program to be held in Soldiers' field next Saturday night have passed from soloists to group organizations. Male choruses met in the ballroom of the Drake hotel last night and at the end of the contest first place for the Chicago district was awarded to the Bohemian Workingmen's Singing society, Lyra. It numbers sixty-seven members, and its conductor is Frank Kubina.

Second place was voted to the Ukrainian Cossack chorus of thirty directed by Samuel R. Czuba. It was entered by the Ukrainian-American Catholic Youth club. Lyra entered on its own behalf through its president, Anton Vanek.

Boys' Choruses Combined.

Among the other contestants were Our Lady of Mercy Male choir, an organization of men and boys directed by Emily Schneider and entered by Msgr. William F. Cahill, and two boys' choruses combined into a single organization, the American Boys' Commonwealth and the Deborah Boys' club. Both were directed by Max Siegel, and both were entered by the Young Men's Jewish charities.

Each chorus was called upon to sing two numbers, the first a required number, in this case W. E. Haesche's "Friendship," the second a composition chosen by the contestant. The number chosen by Lyra was a Bohemian work called "On the Field Path."

Winners Heard Over W-G-N.

The judges were Edgar Nelson, who afterwards led the assembled choruses in "America"; Marx E. Oberndorfer, and D. A. Clippinger. Judgment was passed on such points as tone, quality, precision, pitch, interpretation, and general musical fitness. At the close of the contest the winning organization repeated its two numbers in a broadcast over W-G-N.

Contests will continue throughout the week almost up to the hour of beginning the Chicagoland Music Festival program on Saturday night at Soldiers' field. That of tonight will be for women's choruses, of which there are a number of entries. The judges will be Rose Lutiger Gannon, Richard De Young and Harry S. Walsh, all well known Chicago musicians. W-G-N will again take part of the contest, from 7:15 to 7:30 o'clock.

The contest will begin at 7 o'clock, and the public is invited.

Daughter of A. B. Swift Is Fined for Speeding

Miss Narcissa Swift, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alden B. Swift of Lake Forest, appeared yesterday before Municipal Judge Harry H. Porter in Evanston and paid an $11 fine for speeding. Her $10 bond was ordered forfeited when she failed to appear at a previous hearing.

YOUNG ASTOR 21; HIS INHERITANCE IS CONJECTURE

A. G. Vanderbilt to Get Millions Sept. 22.

New York, Aug. 14.—[Special.]—John Jacob Astor became of legal age, 21, today and inherits a fortune, but how much nobody seems to know. Young Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt becomes 21 on Sept. 22 and will become possessor of $2,533,204 at once, and other sums later on.

A strong parallel appears between young Astor and young Vanderbilt. Their fathers perished in two of the greatest sea disasters on record.

Col. Astor went down on the Titanic April 15, 1912, while Vanderbilt died on the Lusitania May 7, 1915, when the Cunarder was torpedoed by a German submarine.

Born after Father's Death.

The net estate of Col. Astor as filed by the executors two years after his death was $87,218,751. Of this Vincent, half brother of young John, received about $63,000,000. John was a posthumous child born four months after the Titanic sinking and is not mentioned in the will. His share in the estate of his father is nowhere revealed.

It is further complicated by the actions of his mother, who was Madeline Talmadge Force, of Newport. She became the colonel's second wife when she was 18 to the disapproval of the Episcopacy of America, which sermonized on the "immorality" of a girl of tender years marrying a divorced man more than twice her age.

Fortune Tossed Away.

Subsequently she tossed away $5,000,000 and the palatial home at 840 5th avenue when, in June, 1916, she married William K. Dick. By the terms of the will the money and home reverted to Vincent if she remarried.

Recently she divorced Mr. Dick and her heart is now trembling, according to the Reno dispatches, for Enzo Fiermonte, an Italian pugilist, who found entree with the Astors when he was hired to give boxing instructions to John.

A slender lad, wiry, dark and athletic, John is shy, reserved, and well behaved. He was never caught in a speakeasy raid. No night life rounder would recognize him. He foregathers at the races.

CHICAGO MERCHANTS CROWD STATE OFFICE TO PAY SALES TAX

Chicago merchants crowded the offices of the Illinois department of finance at 30 North La Salle street yesterday to file their first returns under the state retailers' two per cent occupational tax, which went into effect July 1. The returns are for the month of July. The deadline for filing them is midnight tonight. In order to accommodate retailers the office was kept open to 10 p. m., and will remain open until midnight tonight.

More than eight thousand returns have been filed at the offices here and in Springfield, Joseph J. Rice, director of the department, said. Filings were being made at the rate of about 500 an hour yesterday. Mr. Rice said there is no evidence that evasion of the tax is being attempted to any appreciable extent.

"Forms must be filled out in full and sworn to," he said. "The forms may be obtained at this office, at the office of any county clerk, or from secretaries of business associations, and may be mailed in. The forms must be filed before midnight tonight. Forty field investigators have been assigned to the Chicago area to make an immediate report on merchants after the deadline passes."

Mr. Rice warned merchants against unauthorized persons representing themselves as agents of the state department of finance, some of whom have been reported to be soliciting tax collections. He said the department has no collectors in the field.

COL. J. P. M'ADAMS IS TRANSFERRED FROM I. N. G. POST

Col. John P. McAdams, senior instructor of the 33d division of the Illinois National Guard, was ordered transferred yesterday to the command of the 66th infantry, a light tank regiment, at Fort George G. Meade, Md. Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, commanding the Sixth corps area, was notified by the war department of the transfer, which is effective Sept. 30.

Enlisting as a private in the 4th Kentucky infantry in 1898, Col. McAdams received his commission as second lieutenant of infantry in 1901, and was made a captain just prior to the United States' entry into the world war. He reached the grade of colonel during the war.

BOSTON LAWYER DENIES GASSING STOCK TRADERS

New York, Aug. 14.—After pleading not guilty to two indictments in connection with the placing of tear gas bombs in the New York Stock Exchange on Aug. 4, Eugene S. Daniell Jr., Boston attorney, was remanded today to Tombs prison in default of $5,000 bail.

When the case was called Assistant District Attorney Morris H. Panger explained that Daniell was charged in one instance with violation of subdivision 7 of section 896 of the penal law, which provides a penalty for the possession of a noxious liquid gas bomb. He said he had been under a misapprehension as to the law and that he had found that the bill providing the penalty will not become effective until Sept. 1. He therefore recommended that the indictment be dismissed.

An attorney from the office of James D. Murray appeared and pleaded the defendant not guilty to the other two indictments, which charge malicious mischief as a felony and second degree assault. He asked for fifteen days postponement because Mr. Murray is out of the city on a vacation. Judge Allen granted him a week.

A woman who described herself as an aunt of Daniell, but declined to give her name, talked with him before the arraignment, and said afterward that she had brought him a message from his mother. Daniell previously had complained that no members of his family had communicated with him because they felt that he was "on the wrong track."

4 FINED IN LAKE COUNTY ON SLOT MACHINE CHARGE

Leo Mongoven, gang associate of George [Bugs] Moran, and three companions were fined $100 each yesterday in Lake county for possessing slot machines. Justice of the Peace Harry Hoyt of Waukegan fined Mongoven, who lives at Bluff lake, near Antioch; Morris Cohn of Fox Lake, and Alfred Archambault of Channel Lake. They and Mongoven were seized Aug. 4 in a raid on a barn on Mongoven's property, in which Sheriff Lester Tiffany and State's Attorney Charles E. Mason of Lake county seized 50 slot machines. The raid followed the arrest the same day in Libertyville of William Higgins, 2225 Waverly avenue, Waukegan, as he was riding on a truck carrying 88 more slot machines. Higgins was fined yesterday by Justice of the Peace Willis Oberholser of Libertyville.

MACHADO FAMILY FLEES CUBA WITH MOB AT HEELS

Narrow Escape of Wife and Daughters Bared.

Key West, Fla., Aug. 14.—(AP)—The family of Gerardo Machado, deposed president of Cuba, narrowly escaped a mob in a terrifying flight to the gunboat yacht Juan Bruno Zayas, which bore them here today, Dr. Baldomero Grau, Machado's son-in-law, revealed tonight.

"We were in a farmhouse at Batabano, where we thought we would be safe," Grau said. "We fled there in the dead of night and felt confident that none of the oppositionists knew where we were. At about 8 o'clock last night I received a telephone message—sharp, short, and terrifying:

"'This is a friend,' the voice said. 'Get out of Cuba quick; the oppositionists know where you are and a mob of them is on their way to the farmhouse to capture you and all the family.'

Flee with Mob at Heels.

"Most of our suitcases were unpacked, but we grabbed them, threw in clothing, and took only four trunks with us. Just as the last of us were pulling off in small boats to the yacht, I heard the noise of the approaching crowd. I though they would attempt to follow us, but evidently they did not find out where we had gone until it was too late."

Walking through a lane of National Guardsmen, Señora Machado, three daughters, three sons-in-law, four grandchildren, and a retinue of servants passed late today from the yacht to a private car attached to a Florida East Coast train, which departed north. There was no demonstration. A crowd of several hundred persons was kept far back from the car by guards.

The exiles looked more wearied than frightened. Sheriff Karl Thompson, who had been with refugees since their arrival in the harbor this morning, and who accompanied them to Miami, said all were exceedingly nervous, but that Dr. Grau was more so than any of the others.

Dr. Grau said the party would go to New York and probably would spend the summer at some resort on Long Island. He added they would sail for Paris in the autumn for an indefinite stay.

Machado "Through with Cuba."

NASSAU, Bahama Islands, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Declaring that he is "no longer a factor in Cuba's destiny," former President Gerardo Machado, who fled into exile when his army revolted, settled down here today "happy and contented."

The deposed chief executive, who came to Nassau in an airplane yesterday, said he believed "anything I might say would tend only to further complicate matters.

"I stand by my record," Machado asserted. "Most of it was good. Some was bad, perhaps. But I gave the people of Cuba many things they needed.

Says He Won't Interfere.

"I am willing to await developments and shall not try to interfere. Cuba would never, under my rule—and I do not believe under any other administration—repudiate its financial obligations.

"I hope the new order is successful in bringing Cuba back to its senses, for I love my country dearly. I realize the futility of my trying to do anything."

Thus did the abdicating Cuban leader resign himself to his exile. He said he knew "of no reason why I should leave here. I am happy and contented." He said he probably would remain indefinitely at Nassau, which is a British possession.

Bring Mysterious Baggage.

With Machado in exile here are Dr. Eugenio Molinet, his former secretary of agriculture; Dr. Jose Izquierdo, former Havana mayor and chief of the Havana central district; Octavio Averhoff, former secretary of finance, and Manuel Mierno, Machado's personal aid.

It was learned here that, while none of the party had a change of clothing aboard the plane when it landed here, there were several pieces of baggage. What was in the bags was not disclosed, but it was learned that an official of the Royal Bank of Canada here was summoned to the presence of Machado and his party shortly after their arrival.

Seeks Passage to Canada.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 14.—It was learned here today from headquarters of the Canadian National steamships that the deposed president of Cuba, Gerardo Machado, had endeavored to obtain passage on the line's steamer, Lady Rodney, scheduled to sail from Nassau on Aug. 26, but that the application had been denied as every berth had been taken. Machado apperently wants to come to Canada. Officials said Machado could travel as far as Bermuda on the Lady Rodney, but no farther owing to lack of sleeping accommodations. The next boat will not sail until two weeks later.

Ferrara Sees "Worse Times."

Richmond, Va., Aug. 14.—(AP)—Foreseeing an epoch of strife, which he said boded ill for Cuban happiness, Orestes Ferrara, exiled secretary of state of the Machado régime, tonight said his most sincere wish was that Cuba might emerge from her present condition without experiencing the woes he feared.

He said he did not have faith in the immediate realization of his hope. He expressed the belief that conditions in Cuba will "grow worse and worse" during the next six months.

Ferrara said he planned to slip unnoticed into New York later on. When, he would not say.

YOUNG CUBAN EXILES RAID N. Y. CONSULATE, WRECK MACHADO BUST

New York, Aug. 14.—[Special.]—The Cuban revolution came to New York today when a crowd of young exiles raided the Cuban consulate, threatened and assaulted the acting consul general, and hauled off to Harlem a marble bust and a portrait of Gerardo Machado, ousted president.

The group, led by members of the ABC secret society, shoved past detectives stationed outside the consulate offices, forced Acting Consul General Maria Del Pino to open his safe, and rifled it of the secret files of the Machado spy system in this country.

In Harlem, egged on by the cries of cameramen and stirred to a fine motion picture frenzy by the paint splotched features of the Machado bust, a crowd of about 500 Cubans, screaming imprecations against the Machado régime, smashed the bust to pieces and pocketed slivers of the splintered marble for souvenirs.

"That's what we want to do to Machado, and we're not going to stop until we get him," some of the leaders of the vicarious lynching party told newspaper men. "We'll follow him everywhere," they promised.

The raid on the consulate by a smaller group of exiles followed a visit to the offices at 17 Battery place earlier in the day. In the first visit about fifteen Cubans demanded the bust of the former president, which had been removed from its place of honor in the offices and stored in the subbasement of the building on Saturday when the Machado régime was overthrown. Mr. Del Pino told them he could not grant their request as the bust was not his property, but promised to wire to Havana for instructions.

"Later a larger group of about fifty Cubans returned to the offices. Again they demanded the bust, and in Spanish told Del Pino to open his safe and give them the secret files. The angry Cubans crowded around the official and some one struck him several times in the face.

U. S. WITHDRAWS DESTROYER FROM HAVANA HARBOR

American Envoy Reports Situation Clearing Up.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—The sending of three American destroyers to Cuba was reported by the state department today to have had the "moral effect" expected.

In a telephone call this afternoon to Assistant Secretary of State Caffery, Ambassador Sumner Welles announced that things in Havana and throughout the island were much quieter. Tonight the destroyer Claxton was ordered to withdraw from Havana to the American naval base at Guantanamo. The other two destroyers, the Taylor at Havana and the Sturtevant at Manzanillo, may be withdrawn tomorrow.

Navy Not So Optimistic.

In the navy department a view not quite so confident as that of the state department seemed to be taken. Some confusion prevailed as to whether or not further American vessels were being sent to Cuban waters.

Emerging from a conference with President Roosevelt, Secretary of the Navy Swanson announced that the cruiser Richmond, flagship of the special service squadron, and the destroyer Overton had been ordered to head in the direction of Cuba, but without specific orders to proceed to a Cuban destination.

The secretary also announced that if an emergency arose 2,200 marines and bluejackets would be immediately available to form landing parties.

Swanson Amends Statement.

Late this afternoon Secretary Swanson amended this announcement with the following statement:

"I wish to make it plain that the Richmond has not been ordered to Cuba; that she is now in transit in the Panama canal, making the trip from Balboa to Colon on the Atlantic side, where she will await any orders that the navy department may be called upon to issue."

Word received here was that the commanding officers of the two destroyers at Havana had gone ashore to pay their respects to the new Cuban president, Manuel de Cespedes, but that no patrols had landed.

The decision to send the destroyers, it was explained, was taken last Saturday night when reports reached Washington of disturbances that it was feared might spread throughout the island.

Administration Is Satisfied.

Cuban troops, it was said, were reported to be fraternizing with the rioting crowds celebrating President Machado's downfall. Both troops and rioters were drinking and looting. It was felt that to send the destroyers would have a favorable "moral effect," it was said. The new Cuban government was consulted and agreed that the presence of the American flag aboard the war vessels would have a quieting influence, and formal consent of the Cuban officials was given.

Within administration circles there is considerable satisfaction over the manner in which the American part in the Cuban crisis has been handled. President Roosevelt's demand for the resignation of President Machado was made in so diplomatic a fashion that it could not be formally labeled as a demand.

While Machado was still in office no battleships were sent, since this would have brought down an immediate cry of intervention.

MACHADO IS THE SIXTH LATIN DICTATOR TO BE OVERTHROWN BY FORCE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—(AP)—All but one of Latin America's "boom days" dictators has been swept from office in revolts that followed the economic depression. With the fall of Gen. Machado in Cuba, only President Juan Vincente Gomez, for a quarter of a century the dictator of Venezuela, remains.

A possible exception is Mexico, where Gen. Pultarco Elias Calles, former president, is still listened to as he advises suceeding governments from his retirement.

Hipolito Yrigoyen in Argentina, Carlos Ibanez in Chile, Augusto Legula in Peru, Hernando Siles in Bolivia, Washington Luis Pereira in Brazil, Machado of Cuba—all have ended their régimes in revolutionary defeat and violence.

Practically every one of the fallen dictators left behind him a mountain of unpaid foreign debt, largely owed to citizens of the United States. Most had based their régimes on enormous expenditures of United States capital for public work. The outstanding exception was Irigoyen. He avoided such financial agreements. Argentine provinces and municipalities, nevertheless, contracted heavy monetary obligations in the United States.

CESPEDES' NAME IS PRONOUNCED THESS-PAY-DAYS

For the benefit of radio announcers as well as scores of persons who have asked THE TRIBUNE about the subject, a reporter inquired yesterday into the accuracy of various pronunciations of the last name of the new president of Cuba.

Cespedes is pronounced as though it were spelled Thess-pay-days' with the accent on the first syllable.

That is the pure Castilian. The new president bears the same name as a famous Spanish painter, Pablo Cespedes [1538-1608], whose masterpiece, "The Last Supper," is in the Cordoba cathedral.

here for intervention but were sent to show that Washington stands behind the new government of Dr. de Cespedes.

Sailors were ordered kept on board for the present. Only officers landed. This was to avoid any misunderstanding as to why the destroyers were sent here and to prevent possible resentment.

Food Markets Open.

Havana shook itself out of its passive resistance strike soon after sunrise. Carts and trucks lumbered through the city bringing in food, meats, vegetables, and fruits. Shutters of stores and shops were thrown open.

Street hawkers with baskets of vegetables, fruit, and live chickens shouted their wares. Cafés opened up. Chairs were taken off tables and Cubans began to sit around sipping coffee in glasses. Bars opened and ice, the lack of which was sadly felt, began to appear.

Food markets soon filled with supplies and housewives filled their baskets. Many had been hungry for a week. Barbers did a Klondike gold rush business. So did chiropodists on feet swollen and blistered from eleven days of walking. Dentists had their chairs filled with an accumulation of patients with aching teeth.

The national Federation of Labor agreed to support the De Cespedes government unconditionally. Members of the federation waited until noon before resuming work in order to complete the three day unofficial holiday celebration of the establishment of De Cespedes as president Saturday. Street cars and omnibuses also began running at noon. Railroad men began to move trains which had been in stations more than a week.

Deliver Mail Today.

Tonight postal employés were at work and first deliveries of mail are expected tomorrow. There is an 11 days' accumulation in the postoffice.

In the evening cabarets and theaters began to open. Tourists disembarking from ocean vessels at the docks expressed surprise at the air of happiness and contentment in the city.

Nordic tourists were astonished at the street scenes as temperamental and emotional Latin-Americans greeted each other. Obuspo street, a narrow, busy thoroughfare, seemed filled with men in white linens hugging each other and dancing on the pavement in the exuberance of their greeting.

Meantime the Villa Nenita, Machado's palatial country home 18 miles away, was turned over by the soldiery to a looting mob. The mansion was pillaged and smashed with axes and picks and the torch was applied. Some 4,000 head of cattle and oxen were reported distributed among the citizens of the town of "Gen. Machado," which has now resumed its old name of Rancho Boyeros.

Groves of citrus trees, cattle barns and other buildings were burned. The farm is valued at $500,000 and the home at $50,000. The mobs also sacked another of Machado's properties at Finca Juana, valued at more than $500,000.

Heap Abuse on Machado.

Never was an old idol more fallen than Machado. Influential business men expressed their sentiment in the harshest phrases. Two or three years ago Cuba acclaimed Machado as deliriously as it does de Cespedes today. Machado was hailed as the prophet of a new deal which included huge public works projects and a stabilization of sugar venture which cost more than $40,000,000.

Sugar went down instead of up, just as happened with wheat in the United States federal farm board experiment. High taxes for payment of debts for the new deal enterprises and the collapse of sugar were factors in bringing the "economic boycott" and passive resistance strike to drive Machado out.

One hundred and fifty-six majors in all parts of the island, all of them followers of Machado, have been ousted. The military has taken control of the provincial government of each of the six provinces and all the municipalities.

President de Cespedes has not yet indicated his program for an economic settlement, but it is conjectured he may start his new deal with three proposals. They are [1] reduction of some of the occupational taxes which require great bureaus to collect, [2] a moratorium on taxes for merchants, home owners, industrialists, and others who have been unable to pay, and [3] a new reciprocity treaty with the United States for a 50 per cent reduction of tariffs on goods from Cuba with a view of building business and increasing Cuba's importations from the United States.

El Centro's 119 Degrees Sets California Record

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 24.—[Special.]—The year's hottest spell hit a peak which established a twenty year record at El Centro. There the official reading was 119 degrees in the shade. A local breeze from the ocean favored Los Angeles proper, where the weather subsided from yesterday's year's top of 96 to an official 88 today. In the suburbs the maximum was 103 at Eagle Rock, in the northeast section, and at Pasadena, and 113 at San Bernardino. A violent thunderstorm ripped power and telephone lines in Imperial valley, flooded highways, and caused property damage.

"RIGHT ABOUT FACE IN THE TREATMENT OF HAY FEVER"

Not Pollen, But Poison Produced By Pollen, is Prime Cause of Suffering, *Says Chicago Specialist

Finds Amazing New Direct Relief..Verifies Findings By Tests at a Famous Medical University..Treatment Astonishingly Simple

NEVER before has there been such evidence that the final answer to hay fever suffering has been found... The relief that has been demonstrated in hay fever and related allergic cases is astounding—not only prompt, but thorough. So rapid in some cases that relief appeared in the first few minutes; so thorough that all apparent symptoms had disappeared.

Not a narcotic deadening of the nerves. Not an astringent drying up of the mucous membrane. Not a salve, spray or local application of any kind. Instead a wholly new, direct action in neutralizing the effect of pollen poisoning in the system.

Amazing New Facts

This specialist thoroughly believes in the theory newly advanced by medical science that all allergic diseases (hay fever, hives, etc.), result directly from a poisonous histamine-like substance found in the blood in excess amounts. Histamine is a poisonous end-product of protein—and all pollens are protein. Regardless of what pollens the patient was sensitive to, science found that the histamine-like substance was always present. "It is the histamine poisoning caused by pollens—not the pollens themselves—which is the underlying cause of hay fever suffering," reasoned the doctor. A complete right about face.

NOTE: Hives, rose fever and urticaria are all "allergic" diseases, like hay fever, and also are accompanied by excess histamine. Consequently, Histeen, which combats histamine, is as effective in these diseases as in hay fever.

Histeen Is Found

Then, after 2½ years of research, the doctor developed a compound which acts to counteract histamine poisoning, neutralize its action and release the irritating effect of histamine. Unparalleled relief was obtained in scores of hay fever and related allergic cases. Tests were conducted in the laboratories of a famous medical university to verify his discovery.

Convenient Tablet Form

Now, after two and one-half years of testing in laboratory and clinic, Histeen is in your drug store. It is in convenient tablet form, taken internally, and is complete in itself without the use of sprays, gargles, salves or any other assistance. There is approximately a week's supply in each bottle.

HISTEEN
NO NARCOTICS . . . SAFE TO TAKE

These tablets promise relief to hay fever sufferers of a kind never before possible with saives, sprays, inhalers, or any other form of local application.

Already Histeen is bringing marvelous relief to hay fever sufferers who never hoped to have such freedom. No more need of tests and pollen-immunity injections. Histeen cuts right through the long and tedious injection process—neutralizes the poison itself and means relief often in a few minutes after the first dose is taken.

Do not delay. If your hay fever has not attacked you yet, you may forestall it and go through the year without a sign of it. If it has started, the quick relief Histeen brings you will probably amaze and surprise you. Get it today—just ask your druggist for Histeen. $1.00 per bottle everywhere.

ACCEPTED

IN writing about themselves, newspapers invariably are tempted to bragadoccio. This is excusable, but inconclusive. Usually the positivity of fact is weakened by the unsupported superlatives of superiority. And the greater the claims, the greater the need for proof. Loose generalizations about "linage" or "dominance" are as inconclusive as a local merchant's statement that he "carries the biggest values in town."

Primarily people do not buy newspapers to read advertising. But find the factor in any newspaper that stimulates and assures the reading of a newspaper's columns, then you find true acceptance for advertising. Circulation claims by themselves are insufficient. Circulation is merely a conventional yardstick to measure quantity of production, which may be increased or diminished in the proportion that the newspaper forces white paper and ink upon an unsuspecting populace.

How then can one measure a newspaper's ACCEPTANCE in its community? What is the meter of its readership? The barometer of its responsiveness? Let that newspaper tell you how much real reader-response is evoked by what its editors put into its columns. Then, and only then, can you authoritatively say that it is READ, that it is ACCEPTED, approved and rendered authentic by the community it serves.

There is no impropriety in saying that The Detroit Free Press has a greater reader acceptance than any other Detroit newspaper. This is a matter of record; open to anyone interested; available to anyone who wants the proof. And therein lies the worth of this newspaper for advertising. That—and its striking coverage of Detroit's buying power.

In 1932, women readers wrote 445,213 letters to Free Press editors . . . over one thousand two hundred letters every day . . . nearly one letter each minute throughout the year. In 1933, (the first seven months), 258,103 letters were received, or 32.7 per cent more than in the corresponding months of 1932.

This is truly ACCEPTANCE . . . indisputable proof that the pages of the Free Press are READ. And to confirm the action value of this tremendous measure of acceptance for advertising, may we point to the fact that the eleven leading women's ready-to-wear stores in Detroit are now using more space in the Free Press to move merchandise regularly than in any other Detroit newspaper.

Advertisers, Too, Show Greater Acceptance for First Half of 1933

- In PUBLISHERS' linage, the Free Press shows a week-day gain of 5,614 lines or 6%, both other Detroit papers showing losses.
- In GROCERY AND FOOD linage, the Free Press was the only Detroit newspaper to show a week-day gain . . . 40,628 lines . . . 39.2%.
- In GASOLINE AND OIL linage, the week-day Free Press gained 18.1% . . . the other Detroit newspapers gaining 13.6% and 9.4%, respectively.
- In TOBACCO linage, the Free Press was the only Detroit newspaper to show a gain . . . 2,716 lines or 4.4%.
- Of the total TRAVEL linage carried by Detroit newspapers, the Free Press increased its percentage from 47.7% in 1932 to 50.8% in 1933.
- In HOUSEHOLD AND ELECTRICAL APPLIANCE linage, the Free Press made a week-day gain of 43,540 lines.

Masseuse Has Six Hour Code for Clara Bow

It's Daily Workout from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—A masseuse has been working on Clara Bow from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. daily. No time off for lunch [for Clara].

Richard Powell has taken two weeks' vacation from Warner-First National because a relapse is feared from his recent case of double pneumonia. He got out of his sickbed and volunteered to finish a picture. When Powell comes back he will co-star with Ruby Keeler in "Sweethearts Forever," providing Miss Keeler gets back from her current visit to New York.

Bill Powell, Richard's namesake [but no relative], also at WFN, is cast for the second picture of his new contract in "The Gentleman from San Francisco," a story based on politics. Bill Powell is following Dick's lead and taking a current vacation. In Bill's case, he suffered no double pneumonia, but did have a severe case of Carole Lombard divorce trouble.

Alan Dinehart is trying to find the "Mr. Dinehart, motion picture actor with wife and two children," who bought a car here on his name, and then, just to make it good, ran up a Santa Barbara, Cal., hotel bill also as "A. Dinehart, actor," after driving there in the car. The real Dinehart recently was married to Mozelle Britonne. The auto agency and the hotel are trying to help him find the spurious Dinehart, Alan says. "It's getting so friends ask me how my double life is coming along."

The Fox company is borrowing Lionel Barrymore from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to play in "House of Connolly," with Lew Ayres and Janet Gaynor. Henry King, the director, is now in the Carolina plantation country, where the story is laid, and will be followed there by Miss Gaynor later this month. It's the story of the romance of a daughter of faded southern aristocracy.

Al Jolson's "Wonder Bar," which United Artists once dickered to make, is to be filmed by Warner-First National, and Jolson will share the spotlight in it with Joan Blondell, Bette Davis, Kay Francis, Adolphe Menjou, Warren William, and Richard Powell. It will be one of this studio's five "titanic specials" this year.

Hollywood is gasping at the rainbow garb of Author Achmed Abdullah. His melon pink shirt started the comment, and some snooper made it his business to count Achmed's other shirts, finding 46 shirts, and no two the same shade, and not one of a neutral or commonplace hue.

Claudette Colbert has a new headdress. The hair is in a fairly long bob, curled across the back, short bangs, and with one side swept completely off one ear. Not only does she wear it that way in her white evening gown for night club scenes in "Torch Singer" but likes it well enough for off the lot wear.

Three Broadway chorines, Jean Wight from George White's Scandals, Muriel Kilduff from Earl Carroll's Vanities, and Vivian Porter, representing Follies girls, have arrived under contract to appear in Twentieth Century's first film, starring Constance Bennett, "Moulin Rouge." They will act as top sergeants to drill Hollywood blondes and brunettes for the musical comedy dance routines.

Marjorie Rambeau is announced as under contract to Edward Small, producer, for a renewed fling at Hollywood's spotlight and shekels. She'll start in "Joe Palooka," to be made by Reliance Pictures at United Artists with a cast including Lupe Velez, Stuart Erwin, and Jimmy Durante.

The picture about a mountain lion, deer, and a coyote which M-G-M made under the title "Malibu" has been changed to "Sequoia." Malibu signifies pleasure beach to those who know their Hollywood, while the film really is a painstaking and dramatic story of wild life in the big woods.

Ann Ainslee, young daughter of Alan James, director of cowboy films, has been given a screen test by Ken Maynard, who not only writes, acts in, helps direct, but also helps produce his own screen stories. Maynard may use the girl in future western leads.

Willard Mack's new contract with Reliance Pictures provides his employers may assign him to any film duties as long as they consist of writing, acting or directing. Or Mack may have to do all three on one picture.

Front Views and Profiles

BY way of report. Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, the charming white haired grand dame of the hunting field, flew from Chicago to Onwentsia for Sunday's east-west polo game. . . .

Polo—Diary.

Cecil Smith, the rough riding western polo player, who was out for 20 minutes Sunday after his horse went down and rolled on him, was X-rayed at the Alice Home hospital in Lake Forest yesterday. No damage was done. . . . And, by the way, the pony he was riding, Texas Beauty, on whom he finished the chukker, formerly was one of Hal Strotz' string of polo ponies. . . . Visiting polo players and eastern and western polo fans visited the Fair yesterday and Arthur Meeker issued Century club cards to them all. . . . In case you're interested as to the expense of playing polo, the minimum requirements for equipment are as follows:

4 ponies at $500 each	$2,000
2 saddles at $80	160
4 bridles at $15	60
8 pairs of boots at $10 each pair	80
4 coolers at $6	24
4 night blankets at $10	40
Total	$2,364

In addition there are maintenance costs for grooms, feeding, bedding, and medicine, amounting to a minimum of $170, and personal equipment, helmets, polo shirts and sweaters, breeches and mallets—twelve mallets at $4 each, a minimum amounting to something over $250. . . . However, although $500 is given as a minimum price for polo ponies, the top price frequently is from $750 to $1,000, and in recent times as much as $3,500 has been expended for a single pony. . . . Now, with this help you can start right out getting your equipment.

THE diary of Jabez Kent Botsford is in possession of his great grandson, B. Botsford Young, and is a future keepsake for his two sons, Bennet Botsford Young and Montgomery L. Young, who are fifth generation Chicagoans, a distinction in a city where even fourth generation Chicagoans are worthy of note. Mr. Botsford, one of the original trustees of Northwestern university [and, indeed, it was in the office of his shop on Lake street that the corporation was formed], started west from New York June 2, 1833, after having seen "Mr. Kemble and his daughter, Fanny, perform in 'The Stranger' the preceding evening," in the steamboat Champlain for Albany. He took the railroad from Albany to Schenectady. His entry about his arrival there follows:

"June 3. . . . Immediately on our arrival at Schenectady, our cars were assailed with a hundred voices inquiring of us: 'Mr., Mr., are you going west?' and such pulling and hauling I never saw for passengers, and blackguarding and everything else, and if a person does not take care they will run away with his baggage before he knows it. We soon made a bargain with the captain of the Ohio and New York line canal boat Sovereign, a very decent boat, too, and we had a very good set of passengers indeed. . . .And now here we are, a sailing along on board of the boat in this big ditch. Wind blows so cold and hard that cannot stand it on deck. Neither can I see as much of the country as I would wish. . . . The way they steer the boat in the night is this: They have two large lamps placed on the forward part of the boat, and then they stick two quills, one on each side of the boat on the corners, and by the feather of the quills they steer by. The evening was fine, but rather chilly, so here we are agoing through night and day, drawn by two horses a tandem; a boy drives and rides the hind one; he is on duty six hours.

ADVENTURER BOTSFORD sailed on, past Little Falls, where the boat was detained by the sinking of a boat laden with wheat; past the flourishing village of Utica, lying green and pleasant in the June morning; past the pretty villages of Palmyra and Newark. The boat reached Buffalo Sunday, June 8, and he departed the following day for Cleveland on the steamboat Pennsylvania [fare $6], and from Cleveland took the mail stage coach 'through hedges and ditches, through swamps and over rails and the devil knows what he did not go over.' At Huron he boarded the steamer Henry Clay, said to be the fastest boat on the lake.

"I took cabin passage, fare $2.50," the diary entry reads. "Did not sleep much; the weather too hot. Arrived in Detroit by daylight; stopped to see the steamer hotel kept by B. Woodward. . . . Detroit is the only place where I ever saw the aborigines of the country, dressed with silver ornaments on their heads, legs, and arms, on their legs they wore leggins, and moccasins on their feet. The Steamboat hotel is crowed with the showmen, circus riders, and theatrical performers."

From July 12 to 25. "Have had the most thundering hot weather and have been lying idle. Shipped the 24th to Chicago by the White Pigeon merchandise, salt and whiskey. The 24th of July was my maiden purchase—business has commenced. . . . Was sick a little on the 27th and 28th, but took some pills and wound off by having a stiff neck. This day, July 30, feel quite well. Shipped this day to Chicago my trunk and some other articles.

Quilt Making Is Diversion at Algonquin

BY KATHERINE KELLEY.

Patchwork quilts form one of the diversions at Camp Algonquin. Mothers from the congested parts of Chicago who are spending vacations there through the generosity of TRIBUNE readers, are determined to get those quilt blocks finished before time to come back to the city.

Several expect to go home with the quilt blocks assembled all ready for the stuffing and quilting, and from all indications it is going to be an important day in their neighborhoods when the quilts are unpacked.

"The quilting has proved to be one of the most popular diversions for the mothers in a long while," Mrs. Astrid Save, camp superintendent, explained yesterday.

"We have noticed less complaining over home conditions, too. I am sure the vacations here will send mothers home with renewed strength to face the future. Many feel that work may come this winter. And almost every one is lighter hearted and happier."

Contributions to the Camp Algonquin fund have been dwindling, although mothers have been promised vacations up to the middle of September. It costs only $8.40 to send a mother to the camp for two weeks.

Contributions to the camp fund and also the free ice fund, which distributes ice to needy homes where there are infants, may be sent to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE, Tribune Tower. The gifts will be acknowledged in this newspaper.

Engagement of Miss Doris Bokum to Newton C. King Is Announced

BY JUDITH CASS.

WITH the pleasure shared by her many friends, yet recognizing the disappointment that will be suffered by the many young men who were anticipating knowing her as debutante this coming winter, we are announcing this morning the engagement of that attractive golden haired young woman, Miss Doris Bokum.

"Mr. and Mrs. Norris H. Bokum of 1430 Lake Shore drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Doris, to Newton Calvin King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin P. King of 1430 Hyde Park boulevard."

That Miss Bokum should forego a winter of parties and beaux for matrimony is indeed a hardship for society's bachelors, for she would have been one of the belles of every ball. She received her education at the Fermata school in Aiken and at the Finch school in New York, where she completed her work last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bokum are giving a dinner tomorrow evening in their apartment to celebrate the engagement. Among those invited are Mr. and Mrs. King, Mr. and Mrs. Warner Coburn, Miss Bokum's godparents; Mr. and Mrs. Carter H. Harrison Jr., and their daughter, Miss Lucy Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Rowe, Miss Caryl Bloomingston, Miss Betty Alexander, Miss Harriett Jackson of Providence, R. I., the Bokums' house guest; Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Lamport, [Julia Kramer], John Bersbach, Cecil Howard, James Brown, Paul Poole, and Robert Shotwell. Miss Jackson was also in Chicago for the dinner that the Cornelius B. Watsons gave to announce the engagement of their daughter, Chloe, to Pierre Bouscaren last month.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Praise Decoration of University Club.

There are few members of the fashionably conservative University club within a hundred miles of Chicago who haven't been to luncheon or dinner in the cool Cathedral hall or the ladies' dining room during the last four weeks. The reason is the delightful and artistic redecoration of the main reception hall and lounges.

Even Jack the doorman, that genial and gracious attendant who has presided over the women's entrance for years too many to count, is radiating an expression of satisfaction.

Perhaps it is the ladies' reception room on the lower floor that is eliciting the most comment. Done over in restful, refreshing tones of beige and green, it is a rendezvous in which guests want to linger rather than merely await the arrival of husbands and escorts.

Not the least of the attractions in this room are the Italian engravings that decorate the softly neutral walls. Several leather back chairs harmonize with the wall color, while the carpets and the other furnishings are done in a pleasant shade of green.

Great grandmothers would be delighted with the old fashioned striped white cotton drapes with tufted edges that give a light and cheerful air to the moderne powder room. Victorian dressing tables have given way to mirrored tables built into the walls which produce a new and interesting marbleized effect.

Changes in Dining Room for Ladies.

A bowl of freshly cut flowers is the every day order for the small console table that stands at the entrance to the ladies' dining room on the second floor. All of these halls and the stair have been recarpeted and the walls enlivened with a coat of green paint. Within this dining room new draperies . . . a rich brick color . . . have been hung and the canvased walls washed to bring out the legends of the lion and the unicorn that Frederick Clay Bartlett painted a number of years ago.

It is well known, of course, that Mr. Bartlett designed the handsome stained glass windows in Cathedral hall. Although there can be little redecoration in this hall, the shields of the various colleges and universities carved in wood by a Bavarian and

SYNOPSIS.

Uncas Cresap and his Chinese servant are found dead in the upper room of Cresap's boathouse on Kettle pond, near the eastern end of Long Island. Gilbert Jonathan Redd, Cresap's step-brother, keeps a written private account of developments in the case. A blow on the forehead from a slender, sharp edged implement killed Cresap. The cause of the Chinaman's death is not apparent. Capt. Bray, a special investigator, and an old friend of Redd's, helps the men from the district attorney's office in solving the crime. Redd is a former police reporter. Florence Dane, Cresap's niece and an orphan, lived with him. Redd was fond of Florence's mother. He bought a home near Cresap's in order to protect Florence. Cresap made his fortune in the far east. Redd freely admits to Bray his hatred of Cresap, who was a drunkard and a débauché.

MELTING POT MANOR.

I continued my story to Bray.

"I wouldn't figure on the women servants as being very important factors, either. There's Delia, the cook. I believe her last name is Dillon. There's Greta, and she's a German girl who's the waitress, and Hilda, who is a combination of chambermaid and personal maid to Miss Dane. I imagine she's either a Finn or a Norwegian. I don't know her last name or Greta's, either. All three of these probably came from some employment agency in town. It's hard to keep track of the unique and intricate domestic economies of this house because Uncas Cresap was forever changing his help. Either they'd get sore at him for his penuriousness and his fault finding and his private habits, or he'd get sore at them for any reason or no reason at all and run 'em off the place. The laundress comes in from the outside to work by the day. I don't recall who she is but she must live close by.

"The chauffeur, Olsen, is a young Swede, a steady, reliable looking chap. This is his first year, I'm pretty certain. His sleeping quarters are above the garage but he takes his meals in the big house. That leaves two, and you'll agree with me that they are the most interesting two of the lot, or rather, they were, since one of them is dead. That's the Chinaman, Wong Gee. By a fiction he was supposed to be the butler, but usually he was so full of pipe dreams that about all he was fit for was to amble around in a sort of perambulating doze. He trailed after Uncas Cresap like a yellow-gray shadow—don't ask me why. All I can say is that there seemed to be some secret bond, some understanding, between the master and the man.

"And last of all we come to Manuel Sabino, esquire. His size qualifies him for a sideshow. Going by his disposition, I'm in doubt whether he belongs in a lunatic asylum or a penitentiary. But then I confess I'm prejudiced. There's Spanish blood in the aforementioned Mr. Sabino, that's a cinch. Local gossip has it that he's a part Mexican and part Apache, which, if true, ought to form a lovely medley. He speaks English, though—when he chooses to speak, being mostly sullen and glum—with scarcely a trace of accent.

"Did you ever see one of these Arizona Gila monsters, captain? Or a desert horned frog? No? Well, I can't tell you which one of these two he most reminds me of. And when it comes to assigning him to his proper capacities in the personnel of this peculiar household, I'm, also, in some doubt. He was a sort of liaison officer for his boss. I'll put it this way—he was a link between Uncas Cresap and the servants. He didn't seem to have any assigned duties, though. For weeks at a time he wouldn't do a lick of work.

"But this I do know: This human hoptoad was closer to Uncas Cresap than any other living being. I don't pretend to know what the tie between them was or what hold, if any, he had on Cresap. But this I will tell you—he quarreled viciously with Cresap and made up with him—got drunk with him and got sober with him, tagged about with him or left him alone, deliberately matched his moods to suit Cresap's or deliberately didn't, apparently just as he chose. And further to endear him to all the world, he nurses a chronic grudge against all the world."

"And when did he join up with this highly interesting dime museum troupe?"

"Uncas Cresap brought him and the Chinaman with him when he came back east twelve years ago—the cross-breed out of the southwest somewhere, and Wong Gee from Shanghai, or so I've heard. They were the fixtures here. The rest of the company might come and go, but they stuck."

Bray ticked off his count on the stubbed tips of his fingers: "One young lady from the south, and one local old timer; one Dutch gal in the dining room and one Harp lady in the kitchen; two Scandanoovians; a sawed off, half breed Greaser-Injun freak and a sick Chink; and in the summer time, just for good measure, a Ginney and a Bohunk—I'd call it a fair House of All Nations that this here step-brother of yours had assembled about him."

But I liked better the one I heard one of the reporters mint this evening: "Melting Pot Manor" was his coinage and I have a notion it remains in active circulation for so long as this story stands up for the scare headlines and the front pages.

"Wouldn't it be well for us to give all those people in the house a thorough raking over without further loss of time?" said Motley.

"Well, now, Brother Motley, I'll tell you my views along that line," stated Bray. "If this here was an inside job, we've got the responsible party or parties cooped up already, and if he, she or it tried to slip out on us 'twould be just too bad, that's all. If 'twas entirely an outside job, I'd say we're standing to lose nothing by waiting until we sort of get our bearings better. Then again, if 'twas an outside job with somebody on the inside cooperating, we're no better off till we dig up a lead to follow after. Charging nobody at all but mistrusting every one whatsoever till they clear their skirts—that's our game for the present moment, I'd say."

I thought I knew what was in the back part of Bray's grizzled old head—a variant of the third degree with which the reformers could not find fault: the feasible and altogether defensible trick of leaving penned in potential suspects alone until suspense and uncertainty, and perhaps conscience, gnawing at the taproots of the guilty one's soul, might succeed where tactics of intimidation and blind accusations very possibly would fail to bring forth the truth.

"But no doubt there'll be alibis offered in some quarters," argued Motley. "Hadn't we better start probing those alibis as soon as we can?"

"The very point I was just working towards," said Bray blandly. "If a crime was committed at ten o'clock, say, and you're on the griddle for a bit of grilling, we want to be knowing where you were right at ten o'clock, not where you were at nine o'clock or eleven o'clock. So that's why we want to find out—scientifically, mind you—just about when it was the party in question passed out. And that's why I'll be after asking you, as the real representative of the state and county, to step along to that boathouse and give an order to do something that I've already started on my own responsibility. By now my boys should be done with their photographings and their measurings and all that. So 'twill do no harm to be shifting the bodies. They're to be taken to this here Dr. Flinch's——"

"Finch's," I corrected.

"Sure! Dr. Finch's. He has an operating room back of his office. He's going to loan it to us and he's very kind with his offer, also, to help the coroner with his duties, which by my suggestion will be first of all to examine the stomach of the deceased. From its contents and from the progress of digestion they should be able to tell us betwixt now and five o'clock just about how long it was after he ate the last meal he ever did eat, that he took that terrible clip between his two eyes. We'll have their report confirmed at some laboratory, but for present purposes their report will do us fine. So would you off, please, and start the machinery turning and I'll be joining you in the shake of a sheep's tail?"

Unemployed Man Needs Truss.

"Dear Miss Brown: I wonder if you know of anyone willing to pass on a truss for hernia on the left side and a rubber stocking for a very bad leg. Even Husbands Known to Eat These Salads

BY MARY MEADE.

There seems to be three schools of thought about salads. One claims that men eat salads only under the hypnotizing eyes of wives, daughters, or sweethearts, and that, since they have an inherent distaste for the things, we might as well make salads as elaborate or as plain as our soul desires, since males are certain to glare with suspicion in whatever garb they appear.

The second school is less dogmatic, and admits that there are some salads which men can be taught to like, but that they must not be frightened away by anything in the least artistic.

The third school has me as a member, and we maintain stoutly that salads can make good eating and still look like something besides hash. And if you are in the slightest bit of doubt try out the following warm weather arrangements and see if the man of the house doesn't register a lot better taste than you've been giving him credit for.

FAN FRUIT SALAD.

12 Malaga grapes
4 apple slices, cut lengthwise and unpeeled
5 fresh peach slices
Lettuce

On a bed of very crisp, dry lettuce on a salad plate arrange the fruit fan. The apple should be tart, mellow, with red skin. Cut the slices lengthwise of the apple and about ½ inch thick. Peel the peaches and cut the slices lengthwise about 1 inch thick. Now, arrange the fruit slices alternately, standing them side by side with their hollow sides down. Place a cluster of grapes at either end where the tips of the slices come together and garnish there with little crisp sprigs of watercress.

TOURAINE FRUIT SALAD.

6 segments orange
6 balls honey dew melon
9 fresh strawberries or other bright berries or cherries
3 sprigs watercress
Lettuce

Peel the half-peach and place in the middle of a bed of lettuce. Place two segments of orange, with two honey dew balls between, out from the peach like three spokes of a wheel. In the corner between the three "spokes" place the berries with a sprig of fresh parsley at each cluster. This salad is really varied and generous enough to serve as a luncheon salad with nut-bread sandwiches, potato chips, and an iced beverage.

VEGETABLE SALAD PLATE.

2 slices tomato
1 section celery
½ grated raw carrot
3 red radishes
1 ring green pepper
Lettuce

Arrange the crisp lettuce on a luncheon plate. In the center place the potato salad garnished with the pepper ring. At one side of the salad place the two tomato slices. At another point lay the celery section, which has been stuffed with the grated carrot blended with mayonnaise. On the third side cluster the three radishes with their skins cut down to form radish roses. Serve thoroughly chilled and pass French dressing or mayonnaise if desired for the tomatoes or lettuce.

Faithfulness in Marriage Not Yet Passe

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Mrs. X writes: "I don't think there is a place in the world for a good, moral, married woman any more. . . ."

We must disagree with Mrs. X. We believe there are just any number of places for good married women. They are in heavy demand.

When trouble arises in a domestic menage the wife's first wail is about the lack of appreciation of morality in women. Instead of confronting the situation between themselves and their husbands, women go in heavily for dramatics about their stout morality.

Being a good, moral, married woman is not anything to brag about. It is a common virtue. It does not set one woman apart from her married sisters. It is expected that if a woman gives her promise to honor a man she will keep her vow. And the world is full of wives who never reckon they are doing more than their simple duty by staying true to their mates.

Even though a husband may go on a rampage with other women, woman's remaining true to her own good self is still not any more than is expected of her. So when a mate is discovered to be disloyal women ought to shed that "good woman" defense of theirs. The wandering type of male would not remain true, even if his wife were not a good, moral, married woman, so that the question of the wife's morality honestly has little to do with the sort of domestic problem that provokes this oft heard wail. In fact, it is an impediment when a hectic little problem has to be faced, for it blinds the judgment that is needed at the moment for action of one kind or another.

There are women who could say quite honestly that they had never committed an infraction against the commandment regulating faithfulness, but who, nevertheless, might be perfect demons to live with. That's what the woman has to get at. What is wrong with her disposition? Why does her husand seek the companionship of other women?

Maybe there is nothing to be said against the disposition. Maybe a woman just happens to draw a man who won't stay true to one woman. Being a good, moral, married woman is a virtue, understand, but the complicated relationship of a man and woman thrown together in marriage calls for goodness, plus livable and lovable traits.

Fall Showing of Shoes Stirs Style Interest

Smoke Grays Are Claiming Attention.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

After you have strolled, strutted, and stumbled around in all white footwear for the last summer hours, the new shoe showings are going to revive your interest in footwear.

The newest suedes have slipped into town without the usual fanfare given to good looking new arrivals. These tricky new affairs are of the round toe variety, short, snappy numbers for the gay young persons who wear thin, dashing form fitting clothes and have all the proper dash and swagger to accent these trying models.

The smoke grays are plenty doggy . . . short knockout looking street pumps of smoky gray suede . . . you can find the moderately low heeled numbers with trim little square-ish bows of satin or dull grosgrain ribbon, some smart oxford ties that will make even a Garbo sized foot shrink to a mere shadow. Or you can wear the clever strap oxfords literally peppered with perforations, or the decorative pump with sleek spike heel of gleaming dark gray leather and slick little bands and curlicues of matching gray leather trimming the shortened round toe . . . just the shade for accent or contrast for new fall clothes.

If you are detouring the grays, you will play the browns, dark rich deep browns, in any number of new and distinctively different styles and heels and trimmings and what is perhaps the world's prize collection of leather and suede combines. Dull copper gadgets, buttons, and balls and buckles, as well as glittering gold ornaments, are particularly lovely with these brown beauties, but until you have seen dusky Tuscan gold combined with sooty black suede, you haven't completed your shoe thrills. Watch this black and gold combination. You are going to see lots of it . . . in handbags, frocks of coal black with big and better buttons, pins and buckles, and even gloves and hats all featuring this stunning manner of distinctive contrast.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

That was a pretty long game the Sox played Sunday, wasn't it? A seventeen inning game is a lot of baseball, but we'll see at least one more than that on Aug. 24, when the Sox play a double header with Boston.

Mr. Comiskey has invited us out to the park that day, you know. If you'd like to be one of the fortunate 100 who'll be my guests, you'd better get busy. Tomorrow is the last day for letters, so you'd better write yours today and dash to the mail box with it.

All you have to do, you know, is convince me that you really want to come and that you'll have a good time, and be sure to include your name, address and age. Any boy or girl who can write a letter is eligible to compete for an invitation, but you MUST write your own letter. Don't ask if your brother or sister can come with you, or say that you'd like to bring the little girl who lives next door, because I certainly won't invite anyone who doesn't write his or her own letter.

So hurry up with your letter, and let me have it by tomorrow. The address is Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Rocky Road to Dublin.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Here is a pattern which Ireland has donated to the quilt loving populace. It is a product of Ireland as well as bearing the name of "The Rocky Road to Dublin." Some of the earliest design with them when they emigrated to this country.

It may symbolize a rocky road, but it also appears to be a very gay and interesting one.

For a quilt pattern of this design, send 5 cents in stamps or coin to Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, printing your name and address clearly. Or call at the Tribune Public Service Office, One South Dearborn.

Parents Will Give Dinner Party Tomorrow.

passed upon by the Heraldic Society of London are still news to many. And the opening of the hall to ladies for dinner, after so many years of exclusion, is still news and a bit shocking to some members and guests.

The rigidity with which the "no women" rule was enforced has not been forgotten . . . especially the time Jane Addams was barred from a committee meeting to which she had been invited by the late Medill McCormick.

Cathedral hall is an adaptation of the famous Crosby hall in London built as a banqueting room in the 15th century. Robert Foially, who managed the club's cuisine in earlier days, has now returned to resume the same position.

The charming Mrs. Charles H. Conrad, smartly attired in an ensemble of blue, was lunching at the club yesterday. And so were Miss Margaret Emily Lynde and her fiancé, Eugene V. O'Brien. With them also were Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Lynde and Mrs. Lynde's daughter, Miss Eleanor Janney.

A flurry of excitement traveled through the lobby of the Drake hotel yesterday morning when Prince Nawab Mohammed Zahir Uddin Khan of India arrived with his French wife, who was born Andree Josephine Carron. Accompanied by only one secretary, the 23 year old prince, who is potentate of Hyderabad, a rich province of south central India, and the princess reached Chicago on a morning train and proceeded immediately to the Drake, where he is to make his headquarters during his five day visit to the city and A Century of Progress.

Accompanied by his youthful wife, a charming girl just past 21, the prince is making a seven months' tour of Europe and America that will reach its climax next week in a visit to Hollywood and the motion picture studios in which he is intensely interested . . . in line perhaps with the title by which he is known in European circles . . . the "playboy prophet." The spiritual and temporal leader of some 60,000 Ismaili Mohammedans scattered over three continents, he is regarded by them as the direct descendant of the prophet Mohammed.

Places at the speakers' table have been reserved for Mrs. Stoneman, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Lichtenstein and their daughter, Dr. Gemma Lichtenstein, Samuel Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Silas H. Strawn, Samuel Jesmer, the British Consul General and Mrs. Lewis Bernays, and Carroll Binder.

President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago and Mrs. Hutchins will sail on the Bremen tonight for England, where they will spend a vacation of one month. They plan to do some countryside bicycling and to return to Chicago about Oct. 1. Frances Hutchins, their 7 year old daughter, will spend the coming weeks with her grandparents, President and Mrs. William Hutchins of Berea college, Kentucky.

Cocktail Parties for Visitors.

Mrs. James Porter of East Orange, N. J., the charming and attractive sister of Mrs. John W. Root, was the reason yesterday for another of Miss Frieda Foltz's lively cocktail parties. Dozens of Miss Foltz's friends came in between 5 and 6 and lingered till 7 and after enjoying Mrs. Porter's company and shrimps dipped in mayonnaise.

Tomorrow afternoon the Stewart Harveys have invited their friends for cocktails and to meet Mrs. Harvey's sister, Miss June Cornell, here for a visit. The hours are 5 to 7. This evening a few of the Harvey' most intimate friends will join them and Miss Cornell for dinner at A Century of Progress and then a turn about the grounds.

Today's calendar boasts two cocktail parties. There is the "revival" in the summer sense of the word that Stewart Boal and William Miller are having at that popular bachelor establishment, 41 East Division, and the oriental party Herbert Smolen is to have for the Rajah Singhi, prince of Nepal, in the bungalow atop the Morrison hotel.

The huge mink collar on a beige coat indicates a style for fall and winter. Note the leg o' mutton sleeves, another feature also in high favor with designers.

Maggy Rouff Uses Fringe for Sleeves, Bolero of Pale Gray Marocain Frock

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Shaggy materials, silks and velvets, are out in front in the Paris style parade. Some of them are as solidly covered with fringes as a skye terrier is with hairs. Others have their fringes woven into orderly rows. They are exquisitely soft and flattering, and that's why the milliners and dressmakers are using them to make lots of hats and garments for early fall.

Maggy Rouff uses fringed silk to make little dressy jackets and sleeves and details on afternoon clothes. One of her fringed ensembles of this kind is shown in our sketch today. The dress is a simple pale gray crêpe marocain frock, with a draped fold around the round neckline and a crossed draped girdle at the waistline, this girdle being tied in a knot in front.

The skirt is a hip yoke in front and two wide box plaits in front and back, stitched flat to about the knees. Big puffed sleeves of fringed silk are put on below the top of the shoulders.

The bolero jacket, which is made entirely of the fringe-striped material, has the same puff sleeves as the dress, ending at the elbows. It fastens under the draped collar of the frock in front.

Philharmonic Group to Try Popular Priced Opera for New York

New York, Aug. 14.—[Special.]—In an effort to stimulate public interest in a season none too successful financially, the management of the concerts by the Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra at the Lewisohn stadium will experiment with the production of opera. The first presentation will be Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" next Monday evening.

The stadium authorities were influenced in making this decision, it is understood, by the success of popular priced opera at the New York Hippodrome during the last ten weeks.

Giuseppe Bamboschek, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera and more recently of the Hippodrome, will conduct the performance on Monday night. Anne Roselle of the Philadelphia Grand Opera company will have the rôle of Cio-Cio-San and Dimitri Onofrei, a member of the Hippodrome company, will be in the rôle of Pinkerton.

By H. A. RIPLEY

THE ARMY INTELLIGENCE DINNER.

Prof. Fordney, a guest at a dinner given by the United States Army Intelligence corps, was, as usual, called upon to relate some of his experiences. The great criminologist arose and said, "Gentlemen, while you are primarily concerned with the army, I feel just a bit perverse tonight.

"You all remember that just after we entered the world war, there was a rush on the part of 'society' to entertain our boys.

"Well, one night I was invited to a supper given by Mrs. Merton Stokesworth, the social leader of her city, to twenty-five sailors who were shortly to leave for France.

"We had a great time with the boys—until at 11:10 the lights suddenly went out. Mrs. Stokesworth screamed and when they were turned on a moment later her diamond pendant was missing.

"I had observed a gob who did, I'm sorry to say, look very much like a crook I had arrested several years before. I asked him to stand up and as he did so I caught sight of a platinum chain in his trouser cuff. He handed over the pendant, pleading I not arrest him—that his family was in dire straits. I was considering his request when the lights again went out. As I had hold of his arm I knew either that incident had been mistimed or that he had nothing to do with it. Suddenly . . ."

"You are perverse tonight, professor," laughed Gen. Wheeler. Even army intelligence men know when they're being kidded! Your story is impossible!"

WHY DID GEN. WHEELER SAY SO?

[See solution on page 27.]

Perhaps you have a story or problem you would like to submit to Prof. Fordney. If so, send it to him care of this paper. He will be delighted to receive it.

Tiredness Is Often Root of Child's Anger

Midday Rest Essential for Youngsters.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

A mother writes me:

"I belong to your Desperate Dozen. . . . My son, age 3, will not stay in his crib either at night or for a nap. He does not sleep in the afternoon, but the rest does him a lot of good. Now he will stay in bed at night but I cannot get him to rest in the afternoon. I have tried letting him sit quietly in a chair and he will not stay there. I have tried sitting in the same room sewing or reading and giving him books to look at, telling or reading him a story. They do not work. What can I do? The doctor says he is a perfectly healthy child but he needs the rest, he is so active.

"And at supper time he shows it. If things don't go just right there is a terrible fuss and sometimes crying. He does not whine and he is not the cry-baby type.

"But when he is tired—well, he is just a very tired little boy who won't give in to it."

Here is a wise mother. She knows that unless her little boy rests from his busy, active, running, adventurous life he is going to be overtired when suppertime and bedtime come. He won't know it—he won't even realize he is tired. But it will show itself in crying and in fussing.

Certain experiments have shown that tantrums are most frequent just before mealtimes or resting times—that is, when the child's selfcontrol is lessened through hunger or fatigue.

Midday rest times are absolutely essential. If the children can sleep—that is fine. If they can't—then rest is the next best thing. Undressing them, bathing them, darkening the room, giving them fresh air and keeping the house as quiet as possible—all are helps. These rest periods are especially necessary in summer, for children play harder and often for longer stretches than they do in winter.

Get the nap or rest time in until your children are pretty much grown up.

BILLION IN CASH IN U. S. TREASURY; BONDS ARE SOLD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Uncle Sam will become a billionaire tomorrow for the second time since the war days.

Issuance of about a half billion dollars in government securities over and above refinancing obligations tomorrow will bring the cash balance in the treasury to about 1 billion 200 million dollars.

Treasury coffers have been called upon to hold a billion dollars or more just once since the war and post-war eras ended. That was in June of this year when the government first started building up a large balance to finance its recovery program.

Debt Passes 22 Billions.

Although Uncle Sam will have almost a billion and a quarter dollars to jingle in his jeans, he is not exactly wealthy. His public indebtedness jumped to 22 billion 300 million dollars today with the issuance of the new securities.

All the money with which the treasury will bulge, moreover, is borrowed. Taxes, the government's earned income, still fail to cover expenses. The deficit for this fiscal year amounts to about 174 million dollars already.

Actually about 1 billion 200 million dollars' worth of new government securities will be issued tomorrow, including about 800 million dollars' worth of eight year 3¼ per cent bonds, the first long term securities sold by the treasury in two years.

A 350 or 400 million dollar issue of two year 1½ per cent notes will accompany the bonds.

Must Pay Maturing Bonds.

Out of the money thus borrowed, however, the government will have to use about 700 million dollars to pay off maturing obligations, leaving 500 millions in cash to be added to that already in the treasury. Included in the maturing obligations are 228 million dollars' worth of treasury certificates which were not due until Sept. 15, but which their holders traded for the forthcoming bonds.

The treasury had a cash balance of 750 million dollars already on hand on Aug. 11. About 50 million of that sum will be spent tomorrow. The 700 millions remaining plus the new 500 millions now being borrowed will run the total up to 1 billion 200 millions.

This sum, although unprecedented since the war, probably will not be enough to carry the recovery program and at the same time pay off about 223 million dollars' worth of treasury certificates maturing Sept. 15. The treasury may be forced to float a refinancing issue on that date.

AIR PILOT LEAPS ON STOLEN AUTO, SEIZES THIEVES

Raymond Bjorkbohm, 24 years old, an aviator for the United Air lines, was looking out of the window of his home at 5200 Harper avenue last evening, when he saw two boys get into his car. He ran outside as the thieves were driving away, jumped on the running board, lifted the hood cover, and yanked loose the ignition wires, stopping the motor. The two thieves were turned over to Hyde Park police. They identified themselves as Matthew Sullivan, 14 years old, of 454 West 45th place, and William Nash, 15, of 712 West 48th place.

BALBO DISBANDS CHICAGO FLYERS AT HOME AIRPORT

ORBETELLO, Italy, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Air Marshal Italo Balbo today disbanded his Atlantic squadron which on Saturday completed a round trip to A Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago.

King Victor Emmanuel and high Fascist officials received and reviewed the airmen. Balbo briefly thanked the flyers for their coöperation and embraced and kissed each on both cheeks. They returned to their home base in the midst of the unanimous acclaim of villagers who learned to know the flyers personally during their two years of training here.

Msgr. Carlo Ferrai, who blessed the planes and the men prior to their departure for Chicago July 1, welcomed "my boys" with embraces and tears.

IRISH BLUE SHIRT ARMY CAMPAIGNS TO ENROLL 80,000

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Gen. Owen O'Duffy's blue shirt national guard, prevented from holding a demonstration yesterday but planning country-wide church parades next Sunday, today began a drive to bring its enrollment to 80,000 this week. The organization claims to have already half that number of adherents. Eight blue shirts were injured in disturbances yesterday.

The government is considering banning next Sunday's parades. This would be difficult, however, since it would mean splitting up the police and military for service in every district of the Free State.

In well informed quarters the belief was expressed that President Eamon de Valera may seek a general election to obtain wider powers in order to combat the blue shirts. He already has applied the public safety act, under which an emergency tribunal has the power to impose penalties ranging from small fines to death.

CITY PUTS MEN TO WORK CUTTING HAY FEVER WEEDS

Men from the "make work" division of the emergency relief commission started yesterday to destroy pollen scattering weeds on some 200 lots throughout the city, in a campaign to prevent hay fever. Eventually 4,000 men who are on relief rolls will be put at the work. In the case of private property, Commissioner of Public Works Hewitt said, owners who fail to obey the ordinance ordering destruction of weeds will be billed by the city for work done by the relief crews.

JOCKEY WESTROPE BRINGS IN FIVE WINNERS

FOXX BATS IN 9 RUNS FOR NEW LEAGUE RECORD

Athletics Defeat Indians, 11 to 5.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 14.—(AP)—Hammering out a home run, triple, double, and single to drive in nine runs for a new American league record, Jimmy Foxx today led the Philadelphia Athletics to an 11 to 5 victory over the Cleveland Indians in the Mack's first game of their last western invasion.

Foxx opened his one man attack in the first inning, hitting a triple with Roger Cramer and Mickey Cochrane on the bases, and then followed up with his 35th home run of the season in the second with the bases full.

Doubles Third Time Up.

On his third appearance at the plate in the fourth inning, the A's first baseman connected with a double, again sending Cochrane across the plate. A single in the sixth with Eric McNair and Cramer on the bases scored two more runs and gave Foxx his new record. He struck out on his last time at bat.

The old mark of eight runs batted in was set by Roy (Topsy) Hartzell of the Yankees, in 1911, and has since been equalled by Harry Heilmann, Lou Gehrig, Carl Reynolds, and Earl Averill. Foxx's performance left him still three short of the major league record of 12 made by Jim Bottomley when with the Cardinals in 1924.

Mahaffey Yields Only Seven Hits.

With Foxx on a hitting rampage, Roy Mahaffey had little trouble turning in his fifth victory of the year over the Indians, who have yet to beat him. He allowed only seven hits, four of them scratches, and never was in danger as he coasted along behind a nine run lead piled up by the A's in the first four innings.

The Athletics pounded Willis Hudlin and Belve Bean for 13 hits, which in addition to Foxx's four safeties, included a home run in the first inning by McNair. Score:

Rain Postpones Women's Tennis Meet; Play Today

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—The sun shone warmly in a clear sky over Forest Hills this afternoon and the faultlessly groomed turf of the West Side Tennis club was never more inviting, but not a racquet was swung in the stadium.

Owing to a morning rainfall, officials of the club and the United States Lawn Tennis association ordered a postponement of the opening round of the women's national championship tournament until tomorrow. The decision was made at 1 o'clock, and at that time the weather outlook was lugubrious.

The same program scheduled for today will go on tomorrow afternoon. The final of the tournament, scheduled originally for Saturday, will be set back until Sunday or possibly Monday.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, the seven times champion, was among those who spent the day shopping. Reports differed as to the condition of the famous Californian, who has been nursing an injured back, but the fact that she is entered in the doubles, as well as the singles is encouraging.

THEY TAX HORSE BETTERS, WHY NOT POKER AND DICE?

Nevada Is Only State Honest Enough to Do It.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 14.—Any person who is in the habit of bouncing around the American scene is likely to have found out, probably at some cost in sleep, money and remorse, that table gambling is practiced more or less openly in many communities. Table gambling is illegal, wherein it differs from stock gambling, which not only is legal everywhere but enjoys the approval of the very best people and some of the very best minds.

Table gambling is carried on in Saratoga in season and, therefore, probably is flourishing moderately at the present time. In French Lick, Ind., the sports of the spirited dice blocks, the little white ball and the cards somehow managed to bluff their way through the era of the Ku Klux Klan when the night prowlers were nosing into much less notorious pleasures of the citizens. Atlantic City, Philadelphia, various Florida and California resorts, Newport, Chicago and New York all provide facilities for this sort of folly and in citing these centers I do not mean to slight many other communities which are equally equipped, but whose naming would run into a very stretchy list.

The only community in the United States which legally permits table gambling, however, is the state of Nevada, which always has been more honest about its vices, and thus more virtuous in them, than the rest of the country.

Wherever else table gambling goes on, and this includes the city of Washington, D. C., the very fact of its existence may be taken as proof that some one, some politician or political organization, the police or the prosecutor, or perhaps a combination of them, is selling the privilege to the operators of the gambling concessions, who, in many cases, are very pleasant persons, religious, chaste and devoted to their families. They bear an unfortunate reputation as a trade group, but from my own acquaintance with them I am conscious of a distinct social preference for professional gamblers as compared with financiers. However, I have only a hearsay knowledge of financiers. Some of them may be all right.

My gambling friends, including the big casino, E. R. Bradley, all insist that their games cannot be beaten and Col. Bradley, in effect, warns you not to be fool enough to try. They will point out that the percentage is always working for them and that, given enough time and enough action, they will soak you up.

Of financiers, on the other hand, I have read that they used many lures to draw the citizens into their game and I know that they have never been so frank as to warn the customers as Col. Bradley does. They have even defended stock gambling, or trading, as something essential to industry. No table gambler ever attempted to sanctify his business with any such claim.

Poolrooms Evade the Tax, while Tracks Pay.

In some countries gambling is run under charters or concessions from the government and thus yields revenue to the treasury, which alleviates the taxes on property, income or imports to that exact extent. In some of the American states the same theory is followed with respect to gambling on horse races at the horse tracks. But much more money is gambled on the horses in poolrooms and little branch stores remote from the tracks than is wagered in the presence of the steeds. This form of gambling, being, like the table sports, illegal, is subject to no tax except such of the money as is telegraphed to the tracks to run through the mutuel machines, and there is skimmed for the state.

If table gambling and all poolroom and handbook speculation were taxed to the same extent that mutuel gambling is assessed for state revenues the relief to the taxpayers would be much greater.

The government takes a small kitty from stock gambling in the exchanges, but not as a gambling tax. It is called by another name, thus sparing this dignified form of finance the odi-

SOX PICK JONES TO OPEN WITH SENATORS TODAY

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Washington Senators this afternoon will open a four game series with the White Sox. They come to town in possession of a 5½ game lead over the New York Yankees and they'll still be in the lead when they leave Chicago next Friday evening. The margin which will exist on their departure depends on two sets of circumstances—what the Sox do to the Senators and what the Browns do simultaneously to the Yankees.

The Senators swept the series the last time they were here, but since that time the White Sox had an experience quite rare in the American league this year—in Washington the Sox beat the Senators three out of four. The Sox do not think the Senators will fatten their lead while in Chicago.

Jones Gets the Call.

Sam Jones, who pitched a couple of fine games his last two times out, will open the series. Manager Fonseca had planned to follow up with Ted Lyons, Milt Gaston, and Lefty Miller, but Lyons went in to pitch the ninth in Sunday's 17 inning affair with the Tigers and wound up by pitching nine innings. Miller had pitched the first eight. This rather upset the works. However, Jones is a certainty for the opener, and Miller, who beat the Senators two of the three games won in the last meeting, will be in the final.

The Sox, because the Senators were en route, were idle yesterday, as were the St. Louis Browns, who had to wait for the Yankees. The Sox were, perhaps the only ones in the group who were interested in the two games played in the American league yesterday—Boston vs. Detroit and Philadelphia vs. Cleveland.

Neither the Senators nor Yanks are much interested in the activities of any team except each other and the teams they are playing. On the other hand, the Sox still are confident they can finish ahead of the Indians and have not given up the thought they also can overtake the A's and finish in third place for a bonus of approximately $650 per man. And then, too, they are eyeing Boston, a team they've been able to beat only twice this year and must face in seven games in four days after the Senators and Yanks have come and gone.

Al Certainly Is Due.

The Sox are expecting Al Simmons to go on a hitting rampage during the invasion by the easterners. If he does this and Mule Haas starts hitting again, and the team otherwise performs as it has recently, the Sox should go places, despite the class of the opposition which is upon them.

The morale of the Chicagoans never has been better, despite several discouraging incidents, including the loss of two games in eight days which they were winning with two out and none on in the ninth.

FOXX ADDS FIVE POINTS TO LEAD OVER SIMMONS

Taking advantage of the inactivity of other members of baseball's big six, Jimmy Foxx yesterday pounded out four hits in five trips to the plate to assume a commanding lead over Al Simmons in the American league half of the sextet. The hitting spree boosted the Athletics first baseman's batting average five points to .362, 11 more than Simmons. The standings:

PIRATES WHIP YANKS, 10 TO 2, IN EXHIBITION GAME

Cubs Battle Braves, Road Jinx, Today

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., Aug. 14.—If the Cubs have pennant winning ability they'll have to start showing it tomorrow. The time is past when they can fritter away games on the road and laugh off the defeats by saying they'll make up for it at home. The situation now is that they have to win on the road—this trip—or what they do in September at home will not mean anything except a city series with the White Sox.

The program the Cubs must go through during the next three weeks is not the kind to inspire confidence among the faithful constituents, nor does the past record of the Cubs in the eastern half of the league add cheer to the outlook. Starting here tomorrow against the Braves, they play nineteen games with the four eastern clubs, one of them being the leading Giants. All season the Cubs have won only eleven while losing fourteen in the east. On that basis they figure to take only eight while dropping eleven. That will not be enough. The consoling thought, however, is that they might surprise everybody.

The Record Reveals All.

If anybody thinks the road complex of the Chicagoans is a myth, let them look at the figures on past performances. In Boston the Cubs have broken even in eight games. In Brooklyn they can show two victories, against three defeats. In New York they have been beaten five times while winning two. In Philadelphia they have an edge. They've won three while dropping two there. That is only the best part of the road story. The other part concerns the happenings in the western cities. At Pittsburgh the Cubs won four against seven defeats and they are almost ashamed to mention St. Louis and Cincinnati. They won two and lost seven in each place. That totals nineteen victories and thirty-five defeats.

Now peruse the happy at home figures of forty-two triumphs and fourteen defeats. They have taken five out of seven from the Giants at Wrigley field. The Pirates were taken for eight out of eleven. The Cardinals surrendered five out of eight. The Phillies lost five out of seven. The Braves won only one in eight starts this year in Chicago. Brooklyn won once in seven starts and Cincy twice in eight. Had the Braves played any kind of ball in Chicago they'd be tied right now with the Cubs in the percentage table, and the Braves still are in the race.

PICTURES CAUGHT BY THE PEN DURING POLO'S WORLD'S SERIES

From Frank B. Hoffman's sketchbook come these ink drawings which capture the spirit of Sunday's struggle on the Onwentsia polo field. Mr. Hoffman, who is widely celebrated for his ability to picture horses, made these sketches during the battle between Tommy Hitchcock's eastern team and the western quartet led by Cecil Smith. The teams will play again tomorrow.

Smith Rides Again Tomorrow as West Seeks Polo Triumph

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Cecil Smith, who proved Sunday that he is one of the gamest and greatest polo players who ever swung a mallet, will ride again tomorrow with the western team in the second match of the intersectional series against Tommy Hitchcock's eastern squad. After an examination of X-ray photographs, physicians yesterday stated that his injuries are not grave enough to keep him out of the contest.

When Smith's horse rolled over him in a spectacular spill during the fifth chukker of Sunday's game, it appeared certain that he would be out for the series. One of the physicians attending him said that for 20 minutes after the fall he showed all the symptoms of severe concussion of the brain. After recovering consciousness he sat dazed and sick, while Neil McCarthy prepared to go in to take his place. Presently an ambulance was driven out upon the field, and attendants prepared to help the injured man into it.

"Watch Smith now," a western ranchman said. "No cowboy will ever get into an ambulance."

"Give Me a Little Time," He Pleads.

Smith climbed a bit unsteadily to his feet and walked away from the waiting vehicle. "Give me a little time," he said. "I'm going back into the game."

Against the wishes of Carleton F. Burke, manager of the western team, and Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, chairman of the managing committee of the series, Smith insisted on mounting his horse and resuming play. Though he continued to perform in spectacular style, it was thought that he might be "out on his feet," or more correctly, "out on his horse."

X-Rays Reveal No Concussion.

FARM BOY, 16, DAZZLES CROWD AT HAWTHORNE

Takes Big Lead in Race for Title.

[PICTURE ON FOLLOWING PAGE.]

Five times during the afternoon he came whipping and yelling down the home stretch to push the thoroughbred he was riding first past the winning post. It was one of the most spectacular riding exhibitions of the year.

Once before this season he rode five winners. That took place back in June at Washington Park. Since then he has knocked at the door of fame on several occasions while taking a stout hold on first place in the race for the American jockey championship. He was back in his most brilliant form yesterday while riding every type of horse and sporting the silks of numerous owners.

The horses he piloted simply fought to run away from their foes once Westrope was in the saddle. Some of them won by wide margins and some of them in head and head finishes. They never faltered when Westrope gave them the word.

Now He Has 177.

Jockey.	Mounts.	Winners.
Westrope	685	177
Humphries	620	123
H. Grayson	570	118
W. Wright	665	114
M. Parke	651	111

Year. Jockey	Mounts.	Winners.
1932—J. Gilbert	1,050	213
1931—H. Roble	1,174	173
1930—H. R. Riley	861	177
1929—M. Knight	871	149
1928—J. Inzelone	1,052	155
1927—L. Hardy	1,130	207

The most winners an American jockey ever rolled up in one year came in 1906. Walter Miller, a native of New York, who now resides in Chicago, was first on 388 horses. He was busily engaged all of the twelve months of the year in New York, Chicago, and at the tracks in California.

Jack Starts Early.

Westrope opened yesterday's program with a victory on Chagrin, from the Keeneland stud in Kentucky, and came back in the second race to win on Doris Jean, owned by Jake Lowenstein of Chicago, in the first half of the daily double.

The youngster missed on Ed Lark in the third race. Old Ed was out of the money, but Westrope came right back in the fourth and fifth races to boot home two of Col. Edward R. Bradley's charges. The Bradley double was scored by Bitty Bit, a 2 year old son of Northstar III.-Pelittin, and the veteran Broad Meadows, a son of Black Servant-Bit of White.

Westrope made his greatest ride of the afternoon when he got Dusky Devil, owned by the Blue Ridge farm, up to win the Glendale purse at a mile and a sixteenth for his fifth triumph.

His rivals tried to gang on him in this race and they had him in such a tight spot a sixteenth of a mile out it didn't seem possible he could get up in time to win. He had to weave his mount in and out and come through between Mad Wind and Band Wagon, which seemed to have him hopelessly pocketed.

Just Another Victory.

Westrope got Dusky Devil out of the pocket and won in the last stride. Jockey Wayne Wright on Mad Wind was blamed for putting Westrope in the pocket and he was suspended for five days for rough riding. It was the second penalty of this kind meted out to Wright during the Chicago season.

Westrope had no work to do in the seventh race. In the eighth he rode Sun Thorn, a sprinter. Westrope tried to make him stick it out a mile and a furlong, but it was too much of a job for anybody. Sun Thorn was out of the money. Uncommon Gold, the favorite, won it.

A $2 wager parlayed on Westrope's five winning mounts yesterday would have returned the better a total of $396.37. However, a parlay ticket on all six of the horses he rode would have netted a $2 loss, because of Ed Lark's failure in the third race.

Only twice this year has a jockey on any of the leading tracks in America been able to ride five winners in one afternoon. Westrope did it both times. For nearly three months he has been leading the American jockey race and is so far ahead now there seems little likelihood of anybody catching him unless he should suddenly be put out of action by an injury or penalty. He isn't likely to draw a suspension for he is not of the rough rider type.

He's Just a Kid.

Westrope comes from a family of farmers in Iowa and is only 16 years old. He exercised horses and served as a stable boy for a couple of years but never was allowed to wear silks until last February at the Oriental Park track in Cuba. He has been a sensation since then, having wound up as the leading rider at every track over which he has ridden.

His contract has been in great demand, but O. L. Foster, who holds it, refused all offers. Should he decide to sell the contract, it is understood Col. Bradley will get first chance at it.

Far Star and Mata Hari, the Dixiana stable 2 year old stars, were handed top weight for the $5,000 Hawthorne Juvenile handicap, to be run on Saturday. In racing Secretary McLennan's opinion, Far Star is the better of the two fillies. He handed her a package of 122 pounds as a result of her Arlington Futurity triumph. Mata Hari's weight will be 120 pounds.

Others in the field of 68 nominations near to the Dixiana pair are Ding Bin, 119; Discovery, New Deal and Penncote, 116; Lady Higloss, 115; Don Manuel, Swiftsport and Salaam, 114; Collateral and Sun Tempest, 113, and Cloud D'Or, Constant Wife, Trey and Vicar, 112.

B. S. Michell, who gained fame as the trainer of the champion, Reigh Count, a few seasons back, yesterday signed to train the string owned by Albert Sabath, Chicago attorney and vice president of the Hawthorne Racing association. Michell had been handling his own horses this season. He succeeds Louis Cahn as the trainer of the Sabath horses.

During the first two weeks of the Hawthorne season 34 per cent of the favorites were able to win. This is just about normal at tracks where formful racing is the rule.

Entries for the $10,000 added Chicago Derby to be run on Sept. 2 and for the John C. Schank memorial to be decided on Aug. 26 will close tonight at midnight. Joe McLennan is at Saratoga accepting entries for the stakes and wired the Hawthorne management yesterday that a dozen or more horses will come from the east for the races.

Word came from the east yesterday that Equipoise will arrive at Hawthorne about Aug. 20 to fill his engagement in the Hawthorne gold cup which is to be run on Thursday, Aug. 24. Sonny Workman will ride the Whitney champion.

MEXICAN ARMY RIDERS TO ENTER CHICAGO RODEO

Officials of the World's Fair rodeo announced yesterday that Gen. Jesus Jaime Quinones of the Mexican army is preparing to start for Chicago with a troop of riders and ropers known as "Charros." This Mexican contingent is to perform on the 17 day rodeo program which begins at Soldiers' field Aug. 25 and continues until Sept. 10. Among other accomplishments the general has a knack of leaping from the saddle of his pony to the bare back of a wild horse while both animals are going at a full gallop.

One hundred seventy-five wild horses have been rounded up on the western ranges and are now quartered at Blackfoot, Idaho, ready to be shipped to Chicago. These will be used for bareback riding and for the wild horse races. The bucking horses, the calves, steers, and Brahma bulls already have arrived and are quartered on a farm near Lake Forest.

The cowboys who will compete in this rodeo have been selected on the basis of past performances in the famous contests at Prescott, Cheyenne, and other western towns. The field is limited to 30 contestants in each event. Each cowboy will compete every day and standings will be posted so that the spectators may follow the progress of their favorites toward the championship.

CHAGRIN, away fast, but forced back when in close quarters on far turn, saved ground on stretch turn and, closing with good speed, was up in final strides. BILLY PAT followed ULTRA VOTE over soon after the start, drew clear under strong riding after reaching stretch, but failed to withstand the winner. SNOWPLAY was under strong urging the final three-eighths and held on resolutely.

DORIS JEAN, beginning fast, quickly worked her way clear, came out when entering stretch and, holding on well, held POLLY'S FOLLY safe. Latter moved up fast on the stretch turn, continued in resolute fashion after following the winner out when entering stretch, but could not get up. PORTMANTEAU had no mishap and was best of others.

REPLEVIN, beginning slowly and allowed to remain out of it for three-quarters, responded to mild pressure and, getting through on inside in final eighth, was up in closing strides. DON TASKER, much used in the pacemaking, slowly gave way in stretch, LARK in stretch, yet held on well, but failed to withstand winner near end. CATHERINE FOX, on inside early, was taken out after reaching final half mile and closed well under strong hand ridins.

Hurley. Went to post at 3:32. At post 3¼ minutes. Start good from gate. Won driving; second and third same.

BITTY BIT, well up from the start and raced wide throughout, loafed after getting to front and was headed by MUMSIE in final eighth, but was up in closing strides. MUMSIE had speed from the start, held on gamely while saving ground in stretch, and narrowly failed to last after regaining the lead in the final eighth. TOPPLE, slow to get going, saved ground on stretch turn and closed stronsest of all.

Winner trained by W. Hurley. Went to post at 3:58. Off at once. Start good from gate. Won handily; second and third driving.

BROAD MEADOWS, kept up while in good quarter, the first three-sixteenths, saved ground on the turn and, coming around PANCHO LOPEZ gradually, drew clear and was safe from others. MERRILY ON, steadied for a half mile, closed resolutely under strong riding, but just lasted for second. LEMON HILLS, far out of it for a half mile, closed with a rush.

Winner trained by T. J. Shannon. Went to post at 4:21. At post 1 minute. Start good from gate. Won driving; second and third same.

DUSKY DEVIL, rated along close to the pace, responded when called upon and, overcoming mild interference from MAD WIND, outfinished latter in closing strides. MAD WIND, under stout restraint for three-quarters, worked his way to front on outside, inclined to bear over, was handled with great difficulty in late stages, and might have been beat. BAND WAGON had good speed, was cleverly rated, and fell back slowly in the final stretch.

Winner trained by J. M. Milburn. Went to post at 4:47. Off at once. Start good from gate. Won driving; second and third driving.

BARRY rated along under snug restraint to the stretch, came away slightly approaching the final eighth and, while not seriously endangered, was ridden out. CHOKOLOSKEE had to lose ground after first three-eighths, could not get to the winner, but held on well, outstaying MAD CAREER.

Winner trained by N. W. Burkhart. Went to post at 5:13¼. At post 2¼ minutes. Start good from gate. Won easily; second and third driving.

UNCOMMON GOLD slipped through on the inside when entering the backstretch, came away on the stretch turn and, continuing in his best form, won in hand. TRANSBIRD, in close quarters and brought to the outside on the stretch turn, bore over badly when closing strong. SLASH saved ground much of the trip, moved up in the stretch, and was tiring badly when impeded by TRANSBIRD near the end.

Smith to Ride for West Again in Polo Series

Smith yesterday said that his mount, Texas Beauty, a Chicago horse, was in no way to blame for the accident, which occurred in the course of a collision with another pony. He demonstrated his confidence in the horse by using her again in the last chukker. Tommy Hitchcock's Katrina was the only other mount ridden in more than one period. Jim Hannah of Oak Brook loaned Texas Beauty to Smith for the duration of the series.

Burke yesterday expressed himself particularly gratified by the performance of Aidan Roark. Hearing the statement several months ago that Michael Phipps was the greatest No. 1 player in the world, western polo critics replied, "Wait until Roark goes into action."

In Sunday's game Phipps was able to get his mallet on the ball only a few times in the entire afternoon, whereas Roark was repeatedly drawing applause from the galleries with his remarkable shots. He didn't dub one throughout the afternoon. It was the consensus that he showed a genius for teamwork.

Different Story Tomorrow—Hitchcock.

In commenting upon the 15 to 11 defeat of the East, Hitchcock said the West clearly was the better team—Sunday. However, he believes that a different story will unfold tomorrow on the Onwentsia field. He has not definitely decided to change his lineup, but followers of the game believe that if any alteration is made, Earle Hopping will be placed on the team. Hopping has had considerable experience in international play and has a powerful physique, which would be an important factor in coping with the rough riding westerners.

If the west wins tomorrow the series will be over, and one of the greatest upsets in the history of polo will have taken place. A defeat such as this would be the first suffered by any team upon which Hitchcock has played since he reached the top of American polo.

Tickets to the game are on sale at the Onwentsia club and at room 912 Builders building, 228 North La Salle street. There are 10,000 general admission seats at $1.10, and the North Shore electric line has offered a special round trip rate of $1.

UNCONSCIOUS 30 DAYS.

PARK RIDGE BOY GETS 111 TO WIN CADDY TOURNEY

Henry Frankenberg Takes C. D. G. A. 27 Hole Event

BY CHARLES BARTLETT

A field of 172 of the kids who stand silently by while many a duffer is choosing the wrong club spoke for themselves yesterday in the annual caddy tournament of the Chicago District Golf association at the Nordic Country club. It was a record attendance, forty-three clubs, from all parts of the district, being represented.

Harry Frankenberg, a 17 year old Schurz High school student who carries clubs at Park Ridge and who has been making himself heard of in this year's junior tournaments, won the individual title with a 27 hole score of 111, five over par for the distance. The legend that has grown up around the caddy beginnings of Gene Sarazen and Johnny Goodman apparently still is an inspiration to stick toters in the Chicago district, for many of the boys hereabouts are already shooting scores that even their talented elders might envy.

Park Ridge Wins Team Trophy.

The team trophy, presented by the Medinah Country club, was decided on the basis of four eighteen hole scores from each club. Park Ridge took the big cup home through the work of Frankenberg, who had a 74 on his morning round, and Jimmy Fairbairn, who turned in a 77. Hubert Weber, with an 82, and Howard Olsen, with a 93, were the other members of the winning team. Their total was 326, one better than Exmoor's aggregate. They were trailed by Calumet with a 333, and Bryn Mawr, whose four brought in a 336. Nordic, defending the team trophy, finished well down the list, having lost every member of its winning team of last year because of the age barrier.

Frankenberg's card for the 27 holes follow:

Par—Out	444	443	534	—35
Par—In	535	343	445	—36—71
Frankenberg—Out	443	453	634	—36
Frankenberg—In	534	344	555	—38—74
Frankenberg—Out	544	444	534	—37—111

Gets Two Birdies.

The Park Ridge boy birdied the third by reaching it in two. He was over the fifth green, and was in the woods at the seventh. He reached the 12th in two for another birdie, and then encountered trouble at the 15th, 16th and 17th. He dubbed his drive at the 19th, and followed par to the 24th, where his tee shot was out of bounds. He drove the last green, but needed three puts to get down.

Nine of the leaders at the end of the first eighteen holes competed in the nine hole playoff for the individual championship. In addition to Frankenberg, they were William Fraser, Euclid Hills, who finished with 77—36—113; Irvin Kleinedeler, Glen Oak, 77—39—116; James Fairbairn, Park Ridge, 77—40—117 ;Harry Hall, Lake Shore, 77—42—119; William Curtin, Kildeer, 79—40—119; Pete Brochoff, Ruth Lake, 79—40—119; Joe Smiseki, Bryn Mawr, 79—42—121, and Tony Sass, Calumet, 78—45—123.

SHIRES IS FINED $200 FOR FAKING SALARY FIGURES

Durham, N. C., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Arthur (the Great) Shires and three other baseball players, all of whom were with the Columbus club of the American association earlier in the year, have been fined by Judge W. G. Bramham, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, for signing false affidavits in connection with their 1933 contracts.

The investigation showed the men had entered into an agreement with the St. Louis Cardinals, owners of the Columbus club, which would net them remuneration in excess of that designated in their contracts.

Shires and Gordon Slade were fined $200 and James Lindsey and Charles Wilson were assessed $100 each. The Columbus club previously had been fined $500 and deprived of the services of the four.

MRS. LONG MEDALIST

Struggling through the traps yesterday at Waveland golf course, Mrs. Rose Long of Jackson park club posted 46—48—94, to capture medal honors in the women's Illinois public parks tournament. Miss Shirley Johnson of Sunset Ridge, a semi-finalist in the women's western junior tournament at Evanston, had 49—48—97, and Miss Virginia Jensen of Mohawk, 49—52—101.

With a start that was two under par for the first two holes Mrs. Long began to find the traps. She spoiled a brassie shot at the seventh and was bunkered at the ninth. Sliced drives were costly on the back nine, where the Jackson Park golfer had additional trouble around the greens.

Miss Johnson in Difficulty.

Miss Johnson's start was enough to take the heart out of any golfer. She was in the shrubs, two traps, and finally on the green, only to use three putts. This represented nine strokes, but she made up two of them with an eagle at the second hole, had a birdie at the eleventh, and, in the aggregate, seven extra putt greens.

Mrs. John B. Avery of the home club, with 31 strokes on 18 greens, won the prize for the least number of putts.

Contestants who failed to qualify for match play will meet Wednesday in a medal play round, handicap, for gross and net prizes.

EAST AND WEST FOOTBALL TEAMS START PRACTICE

More than 40 football players, each a star at his position ,swarmed out on the Dyche stadium gridiron yesterday as the picked East and West squads which will meet in a night game at Soldiers' field the night of Aug. 24 answered their coaches' first summons to practice.

Both squads used the field, but the hours of practice did not clash.

Coach Howard Jones of the University of Southern California, who selected the members of the All-West team and who will have charge of it in the game, arrived from the west coast shortly in advance of the main group of coast stars, which checked in yesterday.

Go Right to Work.

Jones, with the western players already on hand, met the late comers, 14 of them, and then after luncheon hurried them out to the stadium and into uniforms.

Dick Hanley, Northwestern university's head man in football, who has had much experience in the assembling and training of all-star aggregations, and who will direct the eastern group, greeted his complete squad for the first time as the ten day training grind opened.

Coach Jones, who expressed confidence that the westerners would give their rivals a lesson in football on the 24th, announced two changes in his tentative lineup after calling the roll. Garret Arbelbide, former Southern California end, is playing baseball in the Pacific Coast league and will be replaced by Dick Millhaupt of the University of California at Los Angeles, and George Sargent, a standout lineman at Loyola at Los Angeles, will supplant Dick Tozer of California, who was unable to make the trip.

Yesterday's list of arrivals from the coast reads like a chapter from the Who's Who of western football. It included Dave Nesbit of Washington, George Sander of Washington State, Morley Drury of Southern California, Howard Tipton, also of the Trojans; Hans Slavich of Santa Clara college, Frank Christensen of Utah, Max Krause of Gonzaga, Gaius Shaver of Southern California, Hank Schaldach of California, Jack Johnson of Utah, Sargent, Millhaupt; Pete Heiser of Stanford, and Sam Gill of California.

Jones indicated that he would open the intersectional battle with Tay Brown and Ernie Smith, both of Southern California, at tackles; Johnny Baker, another Trojan, and Heiser, at guards; Ray Sparling, still another Jones product, and Nesbit at ends, and Stan Williamson, who was captain of the 1931 Southern California eleven, at center.

The tentative starting back field includes Schaldach at quarter back; Drury and Bill Beasley, the latter from St. Mary's, at halves and Shaver at full back.

One Week Remains to Send Entries for Tribune Swim

BY WILFRID SMITH.

One week remains in which the boys and girls of Chicagoland may enter the fourth annual 100 yard swimming championships which will be sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE at the Lincoln park lagoon Aug. 27. The deadline for entries is Aug. 22. Post entries will not be accepted.

There are two team trophies offered this year. One of these will go to the boys' organization which scores the most points in the five age divisions and the other will be presented to the girls' team which leads in scoring. Last year, when only one trophy was offered, it was won by the girls representing the Illinois Women's Athletic club. The swimmers from the Jewish People's institute were second.

I. W. A. C. Team Disbands.

The I. W. A. C., which has been continued under the name of the Tower Town club for the last several months, was disbanded last night. Mrs. Lillian W. Reilly, athletic director for the last seven years, called the club's athletes together last night for the last time and divided the many trophies won by the club among them. The division was made according to the number of points scored by each athlete.

"The cups and trophies belong to the girls," Mrs. Reilly said yesterday, "and they will treasure them more than any one else or any organization."

Mrs. Reilly presented the girl athletes with their releases last night and they now may represent any club they wish. Mrs. Reilly intends to join her young son in Phoenix, Ariz., and probably will continue her athletic activity there.

It's an Open Race.

With the I. W. A. C. out of the running for the girls' trophy, the field is open to other clubs. It is impossible under the circumstances to predict which clubs will win the cups just as it always is impossible to pick the ten champions from the field which now promises to total 3,000. All swimmers who report for their racing numbers on the morning of the events will receive a souvenir button emblematic of their ability to swim 100 yards.

Helen Reineking, 517 Independence boulevard, is one of the several entrants who has misread the instructions. All swimmers 16 years of age and over must be registered with the Central Association of the A. A. U. The 25 cent registration fee, which entitles the swimmer to membership for one year, must not be sent to THE TRIBUNE. If registration is desired in advance, mail 25 cents to Capt. Roy E. Davis, 538 South Clark street. A. A. U. clerks will be present on the morning of the races to collect the fees, and this arrangement will be satisfactory to the officials.

All Amateurs Eligible.

Others have asked for further instructions concerning the rules. All amateur swimmers are eligible except that previous champions must compete in the next advanced age class. All must report between 10 a. m. and 12:30 p. m. on Aug. 27 to receive their numbers and at this time they will be assigned to heats in their respective divisions.

THE TRIBUNE'S races are designed primarily to encourage swimming and to test the ability of Chicago's boys and girls to swim 100 yards. There are 30 medals, ten of them for the champions and the others for those who finish second and third in each age class.

Fill Out Blank.

The age divisions, which are the same for both boys and girls, may be found in the entry blank which is printed daily in THE TRIBUNE. THEY TAX HORSE RACE BETS, WHY PASS UP DICE?

Such a definition would tend to classify financiers with crap shooters, faro people, and all such and would be very humiliating to the financiers, although I can see no reason why they should object if the crap shooters and faro people did not.

Government Control Would Solve Relief Problem.

A system of government gambling rooms in the city of New York, to embrace also the poolroom and handbook business, if conducted under treasury control, probably would yield enough revenue to take care of the relief burden which, under present conditions, cannot be met. Moreover, in their operations against the horses, the outpatients would get much better rates and thus a much less brutal tossing around than they are subject to in their dealings with bootleg dealers. The dealer has a large overhead inherent in the condition of his business and this comes out of the customers' money.

There is no moral difference between gambling on the dice or other gambling tools and gambling on the races, yet the states which sanction mutuel gambling and take a profit from it, thus acknowledging the virtue of horse betting, do not issue off licenses in any guise, except, of course, the toleration which is sold by individual public officers for graft.

I do not know whether, in the rebound from the terrific morality of the last ten years, the citizens are yet ready to sanction public gambling rooms and permit the treasuries to accept a share of the revenue to be used for the relief of the poor and the abatement of taxes. Morality is inconsistent. Gambling taxes derived from wagers made in sight of the steeds or from stock transactions are blessed. But up to this time, except in the state of Nevada, it has been considered wrong to accept a similar share from other forms of gambling which are morally indistinguishable from the legal sorts.

119 Golfers to Seek U. S. Women's Title

The defending champion, the British titleholder and the girl who beat the prince of Wales were among the record total of 119 British and American golf stars announced yesterday as entered for the national women's tournament at Exmoor Aug. 28-Sept. 2.

Only Glenna Collett Vare, five times winner of the title, is missing from the record field, which includes Virginia Van Wie, the 1932 winner; Enid Wilson, the British titleholder; Beatrice Gottlieb, who recently defeated the prince of Wales in an 18 hole match, and all the top-flight American stars.

Mrs. Vare, who has not missed the tournament for several years, is too busy taking care of her infant daughter to play golf.

FORD PLYMOUTH CHEVROLET OWNERS—

How much did YOU save on your last Automobile insurance premium?

Policyholders of the Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company saved $11.25 on their annual premium which, under Cook County standard rates for Fords, Plymouths and Chevrolets for Public Liability ($5,000-$10,000 limits) and Property Damage ($5,000 limits), is $45.00. "L-M-C" automobile insurance policyholders have never received less than a 25% dividend on their annual premium each year for the past twenty years—with equal savings on fire, theft and collision coverage through this organization.

Moreover, they received this saving while having the soundest of protection. The "L-M-C" with assets of over $16,000,000, is noted for its conservatism in underwriting and investing.

Why not investigate this substantial saving? It applies, of course, to cars of any make. Clip the coupon for complete information.

WILL PROSECUTE KANSAS OFFICIAL IN BOND SCANDAL

Governor Orders Action Against Treasurer.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Gov. Landon today directed the arrest and prosecution of State Treasurer Tom Boyd on charges of mishandling of state funds. Lester Goodell, county attorney, prepared to proceed with the prosecution and was preparing a warrant on which the state treasurer will be arrested. Boyd's immediate resignation was asked.

The specific complaint on which a warrant will be issued charges the state treasurer with gross neglect of duty as prescribed by law, and he will be prosecuted on several counts. A large force of stenographers was working in County Attorney Goodell's office preparing the complaints.

Follows Wide Investigation.

The arrest of Boyd follows many long conferences and examination of a score of witnesses by federal and state investigators delving into the operations of Ronald Finney, bond forger, whose operations extended into the state treasury, where he had free access to the bond vaults. His forgeries already accounted for amount more than $1,000,000 and his operations extended to Kansas City, Chicago and even to New York.

After today's long session with Assistant Treasurer E. E. Brown, former State Treasurer E. T. Thompson and Miss Vivian Tracey, former bond clerk, in Boyd's office, Gov. Landon dictated his letter to "make it imperative that T. B. Boyd, state treasurer of the state of Kansas, be prosecuted at once. I therefore, direct that you institute prosecution against the said T. B. Boyd."

Declines to Divulge Evidence.

Boyd said he had no statement to make. Last week he related details of a transaction in which he permitted Finney to take $150,000 in bonds from the treasurer's vaults to Chicago for disposition.

"I trusted him like a brother, and he lied to me," Boyd said when he was confronted with evidence that Finney had not returned the bonds, which later were found to be forgeries, deposited by a Finney bank as security for state funds on deposit in a Finney bank, and through which Finney obtained a $150,000 loan.

GRAIN MARKETS STAND STILL AT PEGGED PRICES

Few Offers Taken; Winnipeg Lower.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Trading in grain and provisions came to a practical standstill yesterday on American exchanges. The little business transacted was at the "pegged" minimum prices, and at no time were futures quoted as much as a fraction above the fixed minimum level. It was estimated that not over 3,000,000 bushels of all grains were traded in during the day.

All grains and provisions were quoted as offered at the last at the "pegged" prices, the same as on Saturday.

September wheat, regarded by buyers as an excellent bargain at $1.20 on July 18, was offered freely at 92⅛ cents yesterday with no buyers. December, which had sold at $1.24 during the height of the recent excitement, was obtainable in quantities to suit buyers at 95¾ cents, while May wheat sold at 99⅞ cents.

Few Buyers of Corn.

There were very few buyers of corn in evidence, although prices were off as much as 21⅞ cents from the high of the season in July, when the December sold up to 76¼ cents. September was offered at 39⅝ cents, December at 54⅝ cents, and May at 60⅛ cents.

Business in cash grain was almost at a standstill. At Minneapolis cash wheat on which the owner refused to take the future in exchange was quoted at 7 cents per bushel below hedged grain.

In the face of the smallest oat crop in 49 years the September option could have been bought liberally yesterday at 36¾ cents and December at 40¼ cents. September rye was 68 cents and December 73⅝ cents, while September barley was 53 cents and December 57¼ cents, all being offered at the quoted figures.

Grain Pits Almost Deserted.

The grain pits were practically deserted, except for commission house brokers who had liberal selling orders in their hands and were unable to fill them. Many members went home early in the day and he others draped themselves along the edges of the pits and discussed the general situation.

American speculators were again free sellers of wheat futures in the Winnipeg market and caused a break of as much as 5¼ cents in the Canadian market at the start, when October dropped to 67 cents. This was 16⅝ cents under the high of last Thursday and 28¾ cents below the top figure on July 18.

Government support, combined with buying by exporters, brought about a strong rally in the Canadian market, with wheat closing 1⅞ to 2⅝ cents lower. However, oats dropped 1⅞ to 2¼ cents; rye, 2⅛ to 2¾ cents, and barley, 3¼ to 4 cents. Liverpool was 2 to 2¼ cents lower for the day.

NO TRADE IN ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 14.—(AP)—For the first time in more than half a century, there were no transactions today in the grain pit of the merchants exchange, although the regular session was held and traders were in the circle. All active wheat futures were offered at the "pegged" prices without takers.

Cash Grain Prices at Farm Below 'Peg'

BY HOWARD WOOD.

The blackboard again ruled the prices of grains and provisions at the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. High above the great trading floor the prices were chalked at levels prescribed by the board of directors.

Wheat for September delivery, for example, was marked 92⅛ cents per bushel. Corn for September delivery was posted at 46⅝ cents per bushel. The board of directors had ruled that prices should not be lower than these and so they were not lower.

But while everything was in proper shape on the blackboard and the numbers were up to the prescribed minimum things elsewhere were far from well.

Down below in the grain pits, where only a few weeks ago new sales records were established by a mob of howling, shoving traders, there was a deadly calm. Traders lounged on the steps of the big octagonal platforms and complained because they were not better upholstered. There were plenty of arguments and jests and a few stories—but little business.

These are the men whose pulling and pounding and tugging and sawing at prices are supposed to make the market for the farmers' grain. They weren't making the market because they had been told that the numbers must not go below a certain level and the public that supplies the orders for these traders thought the level was too high yesterday.

And down on the farm things weren't so good, either. Normally the price of wheat at the country elevator is based upon the price quoted in the Chicago market. At this season of the year the spread between cash grain delivered at the elevator, plus freight to Chicago, varies only a fraction of a cent from the price of wheat for September delivery—only two weeks away.

Yesterday, however, while what little September wheat had to be bought at the Board of Trade was changing hands at the pegged minimum of 92⅛ cents per bushel provision men were buying wheat to arrive in 20 days from the farmers at country elevators on a basis that would put it into Chicago at 88⅛ cents per bushel.

The same thing was happening in corn. No. 2 mixed corn was selling at country elevators on a 47⅜ cent basis, while the September future at the Board of Trade was pegged a 49⅝ cents per bushel.

In Minneapolis there was an even greater spread. No. 1 northern unhedged cash wheat was selling on an 85⅛ cent basis, while the September delivery was pegged at 92⅛ cents per bushel.

* *

Meanwhile the association of grain commission merchants was holding a closed session to talk over the situation, and grain men generally were wondering just what would be the best way to let go of a red hot poker. The Board of Trade directors voted last week to remove the price minimums Wednesday.

The minimum was applied once before—after Doc Crawford's Napoleonic fling—and had been removed. Then it had to be applied again. Now that the time was nearing for the second removal the market again turned invalid. It seemed to have the minimum habit.

The trouble was that the trading public had become suspicious and fearful of an artificial market. Amateurs and professionals alike who did not hesitate to jump into the market when it was boiling and seething with speculative activity were afraid to get burned in a market whose prices were made artificially by somebody at the Board of Trade or in Washington or somewhere else.

Despite a sensationally bullish crop report only last week and despite the renewal of inflation talk the public simply said "No, thank you. I'll take mine straight."

Meanwhile the minimum that had become a maximum was providing no protection for the farmer because it had virtually closed his market and driven away the bulls who might have helped it. And if it was providing any protection for overextended traders that protection promised to end Tuesday night unless the Board of Trade alters its decision.

When the price minimum was first applied last month the officials at the department of agriculture and the officers of the Board of Trade vied to see who should get credit for the idea. Now everybody is anxious to disclaim parentage.

When prices, by any previous means of measurement, should be going up, they go down, apparently because the tinkering with the market has aroused public distrust.

One Washington official yesterday was reported to be using his influence to get the Board of Trade to reconsider removal of the pegs. Another equally important official, so far as grain is concerned, was pointing out that retention of pegs might have as bad an effect as removal, now that cash grains are backing away from the pegged prices.

The free market had become a rigged market and it had gone haywire.

Grain Market 'Fireworks' Prove Dud

Harmony prevailed on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday, in sharp contrast with the open criticism of the officials and directors of the exchange which had been in evidence of late.

At a meeting of the Association of Grain Commission Merchants, forecast as likely to result in a grand display of fireworks, a resolution was unanimously adopted, according to a statement given out after the meeting, approving of the action of the directors in abolishing the "pegged" prices for grain. The "pegs" were established July 31 and will end at the close of today's markets unless the directors extend them at a meeting this afternoon.

Move for Open Market.

Personal differences of opinion which existed as to the desirability of fixed prices were said to have been thrown aside in what was regarded as a pressing need to provide a free and open market so that the farmer would have a chance to sell his grain. Some commission houses were said to have already advised country shippers to cease buying and withhold what grain they had already bought from terminal markets.

Another reason for the desire to bring about a restoration of free trading was the near approach of the deliveries on September contracts. With 92,000,000 bushels of open September contracts in the Chicago market alone and only 35,000,000 bushels of cash grain in all positions here it would have resulted in a corner had the pegged figures been maintained, it was said.

Fear Cash Grain Discounts.

Fears that the cash grain would sell at tremendous discounts as compared with the futures were also expressed. This situation was reported as already developing. At Minneapolis unhedged wheat was quoted at 7 cents per bushel below hedged wheat, with unhedged rye 5 cents discount, corn 4 cents under, and oats and barley 3 cents under the hedged commodity. Confronted with this situation those who were prepared to fight for the maintenance of pegged prices and many other things quickly abandoned their position.

The threat of civil war within the Board of Trade itself was said to have been sidetracked temporarily, according to all interests, who are understood to have agreed that there is nothing in common between pegged prices and a desire to bring about a house cleaning.

PARK & TILFORD PLANS TO RESUME LIQUOR BUSINESS

Park & Tilford, which started in business as a small grocery store in New York City in 1840, announced yesterday that it will reënter the wine and liquor business in the event the twentieth amendment is repealed.

Gordon Stewart, president, said contracts have been signed to handle Heidsieck & Co.'s champagnes and Booth's dry gins. Mr. Stewart said other contracts are pending. In 1917 the company was reported to have handled a liquor and wine volume totaling $20,000,000.

Papanek-Kovac Bank Will Pay 15 Pct. to Depositors

State Auditor Edward J. Barrett yesterday authorized a 15 per cent payment to depositors of the Papanek-Kovac State bank, 134 North La Salle street. Two previous dividends of 10 per cent each were paid since the bank closed in June last year.

GEN. ELECTRIC RAISES PAY OF 42,000 MEN BY $8,000,000 A YEAR

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 14.—(AP)—Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric company, announced today wage increases totaling $8,000,000 and addition of 2,000 employés to the company's pay roll. The wage increase affects more than 42,000 employés. The additional workers will be put to work almost immediately.

Mr. Swope, after a meeting of General Electric executives, said the code for the national electrical manufacturing industry would go into effect tomorrow, but that pay rises and hour reductions would be effective as of Aug. 7 in his company.

All wages and salaries have been increased where necessary to reach the minimum, he announced, and equitable adjustments in other salaries have been made. Hours have been decreased in accordance with the code to thirty-six hours in the shops and forty hours in the offices, which have been on the reduced hours schedule since April, 1931.

U. S. MAY DELAY ACTION AGAINST GOLD HOARDERS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—Gold hoarders, whom Attorney General Homer S. Cummings threatened with exposure and prosecution beginning Thursday of this week, today appeared to be in line for another stay of execution.

Before he left to go vacationing in Connecticut the attorney general promised action on the gold hoarding question "within two or three weeks." The deadline falls day after tomorrow, but the attorney general is still on his vacation, and officials said today nothing would be done in his absence.

Two hundred and six persons, reported to be holding more than a million and a quarter dollars in gold, are known to be defying the President's anti-hoarding order, according to the latest report of the bureau of investigation. Another 4,535 persons have surrendered more than 29 million dollars as a result of the campaign, the department of justice claims.

Attorney General Cummings has promised prosecution and publicity for the recalcitrant gold hoarders. He has indicated that he intends first to make public the names of persons who refuse to turn in gold and then to follow up this action with suits.

FRENCH WHEAT GROWERS CAN'T GET 'PEG' PRICE

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Aug. 14.—Difficulty has arisen in the application of France's effort at controlled economy by fixing the price of wheat. Just before its recess parliament decided this year's harvest would be sold at a minimum of 115 francs a quintal [about $1.72 a bushel at the current exchange], but with the harvest reaped farmers are finding no buyers at that price and their situation is giving rise to many protests.

At the annual wheat fair at Tours last week scarcely any business was done. Other wheat growing districts report the same situation. In the decree approved by parliament no allowance was made for the cost of stocking and transport. The result has been that, although wheat is being bought for local consumption, no offers are forthcoming from elsewhere and there have been no foreign purchases this year.

Dollar Gains to 74.56 Cents in Gold Value

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 14.—A better demand for American dollars in the London exchange market lifted their price in gold today and imparted a little movement to exchange rates, which had been almost lifeless during the greater part of last week.

Sterling showed a similar decline. It opened in London at 4.48¼, fell to 4.47, and started here at 4.46¾, down 1¼ cents from Saturday's close. It kept declining to close at 4.44.

The Paris exchange market was closed for the two Assumption day holidays, but the French franc was quoted in London at 84.53 to the pound, unchanged from last week, showing that the pound was being held on its level with the franc.

London attributed the rise of the dollar to "support." This is in conformity with the widespread disposition to seek an ulterior purpose to explain any movement in exchange rates."

New Treasury Bills Sold to Yield 26-100th of 1 Pct.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—(AP)—The treasury department today awarded $75,100,000 of ninety-one day treasury bills. Applications totaled $281,341,000 for an offering of $75,000,000. Accepted bids ranged from 99.94 to 99.928. The average price was 99.933 and the average rate was about .26 per cent per annum on a bank discount basis.

STOCKS DECLINE IN DULL TRADE; GRAIN WATCHED

Commodity Markets Chief Influence.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 14.—In dull trading that was almost wholly influenced by a stalemate grain market stocks continued to display a heavy tone today. The turnover was only 1,222,230 shares.

After an irregular opening prices sagged in a listless fashion throughout the list, the only exceptions to the trend occurring in two or three of the alcohol issues. Bulls, however, derived some comfort out of the dullness, for it seemed to indicate absence of important liquidation.

At the day's low levels prices of the general run of active issues were off from 1 to 3 points. Some firmness was noted in the last hour, but with speculative interest refusing to be aroused, the rally failed to change the general price level materially.

Await Action on Grains.

Sentiment obviously was ruled by the trend in commodity markets, especially wheat. With wheat barely moving at the low prices of Saturday the constructive element in securities refused to be budged into action, preferring to remain on the side lines until the uncertainty surrounding the removal of the minimum limit on wheat has been cleared up.

It was to be expected that some of the more alert traders would attempt to capitalize the uncertainty created by unsettled conditions in the grain market. These operators, however, turned to the buying side in the afternoon in a general move to close out short commitments built up late last week and extended early today. It was largely such short covering that made for the market's better tone in late deals.

Selling Pressure Absent.

Shorts probably were upset by the market's stubbornness in giving ground and by the absence of any appreciable pressure, trading dropping off to a whisper on the reaction. The action of the more volatile issues attested to the short situation. Allied Chemical, for instance, moved up a full point between sales on several trades.

The close alliance of stocks and the commodity markets also was indicated by the reaction of sugar shares to a sharp dip in sugar futures on the turnover of the Cuban government without open American intervention. Sugar shares lost 1 to 4 points, with South Porto Rico bearing the brunt of selling.

Many of the railroad shares were down 1 to 3 points without special reason, and the utilities did little better. Motor issues dropped as much as the rest, together with chemicals, coppers and oils.

First U. S. Ban Is Asked Under Securities Act

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—(AP)—The federal trade commission was asked today to issue its first stop order under the securities registration act against the sale of stock by a Texas firm which was represented as promising "big quick profit winnings" to "dear friends and backers" from an initial investment of $10.

Richard P. Whitely, commission counsel, recommended revocation of the registration of the Speculative Investment Trust of Fort Worth after the first public hearing under the act designed to protect investors from fraudulent stock issues. The commission must act within twenty-four hours.

Would Deal in Stocks.

Whitely said the company, organized in August, 1932, to deal in speculative investment in ownership shares of industries listed on the stock exchanges, failed to submit with his registration statements its advertising prospectus, balance sheet, and profit and loss statements for the last three years. He said it also made an error in the item calling for outstanding capital stock.

In addition, he introduced as evidence what he said was an advertisement sent by the company through the mails July 31, one of which was received by a man in Chicago. On the face of the advertisement was a big NRA blue eagle and a caption claiming registration under the "truth in securities act."

Company Asks Delay.

The company did not put in an appearance, but Bert Laubenheim, one of its officers, wired the commission to put the hearing off until he had time to prepare evidence. Whiteley, however, said the company was notified Aug. 4 that the registration application was deficient in many respects and he was permitted to lay the case before an examiner.

The Fort Worth concern had paid a registration fee of $25 which would have limited its issue of securities to $250,000.

Seven new registration applications were filed with the commission today, bringing to $170,787,300 the total since the securities act became effective in May.

AL SMITH'S SON SEEKS RULING ON NRA COVERAGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 14.—Whether a receiver for property or business in bankruptcy is obligated to incur additional expense by signing the President's reëmployment agreement and hiring extra men will be argued tomorrow in the Supreme court of New York.

The test case is made possible by Alfred E. Smith Jr., son of the former governor and receiver for the building at 222 West 83d street. Mr. Smith declares, through his attorneys, that he feels it his duty in response to the President's invitation to American business to coöperate in the reemployment program.

Therefore, he makes application to the court for leave to operate the property under the maximum hours and minimum pay schedule of the blanket code, even though this necessitates extra expense to the estate.

E. L. CORD GROUP BRANCHES INTO TAXICAB FIELD

Checker Cab Manufacturing Bought.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The spectacular business careers of two young Chicagoans, Errett L. Cord and Lucius B. Manning, passed another milestone yesterday when announcement was made that they had acquired, through the Cord corporation, the Checker Cab Manufacturing company.

E. L. CORD.

The acquisition, an important step in the expansion of the Cord interests, came hard on the announcement of purchase of a controlling interest in the New York Shipbuilding corporation. Checker Cab Manufacturing owns indirectly a controlling interest in the Chicago Yellow Cab company, the Yellow Taxi corporation of New York, and the Yellow Cab company of Pittsburgh through the Parmelee Transportation company.

Large Taxicab Maker.

Checker Cab Manufacturing is the largest exclusive manufacturer of taxicabs in the country, supplying cabs to the operating company it controls as well as to other concerns. In the past it has also had important business connections with the Checker Cab company of Chicago.

The Checker Cab Manufacturing company reported assets of $4,500,000 at the close of last year. Control of the company was acquired by the Cord group from the Du Pont-Raskob interests, which had been in control since 1930. The price paid by Cord and his associates was not revealed. The principal manufacturing plant of the company is in Kalamazoo, Mich.

Cord Assumes Management.

Management of the Checker company was taken over yesterday by the purchasers. Mr. Cord was named chairman of the board of directors. Mr. Manning was made a director and a member of the executive committee. Other members of the executive committee besides Cord and Manning are W. H. Beal and Morris Manning. Peal will continue as chairman of the committee and Markin will continue as president of the company. Other directors include R. S. Pruitt, R. E. Oakland, and H. P. Barrand.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 14.—Trading in the listed bond market today was a routine affair. Total transactions were slightly below the aggregate of last Friday and fluctuations in prices of the more active issues were generally confined to narrow ranges.

The trend of prices for domestic corporation bonds was irregularly lower and in the foreign group, irregularly higher. United States government bonds were very dull, closing up 3-32 to off 1-32 point.

Cuban Bonds Dull.

Despite the reports of continued disorders in Cuba, bonds of the republic showed little activity on the stock exchange. Only two issues were traded in, the 5½s, due 1953, and the 5½s, due 1945, up ¾ and off a point, respectively.

French government bonds were strong, the 7s mounting 2¼ points to 140½, and the 7½s, ¾ of a point to 139, thus placing the 7s on a higher level than the 7½s. Bonds of the German group were irregular. The heavily dealt in United Kingdom 5½s, due 1937, closed fractionally lower on the day. In the South Americans a number of issues gained a point or more.

Rail Issues Weak.

In the domestic corporation group the principal declines appeared in the rails. Western Pacific first 5s, due 1946, broke 110¼ points in unusually active trading, while the other principal losses in other sections of the rail list amounted to only a point or two. Public utility bonds were very dull and only a few industrial issues showed any appreciable degree of activity.

Curb bonds were dull and averaged slightly lower on the day. Of the more active issues, American Rolling Mills 4½s moved up ½; Baldwin Locomotive 6s, due 1938, closed off ¾; Cities Service 5s, due 1950, unchanged, and Southeastern Power and Light 6s, due 2025, off a point. Foreign loans on the curb pointed higher.

Kansas Power.

Investors' Guide: Will you please give me information concerning Kansas Power 5s, due 1947?—Mrs. G. M. W.

Answer: Kansas Power company is an operating company. It is controlled by Inland Power and Light company [in receivership], which, in turn, is controlled by Commonwealth Light and Power corporation [also in receivership].

It furnishes electricity and some water and ice to communities located for the most part in the Kansas wheat belt. Earnings in 1932 were adversely affected by low grain prices and the poor wheat crop in that section. Operating revenues in 1932 were down 19 per cent from 1931.

The company managed to cover its fixed charges 1.88 times, compared with 2.28 times in 1931 and 2.92 times in 1930, and an average of 2.73 times for the four years through 1929.

Although indications are that great damage has been done to the 1933 Kansas wheat crop, rising commodity prices will help some.

Current position at the close of 1932 was not impressive. Current assets, including $127,000 cash, totaled $401,000, and current liabilities were $657,000, including $425,000 bank loans. Bank loans were needed to complete construction of additional generating facilities.

The 5s, due 1947, are secured by a first mortgage on all assets of the company. Good security and satisfactory earnings in the past entitle them to a high investment rating. They are suitable for a business man's funds.

Canadian Tax.

Investors' Guide: In cashing coupons of Canadian provincial bonds quite recently I noticed that, among other charges, there was one for a 5 per cent tax imposed. I have heard of no such tax. Can you shed any light 'on this for me?—S. O. A.

Answer: Subsection two of section 9B of chapter 41 of "An Act to Amend the Income War Tax Act," assented to on May 23, 1933, reads as follows:

"In addition to any other tax imposed by this act an income tax of 5 per centum is hereby imposed on all persons who are nonresidents of Canada in respect of

"[a] All dividends received from Canadian debtors, irrespective of the currency in which the payment is made, and

"[b] All interest received from Canadian debtors if payable solely in Canadian funds except the interest from all bonds of or guaranteed by the Dominion of Canada."

Payment is made on the basis of 95 per cent of interest payable, the remainder being remitted to the government as a tax.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Bleachable cottonseed oil was easier today under scattered liquidation, prompted by easiness of cotton and the weakness in the Canadian grain markets, with demand poor. Closing prices were 1 to 4 points lower, with sales of 38 contracts. Bleachable spot closed 4.90c; September, 5.04c; December, 5.24c; January, 5.38c; March, 5.50c.

FUTURE OF JOINT STOCK LAND BANK BONDS A PUZZLE

Officials Divided on Selling or Holding Them.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

The provision in the emergency farm mortgage act of 1933, which forces the liquidation of all joint stock land banks has placed holders of bonds issued by the banks in a dilemma. In some instances the holders of such bonds are being requested to sell them to officials of an individual bank at prices far below the par value.

Holders of joint stock land bank bonds are being told in some cases that the agricultural situation is such that makes it unlikely that the values of the assets back of the bonds will improve in the near future and that therefore the wise thing would be to sell them.

Some Expect Improvement.

On the other hand there have been statements from many sources that the farm situation is improved and that if the pickup continues the assets back of the bonds will become more valuable. Consequently, the wise thing to do, it is stated by some, would be to hold the bonds, awaiting a more auspicious time to dispose of them.

The ultimate value of the assets to be liquidated by the joint stock land banks depends on the future of American agriculture.

At the moment the consensus of dealers in joint stock land bank bonds and of authorities on farm mortgages appears to be that there has been an improvement in the technical farm mortgage situation—sentiment is better and the prospects are brighter. However, it is too early, they say, to know whether farmers will be able to pay their obligations this year.

Prospects Vary by Districts.

Conditions differ in the various sections of the country. For example, the wheat crop in South Dakota is an utter failure, while in sections of North Dakota the wheat crop is excellent. In many parts of Illinois the corn crop prospects are poor, while in sections of Iowa they are considered good. All such factors have a direct bearing on the assets back of the joint stock land banks. Further, there are the direct efforts being taken by the Roosevelt administration to help the farmers and there is the possibility of inflation to boost prices of farm products.

No one can predict what the future will be with respect to agriculture. One dealer in joint stock land bank bonds asserted that it would be two years before it would be possible to determine the value of the governmental efforts on behalf of the farmers.

Insurance Companies Hopeful.

The insurance companies, some of which hold large quantities of farm mortgages, have been taking a more optimistic position recently with respect to farm mortgages. They report that the entire situation is definitely improved. One insurance company official stated yesterday that his field agents report farmers in various parts of the middle west will meet their obligations when their crops are in. They were reported as saying that the sentiment among the farmers is considerably improved.

In making his decision as to whether to sell his bonds now or await his share in the gradual liquidation which has been ordered by the government, the joint stock land bank bondholder is forced to use his own judgment as to the prospects of the farms which form the assets back of his security. If farm prices increase and land is again in demand his position is secure.

NEW YORK DRESS SHOP WORKERS VOTE TO STRIKE

New York, Aug. 14.—(AP)—A strike in the dress industry in the metropolitan district in protest against alleged sweat shops and sweat shop conditions" was voted today. Julius Hochman, president of the joint board of dress and waist makers, estimated between 40,000 and 50,000 persons would be involved. A meeting of the various labor organizations will be held tomorrow night to decide when the strike shall be called.

Meanwhile a meeting of the National Association of Dress Manufacturers was addressed by Grover Whalen, city chairman of the national recovery act drive, who urged the industry to sign the NRA blanket code.

Hochman said the chief demands of the union are for a thirty hour week and guarantee of the minimum wage scale provided in the existing working agreement.

Compromise Drafted; Ask Fixed Minimums on Crop

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—(AP)—A compromise plan under which part of the benefit payments to cotton and wheat farmers who are indebted to the government would be withheld in the distribution of rewards for curtailing production was worked out today by a special committee.

Secretary Wallace, Henry Morgenthau Jr., governor of the farm credit administration, and Chairman Jones of the Reconstruction corporation will submit their joint recommendations tomorrow to President Roosevelt's cabinet advisory board.

It was learned that a proposal of department of agriculture officials to distribute the benefits without offset amounts due the government was abandoned. The same fate was encountered by proposals that the full amount of sums owed by farmers be withheld.

Deducted from Payments.

Instead the plan contemplates that farmers who are able to pay off a part of the sums due the government will have amounts deducted from their payments.

Meanwhile intensive efforts are being made to induce the farm adjustment administration to stabilize prices of wheat, cotton, and other farm products by fixing minimum prices for the fall marketing season.

Requests for a program of this kind are numerous, but administrators were holding their reply in abeyance pending a full study.

Millions to Be Distributed.

Administrators expect to distribute nearly 200 million dollars to cotton and wheat farmers in the next six weeks for reducing acreage. Of this, more than 100 millions will be to cotton growers who agreed to plow up from 25 to 50 per cent of their growing crop this summer. Approximately $90,000,000 is scheduled for distribution to wheat growers this fall in return for agreement to curtail their acreage for harvest in 1934 and 1935.

Morgenthau said that a complete waiver of amounts due the government as feed, seed, crop production and other loans would set a "bad precedent."

Administrators were informed that a delegation of officials from cotton states headed by J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture, would present a formal request tomorrow that cotton prices be stabilized at 16 cents a pound during the fall marketing season.

No Funds Available.

There are no funds available for stabilization through the purchase of wheat and cotton as undertaken by the farm board with its half billion dollar revolving fund.

Officials said the only means at hand, the legality of which has not been determined, are provisions in the farm act authorizing Secretary Wallace to exercise broad powers in connection with the marketing of basic commodities.

All of the messages received from farmers, however, have not favored continuation of the minimums in the case of grain prices. It was said that dairy groups have taken the position in some cases that the minimums have prevented grains from selling on a supply and demand basis, and that the cost of feed has been increased while the prices of milk and other dairy products have not gone up appreciably.

PROVISION TRADE SLOW WITH PRICES AT MINIMUM

Very few trades were made in lard or bellies for future delivery, and they were at the minimum price. All interests showed a disposition to go slow, due to the inactivity in grains and the uncertain and easy tone in the cotton markets. The hog situation is also unsettled as the result of government operations.

Cash trade in lard and meats was moderate. Regular lard was $5.75 and loose and leaf, $5. Cash bellies was $6.87½. Pork loins were in demand at $6 to $12.50, the latter for selected light weights. Liverpool lard was 9d lower. Prices follow:
